SHERWOOD KNIGHTS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Banquet Held Last Night at Odd Fellows Temple a Feature of the Convention Program

The election of officers to the supreme convocation of the Knights of Sherwood forest took place this morning in the convention hall, Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street. The contest was spirited but the utmost harmony prevailed throughout. This was the most important business of the convention and all the delegates showed their interest by being present. Although some members of the Thomas Talbot convocation aspired to positions in the executive council of the supreme convocation, they were not successful; no Lowell man got elected to the higher offices.

The next convention will be held in two years. The question of where it will convene has been left to the executive council. Following the election this morning the officers were installed by past supreme commander, G. L. Pihlsson, Rochester, N. Y. The newly elected officers are as follows:

Supreme convocation: Casper Market, Syracuse, supreme commander; George

R. Brown, Rochester, N. Y., supreme adjutant general; William H. Morfar, Brockton, Mass., inspector general; Joseph S. Perkins, Waltham, Mass., assistant inspector general; James A. Ahern, Newport, R. I., second assistant inspector general; E. H. Spratt, Syracuse, N. Y., paymaster general; Dr. W. G. Smith, Ravenna, Ohio, supreme surgeon general; L. A. Maine, Brockton, Mass., supreme quartermaster general; Jacob Augustine, Natick, Mass., first officer of the guard; A. Marcotte, Taunton, Mass., second officer of the guard.

Trustees: Henry Ziegler, Syracuse, N. Y.; G. L. Pihlsson, Rochester, N. Y.; H. C. Stowell, Rochester, N. Y.; Auditors: William Anderson, Rochester, N. Y.; J. H. Whalley, Rochester, N. Y.; C. R. Miller, Rochester, N. Y.

RUTH'S PRAYERS WERE ANSWERED

Girl in Death Pact Would Join Her Boy-Lover Beyond the Great Divide

YONKERS, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Ruth Hamilton died today in answer to her prayers. Brief periods of consciousness during the night were spent by the girl in praying that she might join her boy lover, Charles Rich, who shot and killed himself after mortally wounding her. They had been sweethearts a few months and had agreed to die together.

"Why don't I die? Why didn't he shoot me right? I want to be buried the same day he is," she moaned continually, unheeding the tears of her mother and sister at her bedside. They were holding her hands when she died. Ruth and her sweetheart probably will be buried side by side.

Miss Hamilton came from Boston and was here visiting relatives. The suicide pact is attributed to not any family opposition to their acquaintance but to worry over ill health. The girl thought she had heart trouble and Rich was suffering from a recent injury.

HEARING ON RAISING TAX LIMIT

Mayor O'Donnell Hopes That Business Men Will Attend and Express Their Opinions

As it was decided at yesterday's meeting of the municipal council, a hearing will be held at city hall Tuesday, at 11 a. m., relative to the new law by which the members of the council may after giving proper notice and hearing, raise the tax limit from $12 per $1000 to what they see fit. Mayor O'Donnell in conversation with the reporter of The Sun this morning, said he hoped that a large number of business men will attend the hearing and give their opinion.

He said he is in favor of increasing the tax limit, for it would mean a saving to the city, inasmuch as every year a large loan is made and the city has to pay a heavy interest on the borrowed money. He said as a matter of fact, although the tax limit in Lowell is $12 per $1000, this amount is only fictitious for for years past that amount has been exceeded. He said by raising the tax limit one dollar it would mean but a slight difference in the tax rate, but would mean a lot to the city, as well as to the tax payers. He hopes broadminded tax payers will attend the hearing and give their opinion as to the advisability of raising this limit.

Bids are being called for by the purchasing agent for about 4000 feet of lumber, consisting of sheathing and Carolina pine for the public building department, the same to be used in the repairs of school buildings. The bids will open Monday morning.

He Is Not Coming

The mayor is in receipt of a letter from R. E. Grandfield, secretary of the State Industrial Accident board, to the effect that the hearing on the Workmen's Compensation act which was scheduled to be held in this city on August 26 by Mr. Dickinson, was postponed to an indefinite date.

Chauffeurs

About twelve applicants were examined for a chauffeur's license by Inspector Hubbard of the state highway examination board in the course of the forenoon.

MITCHELL THOMPSON ARRAIGNED TODAY

In Police Court at Sherbrooke—Case Postponed Until Friday—Thaw May Become British Subject

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 22.—The hearing in the case of the self-styled "Gentleman Roger," arrested by the immigration authorities charged with aiding a lunatic—Harry K. Thaw—in crossing the Canadian frontier, was postponed today until Friday next.

Thompson was arraigned before Police Judge Mulvena shortly after 10 o'clock. F. Campbell, acting jointly for the Dominion department of immigration and the Dutchess county (New York) authorities, asked that the case be put over on the ground that documents from Milwaukee, showing that Thaw had been confined there and are therefore pertinent to Thompson's alleged offense, had not arrived here.

Counsel for Thompson, Louis St. Laurent, associated with Thaw's group of defenders, at first objected to delay but finally agreed to the hearing on Friday, August 23.

Thompson came into court more or less disguised by a pair of smoked glasses. Pictures of "Gentleman Roger" had arrived during the night, however, and Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county, holding one of these and gazing at the prisoner said: "Who could miss it? It certainly is Roger."

Thompson said not a word.

The little courtroom, on a floor below the superior court, where Thaw's habeas corpus hearing is to come up, was packed to the doors. The judge disposed of a petty larceny case before taking up the Thompson matter, and then listened patiently while counsel were wrangling over the date for the hearing. All of Thaw's lawyers were present.

Thaw's Sister Gone

Thaw's sister, Margaret Thaw Carnegie, and his brother-in-law, George Laurier Carnegie, left Sherbrooke last night, after conferring with his lawyers and ascertaining that everything was being done to protect his liberty. The habeas corpus proceedings not being due until Wednesday, Thaw endeavored to relax today and to enjoy the first good rest he has had since his escape.

May Become British Subject

Thaw has been advised by certain of his counsel. It was learned today, to buy property in Canada and take steps to become naturalized as a British subject. This, it was held, would prevent his deportation.

NIGHT NURSES AT STATE HOSPITAL

Fined $20 Each for Beating Insane Patient Who Refused to Milk Cows at 4.30 in the Morning

William Mavor and Joseph L. Collins, two night nurses at the Tewksbury hospital, held the center of the police court stage this morning with assault and battery case. The two young attendants were charged with beating up one of the insane patients, Anton Kovis by name, and both pleaded not guilty. They were represented by Attorney Devine.

The first witness produced by the prosecution was the assistant superintendent of the institution, where the alleged assault took place. He testified only to the condition of the patient after the fracas and also to what the clouds of battle had parted and order once more reigned supreme in the Tewksbury asylum.

The witness stated that he had found no less than eight long bruises on the left arm of the patient and that both wrists and the back of his left hand also bore signs of rough usage. His back had one long welt and his chest carried a mark which might have been made by a sharp blow from most any instrument. Witness said that the defendant Collins had told him that he did not strike Kovis, but that his colleague, Mavor, might have done so.

Dr. Coburn Testifies

Dr. Coburn, another attaché of the hospital, took the stand next. He corroborated the conversation between Collins and the previous witness and gave an exact statement of what he found upon the body of Kovis when he examined him. The physician stated that the assault took place about four-thirty o'clock last Monday morning and that he gave the patient a thorough examination at 5.30 a. m. of the same day. Upon cross-examination the witness testified that he had also seen some blood on Collins' lip which had come from a bruise but recently received. Dr. Coburn gave a very full description of the routine of the hospital and the arrangement of the various wards. He said that all the wards adjoined but that the insane ward is shut off from the others by an iron door which is kept locked.

Thomas Henry Saunders

"My name is Thomas Henry Saunders," announced the next witness, as he mounted the witness stand, "and I am the night supervisor at the hospital." This witness was cross-examined at some length by Mr. Devine. The witness stated that the two defendants had only been working nights for about two weeks when the assault occurred. He also said that quite frequently there was some little trouble with the inmates but would not say that any serious fracas had ever broken out during his stay at the hospital. He said that he had heard a commotion on the morning of the 18th but that he had heard no cries for help from the defendants.

The last witness for the government was an attendant. This man, up to the time he took the stand, was seated beside the victim of the assault with his hand upon the latter's shoulder. The prosecution tried to have Kovis admitted as a witness before the trial opened but was ruled against by Judge Enright on a motion by the lawyer for the defense.

The witness, however, did not have anything further to add than the men who had preceded him and simply bore out their testimony in its essential points. He was released after a short cross-examination. This was the last government witness.

At this point the defense moved that the case be dismissed but Judge Enright ruled against it. The two defendants were the only witnesses that the defense used and Collins' testimony was listened to first.

Could Not Wake Kovis

Collins said that he had tried to arouse Kovis at 4.30 o'clock on the morning of the 18th and that the latter would not respond to his call. Collins told the court that this insane person was gotten up at this hour to milk the cows every morning. Mavor, he said, had come into the ward while he was trying to urge the patient to dress himself and both of them had then endeavored to coax him to rise. Instead of yielding to their entreaties, he testified, the patient had lashed out with his fist, striking him in the lip and then had jumped at Mavor, whom he grabbed around the waist. Then Collins hustled over to a closet and extracted therefrom a broom which he brought back to the room where Kovis and the other attendant were having it out on the floor. He did not strike Kovis, he said, but simply thrust the stiff end of the broom in between the two struggling men and tried to separate them. This was all that he knew about anybody beating the injured patient.

Didn't Strike Kovis

The other defendant had a somewhat different story to tell. He said that he had not struck the insane man, but that he was assaulted by him and had his shirt torn off. The shirt was brought forward and displayed to the court with two long rents in its back. He said that he had had no broom until the fight was over, but admitted that he then procured a broom, but said it was for the purpose of protecting himself in case the other patients started to rush him and his companion. Mavor said that Kovis was on his bed and not under it as the other defendant and Dr. Coburn testified to.

Fined $20 Each

Collins was called back to the stand and the court inquired what Kovis was under the bed for and why he wouldn't come out. "Because he was afraid he would get another beating," said the witness, and repeated these words when asked to be sworn.

Judge Enright found both defendants guilty and ordered them to pay a fine of $20. The court, in summing up, said the fine was a light one for the reason that the two men have been in jail for the past five days as they could not procure bail.

Other Court Cases

Thomas F. Sheehan and Michael Sullivan were in court charged with disturbing the peace. Sullivan pleaded guilty to the charge, but the former said that he was not guilty. Chief Welch laid all the blame at the door of Sheehan, who is an old offender. Sullivan was let off with a $5 fine and

MAN WHO REVILED THE AMERICAN FLAG

Renounces Allegiance to I. W. W. and Apologizes for Incendiary Utterances

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22.—After he had publicly renounced his allegiance to the Industrial Workers of the World and apologized for incendiary utterances in his speeches as an organizer for that body, Martin J. Phelan was given a sentence of $100 fine and 30 days workhouse imprisonment today. It was the maximum sentence. The court held that Phelan's speeches in which he reviled the American flag, constituted an offense for which an apology alone was not adequate.

BIG FOREST FIRE IN MAINE

Biddeford is Wrapped in Smoke Blanket—Crews of Men Guard Smouldering Embers All Night

BIDDEFORD, Maine, Aug. 22.—The forest fire on the outskirts of this city, which subsided at nightfall with the lowering of the wind and the effects of the damp night air, again was stirred up today by another strong south, southwest wind which carried the smoke and cinders directly over the city.

Conditions had not improved any over night. The woods were as dry as tinder, no rain having fallen since early in June, and there was no prospect of the fire being extinguished until a soaking rain has fallen.

Crews aggregating 150 men who guarded the smouldering embers all night were augmented today by several hundred men and boys and a steamer to pump water from the Wilcox ice pond.

Factory Fire Fighters

Buildings were threatened at Brunswick and Freeport factories were closed that the employees might fight a bad fire near that town. Two fires were smoldering in Phippsburg and others at Steep Falls, Baldwin, South Portland, and other towns.

In central Maine a fire has been raging on the west side of Pettis pond in Winslow, the past 30 hours and a crew of 200 men has been unable to control it. Small blazes were reported near Augusta.

One encouragement noted at the state forestry department at Augusta, is that the largest fires in Maine today are in the organized towns, and that the fires which have been started in the wild lands are small or have been discovered in time to be put under control before obtaining any great headway. Relatively few fires have been reported in eastern and northern Maine.

Fire Well in Hand

Reports that the fire was well in hand, were received at noon. The large force of men were well organized. Whenever the flames would appear in a new place they would be extinguished promptly.

Predictions of Showers

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 22.—The prediction of showers today or tomorrow by the weather forecaster was well come news for more than 1000 men who have been fighting or standing guard over nearly a score of forest fires in western Maine the past few days. But showers will only relieve them for a time, and nothing but a soaking rain will break the drought of the past two months and quench the fires.

From the western promenade in this city, seven separate fires could be counted, all of which were being stirred up by a brisk south wind. The largest fire hereabouts was in a bog this side of Scarborough. Others were burning in the town of Scarborough and in other directions.

The worst situation early today was in the vicinity of Biddeford, where three fires extending from Biddeford Pool to Kennebunk were devastating a large territory along the coast, though the loss to standing timber had not been large.

Mathews' field day, Pinehurst, S. C.

allowed two weeks in which to pay the same, but Sheehan's case was continued till tomorrow.

Michael Burke was sent back to the state farm. Louis P. Leclair received a fine of $15 for drunkenness and was given a month to pay it. Thomas H. Lally and Charles McGillivray were each fined $5 for libelling too freely while Alfred Dwyer of Suncook, N. H., paid a fine of $10 for drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the South common. Three releases by Probation Officer Slattery completed the morning's police court list.

Reserved Question of Law

ROSTON, Aug. 22.—Judge Hammond of the supreme court after a hearing today reserved for the full court questions of law arising on the petition of Hugh McLean of Holyoke, against John J. White, mayor of that city, to compel the latter to approve a contract awarded to McLean by the school committee for school furniture at an expense of $1885. The committee acted before the aldermen had voted their approval.

The court found that as facts that the schoolhouse ought to have new furniture and that the school committee had acted in good faith, and also that the mayor had acted in good faith in not approving the contract until an appropriation had been made by the aldermen. The case will be heard at Pittsfield in the second week of September.

WILL TELL THE STORY

President at Work on Message to Congress.

THAT WILL GIVE ALL THE FACTS
IN THE MEXICAN CASE

It Will Prove Huerta Mistaken in Supposing President Wilson is Not Backed By Country

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—President Wilson was at work last night on a special message which he will probably read to both houses of congress next Monday, relating in detail to the negotiations which have been conducted through his personal representative, John Lind, with the Huerta government in Mexico.

His decision to make a comprehensive statement on the situation to congress, was reached yesterday after the president had about concluded that the negotiations between Mr. Lind and Provisional President Huerta, since the exchange of notes had developed no new basis for discussion.

With his message the president will present the two notes, setting forth the American suggestion to the Huerta government and its reply.

Should he read the document himself, which he is being urged to do by members of his cabinet and to which idea he is strongly inclined, it will be the first time since the days of George Washington that a president has communicated a matter of foreign policy in person to the legislative branch of the government.

While there was no information from the White House to indicate what object it was hoped to accomplish through a message at this time, there was a well defined belief in official circles that President Wilson thinks the reading of an address which will lay the American viewpoint and the Huerta contentions before the congress and people of this country and which also will be made public to the world.

generally, cannot but have an important effect on the situation in Mexico.

It is expected to be a partial answer to the intimations of Provisional President Huerta in his note that President Wilson stands alone in his Mexican policy and unopposed generally in congress. The refutation of this Huerta supposition came in the senate yesterday when prominent republicans vigorously upheld the hands of the president. The expressions of confidence in the wisdom and good faith of President Wilson were made by several republican leaders in succession after Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania (republican) had introduced a resolution to require the president to place American troops in Mexico to protect American lives. No action was taken on the resolution and though Senator Penrose declared that the sending of troops could by resolution be decreed not friendly to Mexico, the view at the White House and state department was that such a move in effect would be an act of war.

President Wilson reiterated to callers yesterday that he had absolutely no intention of taking any drastic measures, denied that Secretary Garrison of the war department had been called back to Washington and referred to the fact that Mr. Garrison would take a vacation after his inspection trip in the west was ended.

His incidentally complimented republican senators on their spirit of co-operation, emphatically stating there had not been the slightest exhibition of partisanship.

That Provisional President Huerta has advanced the idea that recognition of his government is a partisan question in the United States and that the democratic party is not actually dominant, is admitted by administration officials but they believe that if such an action exists in Mexico, it shortly will be dissipated, not only by news of yesterday's debate in the senate but by the expectation that congress in some way will show its confidence in the president when he reads his message.

continue to scorn the suggestions of the United States, the situation in Mexico will soon disintegrate itself and that a policy of non-interference should be maintained for the present, at least.

Mr. Lind probably will remain in Mexico City indefinitely and his reports indicate that he has not abandoned hope.

$5000 FOR LOST BOY
A Lawrence Alderman
Sued for Accident

In consequence of the accidental death by drowning of little Ronald Gaudette, one of the 11 boys who lost their lives in the Merckbach river by the collapse of the bathhouse range-way, on June 30th, suit in the sum of $5000 has been brought by the parents of the boy against Alderman Alfred Bradbury, commissioner in charge of the bath houses.

The parents reside in Fitchburg. The action, which is one of tort, has been taken through the law office of Walsh & Walsh of Fitchburg. The writ of attachment has been filed and is returnable in the superior court at Worcester on the first Monday in October.

This is the first case against Alderman Bradbury as the result of the tragedy.

The first year's course is to consist of a basic training adapted to prepare the students to hold commissions in any arm or department of the military establishment of the commonwealth. The second year's course shall consist in a basic training in the subjects pertaining to the particular arm of the service in which the students are to serve.

Graduates of the training school shall be deemed to possess the professional qualifications necessary to hold the grade of second or first lieutenants in the militia of this commonwealth, and a certificate of graduation shall be accepted in lieu of an examination by the board of military examiners as conclusive proof of such professional qualifications. In addition to the officers named above these officers have been detailed for duty with the school: Maj. Charles A. Stevens, adjutant general; Capt. Harry G. Chase, company A, signal corps. Instructors and such additional officers and enlisted men as may be required for duty with the school are to be detailed from time to time.

BOSTON DAY AT ROCKINGHAM

Big Racing Events and Good Attendance—Principal Race Calls for $6000 Stake

SALEM, N. H., Aug. 22.—Another perfect day, such as has favored the entire racing season, greeted the early arrivals at "Boston Day," the fourth of the Grand Circuit meeting at Rockingham park. A large crowd gathered in the morning and much interest was apparent in the day's card.

The principal race of the day was the three-year old trot of the "American Horse Breeder" Futurity, for a stake of $10,000. A. B. Cox, of Pauli, Pa., with his filly, Answorthy, was the favorite for not only did his fast colt earn a record of 2:11-4 last season, but also won his Futurity this year in 2:10-1. With Novaday Girl scratched, little opposition was manifest, unless it was to be from Peter Johnson from the Cox stables.

The other two excellent events were "The Rockingham" for 2 1/2 class trotters and the "Haverhill" for 2 1/2 trotters, each with a purse of $2500.

Good Racing

The racing yesterday was by far the best of the meeting to date. It was Governor's Day, and Gov. Feltner had the pleasure of seeing New Hampshire's great champion, Walter Cox, win the feature race, the $10,000 Granite State Purse, with Lady Graan, over Geers and his M. and M. Victor, Hensgens and McDonald's crack stake trotter, Tommy Horn.

The taking of last money in the Granite State by Lady Graan was something of a surprise, as Hensgens, who scored such a sparkling win in Cochato, a daughter of Cochato, owned and driven by Andrew Jamison of Somerville, Mass., Baron Sidant, a son of Baron Wilkes, from Woolwich, Me., won third money, and Lady Wills, a handsome little filly, Norman Taitman is training for Charles and George Leonard, secured fourth.

Here's How the Lady Won

New Hampshire folks found much satisfaction in the victory of Lady Graan, for not only was it well earned by both horse and driver, but it was taken to mean that the Cox stable, which has been so severely hit by the disaster, had made the turn in the road and would before long again be the strongest of the circuit.

Tommy Horn took the first heat in the $5000 race, with Lady Graan not quite up to catching him in the stretch. The Dakota gelding stepping the last quarter in 20 1/2. Farra set the pace a greater portion of the mile, but could not live the distance out.

The lady outraced Tommy from the draw, home in the second heat, both trotters finishing under a strong drive in 2:15, a capital performance. The next trip the chestnut mare gave Cox a lot of trouble going away, but he saved her tipping over, which really made it possible for her to win the heat, as Hensgens was on his good behavior and at the mare's side.

Coming down the stretch it was either's heat. The drive began coming out of the turn, Cox starting it early, hoping that he could carry the high-strung Hensgens to a break. Geers nursed him along with the hope that the long brush would show the mare down.

Ten yards from the wire, as Cox picked his charge up for the last rally, the M. & M. winner went into the air, and then those New Hampshire folk made themselves heard. The mile was in 2:10, another capital performance.

The final heat was not such a hard one as Hensgens failed to respond when Geers shook him up at the distance flag, and Tommy Horn had had all his care for.

Lady Graan is owned by Barton Pardee of Lockhaven, Penn., and was raced over tracks west of the Mississippi last year, winning a dozen times in as many starts on the half-mile stunts.

ARMY NATIONAL INSURANCE POLICY

DEADWOOD, S. D., Aug. 22.—The army is the national insurance policy, Secretary of War Garrison told the Deadwood Business club last night. The nation deserved to lose its protection if it did not see that proper clauses were inserted in the policy that protected the country. The army was never better equipped or had better fighters than now, he said, but 33,000 for a standing army was woefully small. The country, he said, had but two resources, either a big standing army or a reserve body.

Universal peace talk was "hot air and a little steam" General Wood, chief of staff, told the club. He urged the encouragement of state militias and constabularies. With the right encouragement such bodies would make a great fighting machine, he said.

fast pace and did not lose it the first heat, although it was only by inches that he flashed at the finish. Braden Direct went to a break then Egan sent him after the gray fellow on the far turn.

Braden Direct made his followers feel well in the second mile by racing out in front on reaching the backstretch, but when Milloy turned his racing machine loose at the three-quarters, pacing in even time was more than Direct could attend to and mind the footing. As the horse from Western Canada overhauled him he took the challenge on the run, and when he caught the race was over and Hal B Jr had second money tucked away.

Horse and Cattle Show

The record attendance at the fair yesterday was limited only by the capacity of the steam and street railways to transport the people. This was especially true of the attendance from the Merrimack valley cities, Lowell in particular. There were not cars enough to accommodate the people, but Lowell people as a rule are getting used to that.

Shortly after noon Gov. Samuel D. Feltner arrived, accompanied by Mrs. Feltner and his staff. They were met by the fair management in autos and taken along the track before the grandstand, headed by the band. The governor then made a speech from the grandstand congratulating the management on the high success of the fair.

Massachusetts was represented by Mrs. Eugene Foss and daughters of the governor's family. The distinguished guests were shown through the exhibits and midway before their departure.

The judging of the cattle was not completed on account of the interruption caused by the animals parading the track again in the afternoon. The tests of working oxen and steers will be made today.

In the Holstein class, W. P. Tucker won the prize for the best herd; E. P. Kinsley of Auburn, Mass., second; E. H. Herford of Lowell, third; G. W. Carroll of Jackson Center, Pa., won for the best herd, with Warren McCray of Kentland, Ind., second.

For best breeders, young herd, McCray won, with Carrol & Son second. The horse show had a brilliant day. The jumping classes, the gig class, won by Vanderbill's Sir James, 15.1 1-2 hands, and the four-in-hand, driven by women, being most attractive to the spectators. Elmhurst, a hunter, with the highest record in the world 8 ft. 6 in., is in the string by Clifford Sifton from Ottawa. The awards of the horse show:

AMERICAN HYDROPLANE TO CONTEST FOR TROPHY

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Disbarter I. I. L., the 40-foot hydroplane, owned by Commodore James E. Pugh of Chicago, was named today as one of three boats which will be sent across the Atlantic in an effort to regain from England the Lord Farnsworth trophy. The selection was made following the Disturber's performance yesterday in the preliminary heats of the free-for-all speed boat championship run under the auspices of the Associated Yacht and Power Boat clubs of America. The craft will be sent with Count Manowski's Ankle Deep and one other not yet selected. The Disturber averaged only a fraction better than 12 miles an hour for the 14 miles, running in a choppy sea, but experts hold that the boat is capable of much more speed.

MARGERY W. PHELPS

Will Marry Francis W. Bird

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Miss Margery Willard Phelps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Phelps of 256 Commonwealth avenue, called at the office of the registry department yesterday and gave the notice required by law of her intended marriage to Francis W. Bird, son of Charles S. Bird of Walpole, the progressive candidate for governor. The engagement was announced about a month ago.

Miss Phelps' father is treasurer of the George Frost Company. She is 31 years old and was born in West Newton. She is a member of the Vincent club of Boston, but is best known as a golfer, being considered one of the best woman golfers of Massachusetts.

As a representative of the Burn-Burn club of Newton she has since 1905 or earlier taken part annually in the tournaments for the women's United States golf championship, and has always given an exhibition of good play. In 1908 she was one of the four Boston women to enter the tournament of the Ladies' Golf union of Great Britain at St. Andrews, Scotland. In 1906 she was chosen secretary of the Women's Golf association of Boston.

Miss Phelps is at Wianno, a summer resort in Barnstable, near Osterville, and there the ceremony will be performed, possibly next week. The law requires a notice of intentions at least seven days before issuance of the license.

Mr. Bird is 32 years old and was born in East Walpole. He was graduated from Harvard college in 1904 and from Harvard law school in 1906. That year he passed the Massachusetts bar examinations, and for three years he was assistant United States district attorney in the southern district of New York under Henry L. Stimson. In 1908 he had been admitted to the New York bar, and in December, 1909, he was made a special assistant to Mr. Stimson in the investigation of sugar frauds and other matters in the customs service.

This work kept him occupied until the fall of 1910, and the following March he was named appraiser of the Port of New York, succeeding George W. Vanamaker. This position, however, he resigned in July, 1912, to join the newly organized progressive party. His home is in New York, where he has business interests, and he is member of several clubs and, like Miss Phelps, is fond of athletics.

My 8th Semi-Annual Clean-Up Sale

TWO DAYS ONLY

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

This is—as usual—a complete clearance of my entire Spring and Summer stock; some fall weights, at prices which bear little relation to cost, former price or value, for neither this nor any of my other stores ever carries anything over from one season to another.

I keep my stock complete right up to the end of our regular selling season, after which everything goes at extreme reductions from former low prices, giving every man and mother's son a chance to pick from the finest custom clothing woollens, that the market affords, at big and real savings of good, hard money, as the items below bear witness, and as every regular patron of this popular store knows.

This is unquestionably the season's greatest Clean-up Sale—a good clothes event that no man who needs a Suit of Clothes or a pair of pants can afford to miss.

Next week I start my Overcoat campaign for Fall and Winter—watch for my announcement. I just closed a deal, buying 160 pieces of Coatings, the best this country knows how to make—in plaid backs, novelties, Meltons and Kerseys—the name of this mill I will tell you later, but don't forget me Today and Tomorrow—I want to make room for this stock.

Mr. Reader—I've been for years the moving spirit of the brilliantly successful Mitchell stores. My styles, ideas, my advertising, my window displays, my doorways, merchandising methods are copied far and wide. Some of the most prominent stores of Boston are this season showing fabrics, patterns and models that I originated and introduced to the public through my stores years ago. All this may sound egotistical, and I'll be criticized generally by my competitors for it—but facts are facts.

I have only two days for this sale. I dare not let anything stand in the way of success, unhampered by anyone, untroubled by any thought of profit. I have simply slaughtered prices—and if values can produce results, my store at 24 Central Street should be crowded to the doors from the first hour of this announcement.

MEMBERS OF LOWER LEGISLATURE SUPT. MOLLOY DISCUSSES PLAN

Charged With Receiving Money Of Dealing With Backward Pupils Who Retard Progress of Others in the Grades

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The assembly judiciary committee expected to have trouble today in running down a story that certain members of the lower legislative house received money for voting to impeach Gov. Sulzer. The committee had subpoenaed persons alleged to be responsible for the circulation of this story immediately after the impeachment, but they feared that the witnesses they desired might ignore the subpoenas or refuse to testify on the ground that the legislature was not properly constituted and had no legal standing at present. This is the point that Gov. Sulzer wanted threshed out in the courts. The men under subpoena are Louis A. Sarrecky, Sulzer's confidential clerk; Frederick L. Colwell, alleged agent for the impeached governor in various Wall street transactions; James C. Garrison, said to be one of Sulzer's press agents, and Lynn J. Arnold, publisher of an Albany newspaper and one of the governor's advisers. The committee seeks to punish Garrison on the ground that he circulated the bribery story. Sarrecky and Colwell are summoned to answer for contempt in refusing to testify before the Frawley committee. Assemblyman Levy, democratic leader in the lower house and an ex-officio member of the judiciary committee, said that the committee had power to call Gov. Sulzer and would not hesitate to summon him if they needed him.

Superintendent Hugh J. Molloy of this work in whatever way seems best with the means that are available, but I wish at this time to suggest a plan in one large district, a plan which I believe is feasible and will be productive of good result. The plan which takes an entire school for special work is better, in my opinion, than the plan which places a special class in each of a number of schools for the important reason that it admits of fairly close grading, a very important thing and a thing which is as essential in a special school as in the ordinary one. The distance from the Calburn primary school in the Charles Street primary is 970 feet; from the Charles Street to the Cottage street, by way of Chapel street, is 550 feet; from the Cottage street to Chapel and Central street is 500 feet; from that point to Lyon street is 800 feet; from Lyon street to Ames street is 1830 feet; and from Ames street back to Charles street is 800 feet; the total distance in this circuit is only a little more than one mile. "It is my firm belief that one building in this district, preferably a building of four rooms, should be taken as a special school for the children of that district—who are decidedly over age for their grades; that for these children special work should be done in the three Rs, the things in which their deficiency is most noted when promotion is under consideration. "It is by no means intended that such a school should be in any sense a school for defective children, but, rather, that it should be a school for children who require particular attention in order that they may not fall behind in the branches on which regular progress depends. "If the matter can be made so plain that it will be understood that the school is intended only for the purpose of being particularly helpful to a large number of children who are in nearly every respect practically normal, I feel that there will be no objection on the part of parents to sending their children to the school. "The plan could be perfected and put in operation during the first month of the school year. "The number of children in the seven buildings referred to was 800 in the first week report of September, 1912. "Furthermore I am inclined to believe that whether such a plan is in operation elsewhere, or not, some such plan will be followed in cities where the district is compact and the number of children is large, and I feel confident that an earnest whole hearted trial of the plan will bring good results."

ROCKINGHAM FAIR

The unexpected and very unusual amount of enthusiasm which has been aroused here by the Great Rockingham fair, as evidenced by the unprecedented crowds that flock there daily and the public discussion of it on all sides, argues for a renewal of widespread appreciation for healthy amusement. In these degenerate times of moving pictures and musical comedies it is very refreshing to see that what pertains to the farm and open country still has charms for most people. It is singular, but true nevertheless, that country fairs, horse races and exhibitions of cattle or farm produce have become associated with our fastidious ideas which we in our superiority have outgrown. We are more apt to be thrilled by the more artificial and far less beneficial excitement of an automobile race or an aviation meet. But there must be a revulsion of feeling sometime and the present interest in the great Rockingham fair may be an indication that the public is wearying of the shoddy attractions of artificial things and finds respite, instruction and amusement in the natural things that our fathers loved.

Enjoyment of cattle shows or agricultural fairs has some subtle essence that elevates and rejuvenates us. We may live in a street of terraces a mile long and all our business interests may be hedged round revolving wheels or swinging hammers, but there is an appeal in groups of blooded cattle or great piles of agricultural produce which stirs a deep primitive note in most of us. It may be that the man of the woods and the caves is still dormant in our blood or it may be that Rockingham fairs are like pictures from the nursery books of time; but certain it is that horses that rush by with the speed of the wind make us realize the breathless desire of the charioteers of old, and the patient eyes of the cows preach sermons of the vanity of a too great coveting of earthly and transitory things. Wholesome thoughts spring from enjoyment of wholesome things, and the world is made better and brighter by its Rockingham fairs.

A WAR LOBBY

As time goes on it looks more and more as though the president was pretty sure of his ground when he intimated that part of the difficulty of reaching an amicable settlement with Mexico is due to the existence and ceaseless activity of a war lobby. He made the statement fully conscious of the fact that a former accusation of his of a similar nature was immediately followed by a congressional investigation, which by the way revealed that he spoke neither in haste nor through ignorance. He must have taken into account the possibility of a like issue in the war lobby imputation, and he did not hesitate to accept the responsibility for his assertion. Events of the past few days ought to convince us that there is some insincere power back of the Mexican authorities, and it is as likely to be a war lobby as anything else.

In dealing generally with the possible and probable existence of a war lobby, and particularly with the recent "story" from Mexico, the Portland Express has the following:

"It is not difficult to read between the lines. The intent of the story was, of course, to arouse public sentiment in this country to a point where our resentment might lead to hasty action of some kind, action that would have intensified the feeling of hostility between the two peoples. Fortunately, however, the denial came in time and anyway public opinion in the United States does not make for any war with Mexico."

Some of the most prominent papers in the country condemn this war lobby, which is persistently spreading false reports and painting war clouds on the horizon. President Wilson has already discovered the influence of this lobby and his knowledge will cause him to steer clear of its snares.

LOBBYING

In a recent article in the Saturday Evening Post, Ex-Speaker Cannon calls attention to the danger of classing all lobbying with the pernicious methods only too clearly revealed in the recent congressional investigations. Any lobby which would effect its ends by bribes or threats is of course deserving of the strongest condemnation, but there has been lobby activity which has sought to effect legislation by fair and honorable means, and this species of lobby instead of being a detriment or hindrance to justice is a help and ought to be respected and fostered. Unfortunately at the present time owing to the recent maledictory disclosures, the term "lobby" in itself has come to be regarded with suspicion. This is to be regretted. Much very much crooked work has been done under the heretofore innocent guise of the harmless lobby, but honest, effective and constructive work has also been accomplished. Those who have grossly abused the lobby game have endangered the reputation of all who have at any time engaged in it. When reform comes, as it certainly must, it is to be hoped that the distinction drawn by Mr. Cannon will be remembered. The bribe-giving and threat-making lobbyist must be thwarted, but it ought to be possible to do this without excluding those who strive to give legislators guidance and assistance with honest intent.

THE THAW CASE

Harry K. Thaw is now an international issue. The governor of New York has appealed to Secretary of State Bryan to use his influence with the Canadian and British authorities in hastening the deportation of Thaw. There is no criminal charge against Thaw, although at first he was charged with conspiracy, a most comical accusation to bring against a judicial lunatic just escaped from an asylum for the criminal insane. The Canadian authorities will doubtless order him deported on the ground that he is an undesirable person; and although the advertisement of his getting $25,000 to fight the case may appeal to some hungry lawyers, we do not believe it will have any effect upon the action of the courts. Thaw will soon be back in Matleawan in spite of all his efforts to secure his freedom. The vast majority of the people of this country are tired reading of Thaw, his money, and his attempts to escape.

CREDITABLE TO SUPT. WELCH

To the police of Lowell comes the credit of trapping two of the most noted white slave agents that have appeared in New England. Richards had plied his nefarious business in different cities but escaped undetected until he began to operate in the vicinity of Lowell. Richards, thanks to the efforts of the Lowell police, is now awaiting trial in the federal courts. Another case fully as important was that of Miltades Kutsumekos, who had operated as far west as St. Louis without police interference. But when he reached Lowell he was quickly spotted by the police and finally arrested. The developments in his case showed the manner in which he victimized Miss Hight, a simple girl from the state of Maine. Supt. Welch, who rounded up Kutsumekos, deserves great credit for his vigilance in catching crooks of all kinds as soon as they strike the city.

CARS PASSING THE DEPOT

It frequently happens that when a lot of passengers get off a train at the Middlesex street station, they have to wait about twenty minutes for a car and then three or four cars will come all in a bunch running in the same direction. A correspondent sends in a complaint that shortly after 8 o'clock last Saturday night he got off a train and waited about twenty minutes or over for a car to the square, when there came trooping together three cars marked respectively "Tyngsboro," "North Chelmsford," and "High Street." Why could not the running time of these cars be so arranged that they will pass the depot at reasonable intervals apart?

HUERTA'S RETORT

President Huerta of Mexico says President Wilson is not backed by public sentiment in the United States in his attitude towards the new Mexican regime. That is the charge which President Wilson has made against the Huerta government in Mexico and in this he does not stand alone for other governments have refused to recognize the present Mexican government until it is endorsed by the Mexican people. That is the proper stand to take and it should be firmly maintained to the last.

For Cleaning Windows

You do not know how clean and brilliant windows and glassware can be until you use Carbonol. Soap often leaves a cloudy film of grease. Carbonol removes grease instantly. It is also a splendid disinfectant and while it kills germs and removes odors, it is perfectly harmless. Scores of other uses.

Seen and Heard

Authorities who have in charge some of England's ancient treasures try to discourage the habit of carving initials on these relics. A fine of $15 was recently imposed on a man who had chipped his name in letters six inches high on one of the stones in the "Druide's Circle" near Keswick. Close to the giant stone globe at Swanage a special slab is provided for the harmless reception of the names of all who are admitted to the self-advertisement. On popular Alpine summits it is customary for names to be left on cards in emptied wine bottles.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

In New Bedford
New Bedford Standard. The mayor asks for the adoption of some regulation so that the people who use the streets would proceed in a more orderly and driving way, as is the prevailing custom. Good, let him persist until we get them. The mayor asks that "some live traffic cops" be stationed at some of the prominent corners to see that the rules of the road are observed and that drivers turn corners according to the regulations. Let no time be lost in bringing this about.

Good Manners

Providence Tribune. Good manners give a but a cold which has no other possess without them, says Lord Rosebery; they give him a start over other boys who do not acquire them and they keep him ahead when perhaps the other boys fail. They also, it may be added, incidentally contribute to the happiness which always accompanies the manner, and it is not to be doubted that those with whom we live brush off bows as well as those who are our intimates.

Tied Down

Springfield Union. From Connecticut comes the sad tidings that instead of speaking in Hartford on Sept. 1, Vice President Marshall will observe a day of mourning for the death of a workman at the Springfield State Prison. It is extremely hard to be tied down to one's work in this manner, and it is not to be doubted that Mr. Marshall has the heartiest sympathy of Secretary Bryan, who is a fellow sufferer in that respect.

Worse Than Unlucky

Burlington Free Press. It is worse than unluckiness to become excited over any report of prospective trouble in Mexico, especially any alleged threat that the United States will take the next day, or to protest he never said it.

Gaining Experience

Fall River Globe. It transpires that while Gov. Sulzer was preaching a crusade for the reform of Wall street he was at the very time secretly playing stock market, which was hardly consistent with his experience in the matter. He has impressed him with the desirability of having the law throw some measure of protection around lambs who, like himself, were entering the discomforts of being fleeced in that district.

Money and The Law

Lewiston Sun. What is most disagreeable about the Thaw escape is that it seems to have been made possible by money. The man without means would not have had two automobiles awaiting him, manned and equipped to make a sudden dash for liberty. The few will be convinced that this is not a case of conspiracy and corruption made possible by abundant cash, a case of defeat of justice with money.

Trees and Curbing

Fall River Herald. People who know the trees which line Hanover street will find it curious that the laying of curbing there is going to endanger those trees. They are among the finest in the city, and their removal would be a loss to the locality. It is to the people who pass through the street. We dare say that none of the residents would regret the removal of the trees there, and if it is the case, what is the use of threatening their growth and perhaps their life by laying of curbing and expense of laying the curbing?

Before 40

Manchester Mirror. A Pittsburgh financier has just declared that of the 500 richest men in America, not five made their fortunes before 40. He said that there is an instinctive feeling among financiers that the young man, however successful, may have proved, and however brilliant his proposed scheme may be, is not to be implicitly trusted.

Quite Human

Foster's Democrat. The interesting and amusing information comes from London that the medical side of doctors now attending there the medical congress about two hundred have so over-eaten at their banquets as to be sick. The good thing is that the medical congress is a very important one, and the doctors are not to be implicitly trusted.

A Sane Joke

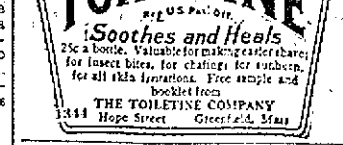

Newburyport Herald. The best of the political prognosticators have said all at sea as to the threatened possibility of the governorship in the republic. It is a toss-up as to whether the governor's lieutenants were negligent and let the governor's candidacy slide, or whether the lieutenants were playing another one of his jokes on the politicians and the newspapers.

ARGUMENT FOR PENSIONS

Boston Letter Carriers Will Use Delineation of Condition of "Joe" Jefferson as an Illustration
Great interest exists among the letter carriers in the National convention of the National Letter Carriers' Association at San Francisco next week, when an effort will be made in behalf of a federal law in the next congress to provide a pension for superannuated clerks and letter carriers.

HOSPITAL CAN'T LOSE PATIENT

Has Been There a Year — Police Are Called In

Walsh Said He'd Stick Around Until He Was Cured

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—The serving of a trespass warrant and the calling in of the police yesterday, was necessary before Thomas Walsh could be removed from his cot in the Grace hospital.

Walsh had been a patient there since March 25, 1912, when, while at work in the Fore River works at Quincy, he had been caught in a machine and whirled around a shafting until some of his fellow workmen had shut off the power.

"I came to this place in a stretcher and I'll be taken from it in a stretcher, or I'll stick around here until I'm cured."

Carried to Court House

He made a similar reply to the officer who presented him with the trespass warrant yesterday, and not only did he refuse to leave his cot, but even would not put on his clothing. As the result it devolved upon the officer and the hospital attendants to dress the man and carry him to a waiting carriage, which conveyed him to the court house.

As the result of the accident 17 months ago, Walsh's chest was crushed, his left side bruised, and his left leg fractured in several places, above and below the knee. A diagnosis of his condition was followed by the signing of a medical agreement between Walsh and the Fore River Company, whereby, upon receipt of a small financial consideration and the agreement of the company to bear all medical and hospital expenses until he was cured, the injured man released all claims against the company.

That was 17 months ago. Now save for scars, the injuries to the chest and body have healed, but the fractured leg, thus far, has failed to mend. For this failure, the hospital authorities blame Walsh, and Walsh, in turn, blames the hospital.

Say He Criticized

But this had very little to do with the warrant for trespassing, according to the hospital authorities. Representatives of that institution state that aside from making uncomplimentary remarks about the ability of hospital physicians, he used bad language to the nurses, and conducted himself in such a manner that he became a nuisance to other patients and to everybody in the institution.

On the latter scores, the hospital, some time ago, told Walsh he must leave the institution. This Walsh refused to do. Then the hospital notified the Fore River company. Still, Walsh remained in the hospital. Finally he was served with notice that he was a trespasser. The customary 10 days allowed for response before further action could take place, ended yesterday, and it was as the result of this that Walsh was haled before the courts.

VERY WELL SPLICED

Couple Married Each Other 11 Times

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 22.—To be married to each other 11 times since 1903 has been the novel experience of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernon, who are at Braddock Heights. The marriage ceremonies have been performed in as many different countries.

Asked why he and his wife had been married so often, Vernon said it was a sort of hobby with them and they took the step as a precaution because in some countries marriages performed in others are not recognized. He and his wife were first married in Columbia, D. C., in 1903; then in Scotland, Wales, France, Germany, Belgium and Russia in 1911; in Sydney, Australia, in 1912; and in Vera Cruz, Mex., in 1913. They hold marriage certificates from all these weddings and the display is unique.

In some of the countries where they were married they did not understand a word the officiating clergyman was saying, but simply nodded their heads when they thought the time had come to make the response.

TEWKSBURY

The fire which is burning in the post between Wameet and the Centre railroad station still continues to give the local fire warden considerable work at night. Several calls for assistance in fighting the flames were sent in the past few days. The heavy fogs of the past few nights have prevented the smoke from rising, making the air very thick.

Accident occurred Tuesday morning when a horse which had been brought to the local blacksmith shop became frightened at a passing motor cycle, throwing one of the occupants from the carriage and doing considerable damage to the vehicle before the animal was stopped. The occupant of the carriage escaped with a few bruises and a severe shaking up.

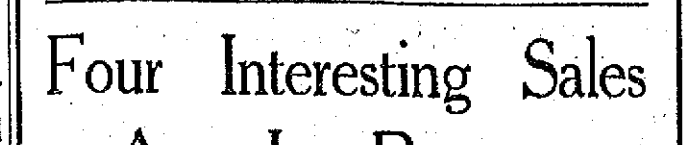

Mrs. John Watson and daughter and the Misses Ruth and Doris Tingley are at the Tingley cottage at Plum Island for one week.

Card of Thanks

The undersigned wish to express publicly their sincere thanks to those who assisted them in any way during their recent bereavement in the death of their beloved son and brother Adelard, who died at Fort Bayard, Mexico. Also for the beautiful floral offerings sent. Especially do they wish to thank John Jacob Rogers, Esq., through whose efforts the body was shipped to Lowell for burial. All will ever be held in loving remembrance by Antoine Delisle and family, 22 Second street.

WILL ATTEMPT TO CROSS ATLANTIC

In Fourteen Foot Sloop — Men Familiar With the Sea Will Take a Chance

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Lawrence J. Moran and Joseph Higgins, two young men of the East Boston district, start today on their attempt to cross the Atlantic in a 14-foot sloop. The two skippers intend to make Liverpool their destination and hope to cover the 3500 odd miles in about four months' time. The first leg of the trip is to Provincetown, from which port they will sail along the New England coast to Newfoundland; and then across the Atlantic in the path of the ocean liners from which they plan to draw their provisions and drinking water, as only about enough for two weeks can be carried on their craft at one time. The sloop, a mainsail with three sets of reefing points and a leg of mutton storm sail, constitute their sailing equipment. A sea anchor, four life belts and two sets of oilskins are also a part of their outfit. Both men have followed the sea from boyhood and have carefully planned the trip, which if successfully completed, will be the first time that such a feat has been accomplished.

HANDS BAD WITH SALT RHEUM

Small Water Pimples on Fingers, Itched and Burned, Painful and Sore Cracks. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in a Month.

Brooklyn, Mo.—"A few years ago my hands were very badly afflicted with salt rheum. At first there was an eruption of small water pimples on the inside of the fingers, and by not paying any attention to the humor my hands gradually became worse and began to itch and burn and one after another cracks appeared around the nails, on the inside of the fingers and on the back of the hands. I was discouraged, as they were very painful and sore. I had to omit work that required putting my hands in water and could hardly work at all on account of the bleeding cracks. I finally procured some Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I found by washing my hands in quite warm water and Cuticura Soap that they were improving. I began wrapping my fingers nightly in pieces of soft linen, after a good application of Cuticura Ointment which was very soothing. In a month my hands were completely cured and I have never been afflicted with the trouble since." (Signed) Mrs. C. L. Parker, Nov. 22, 1912.

When you buy a fine toilet soap think of the advantages Cuticura Soap possesses over the most expensive toilet soap ever made. In addition to being absolutely pure and refreshingly fragrant, it is delicately yet effectively medicated, giving you two soaps in one, a toilet and a skin soap at one price. Sold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

REGULAR OLD CUTUP

Runs Away at 95 for Birthday Fun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—A very old man, well dressed and prosperous looking, went up to Police Sergeant Bernard Smythe yesterday afternoon at Fifty-third street and Third avenue and, after mumbling something which the sergeant couldn't understand, pulled a pad from his pocket and wrote on it:

"I am lost." Smythe led him to the East Fifty-first street station, where after a rest he recovered his speech. "I am Prof. A. C. Cooper," he said, "and I live in Flushing, L. I., with my son-in-law, John, M. Moo. This is my birthday. I am 110 years old. I started in to town this morning to celebrate and got lost. If you'll just put me on a trolley car for Flushing I'll be all right, because everybody out there knows me."

His request was granted, and he reached his home in South Parson avenue an hour or so afterward. His relatives had just begun to worry about him.

"The professor is not old, but he is really 53," said Mr. Moo. "He likes to pretend he's older than he is. He usually has his valise with him when he leaves the house, but this morning he got away unattended. He is none the worse for his adventure."

Prof. Cooper was a manufacturing chemist in New England for many years, but retired long ago with a comfortable fortune.

LABOR DAY PARADE

Unions Draw Lots for Position in Line

FIVE LOWELL HANDS SECURED FOR THE DAY

First Division Will Be Made Up of Delegates to T. and L. Council and the Summer Unions

An enthusiastic meeting of the Trades and Labor council was held last night at 22 Middlesex street with President Rourke in the chair. The principal business to come before the meeting was the drawing of lots for the Labor day parade between the many organizations which are scheduled to appear in line on that day.

Present at the meeting was a delegation from the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Street Railway Men's union, No. 280, who were welcomed as fraternal delegates. Philip J. Byrne of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union and Charles Morris of the United Hatters of America addressed the gathering. It was announced relative to the Labor day parade that the first division will be composed of delegates to the Trades and Labor council and the smaller organizations that do not have banners of their own, which will take positions in alphabetical order. The second division will be composed of miscellaneous unions, while the building trades will compose the third division.

The drawing of lots resulted as follows:

Second division—No. 1, city employees; 2, coal teamsters; 3, brewery workers; 4, bartenders; 5, street railway men; 6, loomfixers; 7, leather workers.

Third division—No. 1, carpenters; 2, painters; 3, molders; 4, building laborers; 5, machinists; 6, stationary firemen; 7, engineers.

The first division will form on Middle street, right resting on Central street. The second division will form on Market street, right resting on Central street. The third division will form on Jackson street, right resting on Central street. The parade will start at 9:30 o'clock sharp. The route will be announced at the meeting of the Labor day committee next Thursday evening.

The aides to the chief marshal that have not received information as to where they can procure their uniforms can receive said information at headquarters Saturday evening.

The council has secured the services of the five Lowell bands for the parade, also the O. M. I. Cadet drum corps of Lowell, and the Eighth regiment drum corps of Lawrence.

After transacting considerable business of a routine nature, the council adjourned.

LABOR MEN PLEASED

With Attitude of Mayor and Council

The members of the new lodge of machinists recently organized in this city are elated over the action of the council at one of its recent meetings relative to the amendment to the city ordinances which provide that educational literature may under proper supervision be distributed upon the streets of the city.

At a noon day meeting yesterday, attended by about 1000 machinists, Organizer Young read a letter, which he had been asked by the machinists to present, expressing their appreciation of the attitude taken by the mayor and other members of the council, and it was voted unanimously to forward the letter to the mayor. The letter:

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 22, 1913. Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Mayor of the City of Lowell, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: I am instructed by a unanimous vote of our new lodge of machinists to convey to you their heartfelt appreciation of the uniformly fair attitude taken by you toward us and the American Federation of Labor in our present successful campaign of organization. We appreciate to the fullest extent the broad minded, courteous and liberal treatment accorded by your honor to the representative of our association and we especially desire to thank you for your efforts in behalf of the amendment to the city ordinances which provide that educational literature may under proper supervision be

OFFICERS DISCUSS AVIATOR'S 9000 FT. DROP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Officers of the army signal corps today are discussing the 9000 foot "slide" of Aviator C. Murvin Wood, who stopped his engine nearly two miles above the earth late yesterday and plunged down through the gathering dusk to a successful landing on the parade ground at Fort Myer, Va. His spectacular downward dash took only four minutes.

The officers were preparing to have beacon fires lighted to guide the aviator back to his landing place when Wood began his slide. He had been aloft one hour and forty minutes and had sailed above the Virginia hills and far out into Maryland before he decided to come down in his monoplane. Wood is demonstrating his monoplane for the army officials. The military air craft at present are all bi-planes.

BATTLESHIP SINKS GUNBOAT IN COLLISION

MALMO, Sweden, Aug. 22.—While the maneuvers of the Swedish fleet were in progress this morning an armored ship collided with and sank a gunboat. No details have yet been received at the naval station here.

The battleship and the gunboat collided at a point to the westward of Hven, a Swedish island in the Sound eight miles south of Elsinore. The fate of the gunboat's crew is unknown.

FIRE ON STEAM YACHT SPREAD TO ISLANDS

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Fire that originated yesterday on board the steam yacht Pocahontas, owned by George Foster Peabody, the New York banker, spread to two nearby islands and destroyed the servants' quarters at Triana which is Mrs. Spencer Trask's summer home and a number of other buildings, burning up also the Pocahontas, two gasoline boats and four rowboats.

Mrs. Trask, authoress and widow of Spencer Trask, banker, was lying seriously ill in her home. She was taken to the main land in a launch and removed to the home of Mr. Peabody where she is now in a critical condition.

It is believed the fire was due to carelessness of employees on the Pocahontas.

TWO DEAD AS RESULT OF SUICIDE PACT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 22.—Roy Gross, 22, and an unidentified woman are dead here this morning as a result of what is believed to have been a suicide pact. Gross was dead when found and the woman was unconscious and died later at the city hospital without revealing her identity. Earl Pritchard, in whose home the tragedy occurred, found the couple lying with their arms about each other. Two glasses stood beside the bed. Gross roomed at the home of Pritchard and had been there only 10 days. The woman, so far as could be learned, had never been seen at the house until last night.

events of their three-day convention in this city, took place last evening in the banquet hall of Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street. There were addresses and speeches galore and a display of appetizing viands as notable for quantity as for the excellence of the quality. Though many of the delegates were unable to be present owing to side trips and various external influences, those who were fortunate in being present will long remember the spirit of harmony and genial brotherhood that prevailed throughout the evening.

At 8 p. m. the knights collected in the assembly hall of the convention and ranged themselves in two according to their rank. They then marched to the banquet hall and took up their respective positions. All speeches were postponed until the conclusion of the banquet proper, and the arrangement to please the greater number of those whose appetites had been made keen by their hours of inspection throughout the city, in the cool of the afternoon.

Matthew Whelton, toastmaster of the committee, introduced the toastmaster of the evening, John Barrett, sergeant major and secretary of the committee, who started the social session by calling on Sir Knight Marcello for "La Marseillaise." At the conclusion of the song the toastmaster said he hoped the day would never come in America when it would be sung as it was sung at the French revolution. He welcomed the various delegates to Lowell and called their attention to the many interesting sights of the city. He also spoke at some length on Forestry and referred to the falling off in numbers in some sections. At the conclusion of his address he introduced Supreme Commander Henry B. Ziegler of Syracuse, N. Y., who said that he has found in this city a great spirit of fraternalism. He exhorted his hearers to work for harmony and fraternity in its true sense because in harmony is peace and prosperity. He attributed the failure of many societies and fraternities to internal strife that should not exist. He called attention to the possibilities of Forestry in its various phases and declared that if the proper spirit prevailed their order would undoubtedly be the greatest of its kind in the country. He asked that any difficulties or disputes should be ironed out at the convention so that when it comes to a close the members may return to their various states feeling that nothing will stand in the way of a great revival of the spirit of the order.

Senator Draper
Senator Henry J. Draper was then introduced, and assured the members of his interest in the order and his best wishes for its success. Deputy Grand Chief Ranger Gadsbois spoke of business peculiar to the order. He told of trips taken in former years with the toastmaster, Mr. Barrett, and said that the spirit he found in Forestry many years ago, is still alive and vigorous. He assured those present that they would ever find him ready and willing to do all in his power to further the interests of the order.

Secretary Hearn
The mayor's secretary, Jas. Hearn, representing Mayor O'Donnell and responding to the toast, "The Press," spoke as follows:

The gentleman to whom this toast was originally assigned, Mr. Lawrence Cummings, our commissioner of public buildings, and Boston correspondent, was called out at town today, and he made me present his regrets at his inability to be present and his best wishes for the success and prosperity of your honorable order. He also had me make a few humble remarks in his place, and I assured him that they would be few and feeble.

When I entered the newspaper business quite a few years ago, each office had a reporter known as the "Hall Man," whose duties consisted of climbing immovable flights of stairs to get fraternal news on meeting nights. When I was on that job it seemed to me that the societies always made a point to select the top floors of the highest buildings in the city, giving the preference to buildings without elevators. But times have changed. The city and newspaper have grown while the fraternal organizations have increased in numbers and influence, and now the press daily presents columns of fraternal news and welcomes any amount of it. The fraternal order is an important factor in the daily life of the community. The spirit of fraternalism makes better men and better citizens. The mission of the press is to uphold the highest standards of citizenship, and appreciating the power for good that is wielded by such associations, the press is ever ready to encourage and assist them.

Dr. W. G. Smith of Ravenna, Ohio, supreme medical examiner, made a long and useful address, contrasting conditions in his state with those here, and making many valuable suggestions as to the future of Forestry. "In Ohio," he said, "we cannot boast of your diversity of nationalities or the crops of stores you raise on your farms, but we think just the same that we live in God's country. We cannot boast of your beautiful scenery, for our country is level, and New England is associated in our minds with pictures of watered valleys and gentle hills. When we come here and go through the hilly land on which were fought the fights that won liberty for us all, and when we read the inscriptions on monuments and tablets, we feel that the place on which we stand is indeed holy." He then branched out into a discussion of fraternalism in general and the Foresters in particular, suggesting the formation of junior courts and many other reforms.

Jesse D. Crooks spoke briefly, calling the attention of those present to the advantages of Lowell as a city in which to live and do business. He also extolled the underlying spirit of all fraternities, and said that they are supplementing the churches in spreading the brotherhood of man. He spoke of the title of the branch of the Foresters in convention referring to the history of Robin Hood and his followers in Sherwood Forest. From the example of the picturesque adventurer he drew many salutary lessons.

The Local Conclave
Following is the history of the local convocation as drawn up by the committee in charge of arrangements for the convention.

Thomas Talbot Conclave, 165, K. S. E. Uniform Branch and Third Degree of the Foresters of America, was instituted Nov. 23, 1871. The first seven members of the convocation were the prime movers in organizing were men who had joined elsewhere, and were as follows: Michael T. Connelly of Court General Shields; Michael McMullin of Court General Shields; Lawrence J. Smith of Court City of Lowell; Denis O'Brien of Court Merrimack; James J. Gallagher of Court Merrimack; and Henry McManis of Court City of Fitchburg. All of these men were initiated in the convocation in the City of Worcester. Everything went along harmoniously, and the first work done was to organize a degree team. This team worked the degree in many courts and was called upon to attend out-of-town initiations in many places. Sir Knights Messrs. McLaughlin, Boyers, McMullin, Bonan, Shields, Watkins, Monahan and Roy were the men who had the key work of the order in hand. Most of these men are past commanders of the convocation. The first blow the convocation received was the death of one of their best workers in the person of Lawrence J. Smith. The convocation has always been represented at all the supreme conventions since organizing, and have had many of their number in the supreme council. Frank Bonan, who was supreme inspector general for a number of years, and at present Sir Knight Thomas Moss of 105 is supreme inner guard, who is one of the best knights in the state. Many of the leading business men enjoy membership in Thomas Talbot convocation, and attend its meetings. The present officers, headed by Commander Sir Knight Gray, and many others, including the tireless workers, Sir Knights Jeremiah McGlinchey and Albert McDonald are bound to keep the convocation in its present good condition for many years to come. Sir Knights Matthew Whelton and Albert McDonald, delegates to this convention, are men of wide experience in fraternal orders.

RICH ILLINOIS WOMAN

Held as Smuggler—14 Trunks Seized

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Mrs. William Velle, wife of the president of the Velle Motor company of Moline, Ill., and her companion, Miss Mary J. Lilly, were arrested before United States Commissioner Edward R. Stanton at 91 River street, Hoboken, N. J. yesterday, charged with attempting to smuggle jewelry and wearing apparel into this country. Customs officials believe that Mrs. Velle's undeclared jewels and clothing may amount to $10,000.

Mrs. Velle is represented at her arraignment yesterday by former Senator John C. Spooner and Henry Janney. She was paroled in their custody until a hearing on Monday at 2:30 p. m. by which time the contents of her 14 trunks will have been examined.

Mrs. Velle, with her daughter, Marguerite, 18 years old, and her companion, Miss Lilly, arrived in New York on Monday on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. Mrs. Velle declared $345 worth of stuff for herself, her daughter and Miss Lilly. While on the pier Mrs. Velle got permission to leave the pier to do some shopping. Before she was allowed to go, however, the customs officers took away from her jewelry she was carrying in her case and her trunk.

William H. Kraft was assigned to look over Mrs. Velle's trunks. He discovered more than $245 worth of stuff and ordered all of the trunks sent to the public stores except two small handbags which the women were permitted to take away.

Thus far $300 worth of jewelry and wearing apparel have been found in the appraisal of the trunks, but the total will reach several thousand more, say the officials. Who found receipts and invoices from the biggest houses in Paris.

Mrs. Velle had receipts for many purchases, including a lot of bronzes and handbags. In her trunks were found diamond rings and watches set with diamonds and rubies. Customs inspectors watched her go from store to store while she was abroad this summer.

Mrs. Velle, who is an attractive woman of about 45, wouldn't say anything yesterday afternoon when she was arraigned in Hoboken. She was dressed in a white flannel suit and white hat.

THEIR FEAST IN JAIL

"Many Happy Returns!"—Members of Almshouse Club Will Help Edward Celebrate His Birthday

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The invitations are out for Edward Pacey's birthday party. Mrs. Pacey will not be present. She can't get in. He can't get out—at least, he can't without paying so much money that he wouldn't have the price of the party left.

The scene of the feast will be both inclusive and exclusive. Both the invited and the uninvited will be barred. Time: Next Sunday morning. Formula for being present: Quarrel with your wife; have her sue you for divorce and get the supreme court to order you to pay alimony; refuse to pay the court; then be incarcerated by John Julius in his private jail at No. 70 Ludlow street and you'll belong.

Mrs. Pacey declined she didn't like the way Edward was acting around the house several weeks ago. She went through her part of the whole formula and Edward did his share by refusing to pay the $15 a week the court ordered as temporary alimony. Julius got on the job and Edward became the twentieth current number of the ever-changing Almshouse club.

It occurred to Edward that he would be forty-five years old next Sunday. He consulted with Julius—Julius is the great, glowing, sympathetic heart. Would the sheriff permit the party? Would the sheriff be invited? He would. Would the sheriff make a speech? He could. The sheriff would permit the party.

Not a single sigh has been heard echoing through Ludlow street, because it's going to be a "stag" affair. Not one of that score of disheartened, disillusioned men who have had full taste of the fickleness of femininity, the treachery of romance, would have it otherwise. There are going to be forty-five and not one of the twenty would

TO BOSTON BY AUTO

Desmarais' Truck Was a Good One But Too Old for the Trip—Two Men Had Fine Time on Boston Road

Edmund S. Desmarais, the well known plumber and his brother-in-law, Auguste Jodoin, went to Boston in an automobile yesterday, but they did not return as quick as they expected, but of course they were not to blame, for the machine balked on the road, and it was several hours before it was started again. However, they returned the same day, and none the worst for their short but weary trip.

When the machine refused to work Mr. Jodoin was appointed special caretaker of the auto, while the owner, Mr. Desmarais, boarded an electric car for Boston and returned a few hours later with a piece of machinery which replaced a much worn out one, and after struggling on the road for several hours the motor car entered the Hub city.

Mr. Desmarais purchased a new truck in Boston for his work, and made up his mind yesterday morning to take his old machine to the Hub city and return with the new car. In company with his brother-in-law, he started on the short trip at 6 o'clock in the morning. The two men were to return by noon, in order to take their families to the Rockingham fair in Mr. Desmarais' touring car, but this part of the program had to be given up.

The old truck rolled along the Boston road as far as Billerica, but alas, much as it has seen better days, some part of the engine went wrong in the neighboring town, and although Mr. Desmarais worked on the auto for some time, it was impossible to start it. Finally the plumber appointed Mr. Jodoin a committee, or one to sit in the machine and watch the same until he, Mr. Desmarais, went to Boston and returned. The first electric to the Bay state capital was boarded and it was four o'clock in the afternoon before the plumber returned to Billerica.

The engine was soon repaired and the party proceeded to Boston, where the machine was left. The return trip was made in the new touring car, and the two men reached Lowell shortly after 10 o'clock last night somewhat fatigued, but none the worse for their unexpected long trip.

LOWELL LOSES LEAD TO PORTLAND

As Result of Worcester Win—
Couldn't Hit Thomas and Lose,
6 to 1—Reiger Batted Hard

Lowell lost the league leadership yesterday and dropped back to third place when Worcester won the game, 6 to 1. Lowell never had a look-in after the third inning.

Reiger started on the mound for Lowell with Thomas as his opponent. Reiger lasted six innings and retired in favor of Maybom with the score 5 to 1. Maybom was only found for two hits during the remainder of the game.

Thomas pitched good ball, allowing Lowell but four hits. Aubrey, Magee, Miller and Dee were the batters who connected safely with his delivery. Miller scored Lowell's only run in the first inning. After Clemens had gone out on his liner to Stewart, Miller beat on an infield hit. DeGroff was safe on an error by Conney and Miller took third. Miller scored on Magee's out, Reiger to McCune.

Nye and Pitcher Thomas did the bulk of Worcester's hitting. Twice the Worcester twirler slammed out hits in the pinches when Reiger grooved the ball for him. Lowell's three errors also worked against them. The score:

TRAVIS AND SCHMIDT, TWO EXTREMES IN GOLF,
READY FOR U. S. AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

GARDEN CITY, Aug. 22.—Two extremes in golf will meet here when the amateur golf championship of the United States is played for September 1-6 inclusive. Walter J. Travis, the famous golf veteran, will likely be the oldest competitor, while W. Heinrich Schmidt, the newest meteor in the golf world, will no doubt be the youngest. Travis has been playing the game for years and is the old warhorse of the links. Schmidt is only a schoolboy, but his brilliant playing in Scotland recently nearly landed him the British amateur championship there, being put out by Hilton on the last hole. The lad is in high school at Worcester, Mass. Both Travis and Schmidt are now here ready for the championship.

WOLFGANG A BASEBALL IDOL

Former Lowell Twirler Popular
With Denver Fans—Shuts Out
Sioux City With One Hit

"Mel" Wolfgang, well known to Lowell fans, is making a great hit in the middle west where he is pitching wonderful ball for Denver in the Western league. Denver is leading the race in that league and all the credit pitched four games one week and won every contest.

"Mel" is the most popular ball player who has ever played on a Denver team, according to newspaper reports from that city. Following is an article from a Denver daily which describes a one hit game Wolfgang pitched against Sioux City:

Sir Bruin Wolfgang should be barred forever from our midst. Sir Bruin Wolfgang has violated all rules of the week as laid down by the people of this Denver town, therefore the extreme punishment, "Wolfgang" the town is yours" the motto that has made our fair city Godlands of new friends during the last three days, is not held to ridicule, the finger of scorn points on every hand. Nine weary and travel-souled Indians visited our city yesterday. They asked not much. Just a beer and a hot and a hit there to cheer their aching limbs. Wolfgang, the pitcher, was a real batting average. Did Sir Bruin Wolfgang hand 'em out from the horn of plenty? He did not. One mean, little hit was all that he gave these squaws and braves. Is this the spirit of the week?

On the other hand, what did Sir Bruin's pitchers do? They took seven big healthy swipes at poor Leo Klein, collected his line tally and then turned him loose into the night. One hour and forty-five minutes of torture (for the poor Sox) for the result, Denver beats 1, Sioux 0.

Sent to Tewksbury

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Percy Spotted from Grace hospital which he had refused to leave, today is suffering a treatment of 17 minutes of hot and cold water. Thomas, a 21-year-old, will be committed to the state hospital at Tewksbury. The doctor, when, however, took into account the preference of the patient, who is a fighter though he has lost a single leg to stand on, was reached today by the infirmity department of this city.

Despite the fact that the night was rather cool, there was a large attendance on the North common last evening, when one of the municipal band concerts was given by the American band, Emil J. Berman, conductor. The program was a most pleasing one and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large gathering. The concert of the musical numbers was a grand solo by Z. L. Bissonette, while the closing piece was "America," everybody joining in. It was close to 10 o'clock when the last number was given, and all present voted the concert one of the best of the series.

THE TENNIS ATTENTION

Of Country Centered in Battle at Newport

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 22.—The tennis attention of the country centered today in the western and eastern battle on the Casino grand court between Champion Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco and former Title Holder William J. Clothier of Philadelphia in the sixth round of the all-comers' tournament.

Owing to the strength, versatility and experience of both players and the uncertainty of the other experts in this year's tournament, the match was generally regarded as one of the most decisive of the week, with the winner a probable stronger favorite for the championship. The odds on McLoughlin today were 5 to 4 before the first service.

The two players have faced each other several times since McLoughlin's first quest for national and international renown, and while Clothier proved the master in the earlier matches, he fell before the Californian last year in the sixth round of the all-comers' tournament in four-set contest, the scores being 1-6, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

The Philadelphia has been a factor in national tournaments for over 15 years, winning the national title in 1901 after being a runner-up in the all-comers in 1902 and 1903. McLoughlin's career at Newport began five years ago when he was a runner-up, followed in 1911 by the winning of the all-comers and laurels as champion.

Through his efforts as a Davis cup player he has been, more in the tennis world, than in the earlier years, through the advocacy of the Casino, eye by the thousands. The earlier rounds had a chance to see three other championship aspirants in action on the side courts for an hour before the main event began.

Two matches remained to be played in the uncompleted fifth round, E. C. Law of Philadelphia meeting B. Norris Williams 2d, of the same city, and John R. Strachan of San Francisco going up against E. H. Whitney of Boston, while in the top quarter of the sixth round there was a contest between Leonard Beckman of New York and N. W. Niles of Boston.

The unusually favorable weather conditions which followed the shower of Monday forenoon were still in evidence today, although it was a trifle warmer than yesterday.

Good time at Pinhurst, Saturday.

Athletes and Athletics

Jack Halstein is the man whom Manager Gray is worrying about just as much as the Lowell manager is worrying about this player being drafted. The local owners were offered $2500 cash for Halstein by the Red Sox and refused it and it would be rather tough to see him go at the drafting figure.

Louis Teller, the noted French golfer, called Wednesday for New York. He will immediately go to Brookline upon his arrival in this country and will complete there in the National Open Golf championship. Arrangements are now under way to have the Frenchman give an exhibition at the Vesper Country club.

A Chicago newspaper took a unique humor a few days ago on the question of whether he or Stars Should be used in the Writing of Baseball Stories. The result was against the using of slang in the descriptions of the national game although many noted educationalists championed the anti-pure English style. The majority of club owners, players and managers were listed on the side of the dictionary method. If the latter style was compulsory there would be many sporting writers out of a berth.

Porky Flynn has come out with a statement which has surprised the boxing fans. Flynn says that he will quit the game for good if he is beaten by the Boston Tar Baby in their 12 rounds to go next Tuesday. Can we believe you, Porky, or is this a little press work?

If the American athletes who will compose the next Olympic team in 1916 think that they will win as easily as has been the case for years past our team is in grave danger of being defeated. The foreigners, especially the Germans and the Swedes, are learning the fine points of the various events with great rapidity and will put teams into the field which are not inferior to ours in any great degree. The German field champion, Paseman, has a mark of 6 ft. 4 in. for the high jump and does equally well in the broad jump and pole vault.

Eltonsky, the young New London swimmer, has had tough luck in each attempt that he has made to reach Sandy Hook from the Battery. He has had to leave the water twice when only a quarter of a mile from completing his 34-mile swim.

It is thought by those who witnessed the throw of Paddy Ryan last Sunday in the New York games that he would have smashed all previous records if the hammer had been the regulation weight. When weighed by A. A. U. officials it was found that the exact weight was 153-1 pounds, three-quarters of a pound more than the weight of the usual missile.

Tommy Burns could not have made himself more foolish if he had put on a clown's costume than by making the statement that there were colored boxers who deserved a match with Arthur Kelly. Kelly, as a would-be champion, is a joke and would soon be shown up as such if he ever entered the ring with one Sambo Langford. Kelly hasn't given Gunboat Smith his quibus yet, and it is an open question whether he has the punch to do it.

Any heavyweight who can outlast Smith can beat him. The Gunboat does not profess to be a boxer and contents himself with slandering both hands at every exposed point of his opponent's anatomy. The man who can hit as hard as Smith and who knows the finer points of the game would make this contender act like a novice.

Carlstrom seems to be working smoother than ever in his old position at shortstop. This player will doubtless play the long infield with the Red Sox instead of the first sack and has been shifted on that account. He has been working out at short during the practice for the past month.

With Portland on the road and Lowell playing second division teams at home the race is all in favor of our club. Worcester also plays the majority of her games on hostile diamonds.

Lowell's games are all at home next week. Fall River plays here Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday and Brockton will be the attraction Wednesday and Thursday. Two double-headers are scheduled for next week.

Bob McAllister has evidently listened to his brother's advice and will not enter the ring for a year. McAllister has been offered a bout with any middleweight that he chooses to meet, but has refused. It is thought by many critics that this 20-year-old amateur can beat any middleweight in the world today.

Howard Drew, the colored Springfield flyer, lived up to his reputation yesterday when he broke the world's record for 120 yards, straightaway, although he will not receive credit for the performance. Drew started the race from 21-1/2 yards behind scratch and ran his 120 yards in a very fast 12 seconds. Bernie Weiser's time for the 120 yards is 11-1/2 seconds, which is a world record.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

John McGraw is picking a few batsmen who are skilled in hitting for round trips for his Giants, who are to make the coming world's tour. He has extended an invitation to Heinie Zimmerman to join the globe trotting ball players. Charley Comiskey should draft Ty Cobb, Joe Jackson and Tris Speaker, or the name "Hitless Wonder" may follow his White Sox around the world.

Amby Kane, formerly a New England leaguer, has been released by the Brantford team of the Canadian league. He requested to be let go and next year will probably take charge of the Hamilton team in the same league.

Terphrey, who is playing short for New Bedford, is a Fall River boy. He lives on the same street in that city as Manager John H. O'Brien. O'Brien made no mistake in giving him a trial.

Ducky Yount of the New England club, is pitching as fine ball as any pitcher in the New England league. He has won 16 games and lost seven to date, which gives him an average of .668. Yount is the real "comeback" of the league. Others may claim it, but it belongs to Yount.

Humorist Bill Phelon, who has traveled for many years with the Cincinnati Reds and still holds his health, hair and courage, yesterday suggested a revision of the seven wonders of the world.

The list submitted by Bill is:
The pyramids.
The Sphinx.
The Colossus of Rhodes.
Any four decisions by Umpire Brennan.

Manager Joe Tinker of the Reds is inclined to believe that young Harrington, the pitcher secured by purchase from the Lynn club, has rather exalted and exaggerated ideas of his value as a pitcher. Harrington has not yet joined the club, although expected to do so several days ago and is at his home in Wakefield waiting for Tinker to come to him. Although Cincinnati paid something like $4000 for Harrington's release from the Lynn club, it does not seem another Walter Johnson. Harrington is another Walter Johnson.

Haverhill fans are waiting until next season to see if they expect to have a New England league team there. The fans there deserve one and it is a cinch that the city will have a team. If Cloney does not go there someone else will.—Manchester Union.

We can't see where Haverhill is any improvement over Fall River. If the latter city was represented by a first division team under decent management the club would pay, in our opinion.

Walter Johnson was not only Walter at his best in the game in Cleveland and Chicago, he also showed the fans who are shouting for the Naps some hitting of the Joe Jackson brand. Joe for obvious reasons being rather subdued for the time.

James Barrell, trainer for the Chicago White Sox for a number of years, is dying in a Joliet, Ill. hospital. Barrell is known throughout the country as a trainer and boxing referee and numbered among his closest friends Owner Comiskey of the White Sox and James J. Jeffries.

Pitcher Lange and Outfielder Mattick of the Chicago American league club were Wednesday traded to the Kansas City club of the American association for Shortstop Breton. The trade becomes effective at once. Lange was formerly a pitcher in the Wisconsin-Illinois league of the Western league. Mattick also played in the Western league.

BLIND MAN STRUCK BY AN AUTO

Chauffeur Turned Aside Crashing into Iron Pole in Effort to Avoid Collision

A large touring car owned by Arthur Cummins and driven by Peter Achin, crashed into an iron pole near the corner of Merrimack and Moody streets shortly after 2:30 o'clock yesterday, when the driver tried to avoid running into a blind man named Victor Lajoie. The man was knocked to the ground and was later taken to St. John's hospital.

It is said that the chauffeur of the big machine was driving up Merrimack street on the right hand side and that the blind man was crossing over. The chauffeur sounded his horn according to with sides, and believed that Mr. Lajoie was aware that the auto was coming. The blind man seemed to stop and the driver continued on his way, but when the pedestrian stepped directly in front of the machine and it was impossible for Achin to stop the car before striking him, he turned to the right and crashed into a pole. The man was knocked to the ground and seemed to be very badly shaken up, although no bones were broken. He was taken to St. John's hospital in the ambulance. The chauffeur was uninjured.

The whole front part of the auto was damaged, the lights and hood being in a bad condition while the running board on the right side of the machine was bent. The front axle was broken and the wheels were somewhat damaged. Work was immediately started to remove the machine from its position.

MESSRS. SAUNDERS AND HOSMER

FIRE CHIEF EDW. F. SAUNDERS.

EX-CHIEF E. S. HOSMER.

Will Attend Convention of Fire Engineers at New York--To be Greatest Ever Held

The 41st annual convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers will be held in New York, Sept. 1 to 6, inclusive. In this convention will be assembled a large number of chief engineers of fire departments than has ever before been assembled at any convention in this country. Chief Edward F. Saunders of the local department accompanied by Mrs. Saunders and former Chief Edward S. Hosmer and wife and daughter will attend. Commissioner Barrett has also stated that he may be present at the convention if possible. It is expected that there will be a far larger representation of fire commissioners and mayors of our own and Canadian cities than ever before and the cities of various European countries will be represented by their fire commissioners.

The gatherings of the fire fighters of the continent are attended by the various heads of the fire departments at the expense of the cities because efficiency is taught there. Whatever is new in the way of fire-fighting apparatus is on exhibition and is tested out and demonstrated; whatever lessons have been taught the various chiefs are repeated for the benefit of the others; whatever has been found good is told about; whatever has been tried out and found wanting in actual use is openly condemned. As a result, each fire chief returns to his own city better prepared to meet any emergency that may arise.

There will be a large display of fire fighting apparatus and auxiliary fire department equipment within the Grand Central palace and also many outdoor demonstrations by New York firemen. Visiting firemen, it is expected, will profit largely from their attendance at the convention because of what they will learn about the new motor-driven fire apparatus of the New York fire department. Speed tests will be made and a most unusual endurance test will be made on a pier at the foot

PRES. HUERTA'S ENVOY

Keeps Very Busy at Washington

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Emmett de la Garza, Jr., is the man who represents President Huerta in the United States. He it was who met

E. DE LA GARZA JR.

President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan before the president sent Juan Lind to Mexico City to confer with Huerta personally. De la Garza attempted to accomplish in Washington on behalf of Huerta what Lind was sent to the Mexican capital to accomplish for President Wilson.

GANG OF BAD BOYS

Arrested for Breaking Into Several Stores

A very important capture was made by Officers John P. H. Clark and P. J. Ewyer this morning when, acting under instructions from Supt. Whelan, they rounded up the gang of Centralville boys who have been responsible for several breaks during the past few weeks.

The names and ages of the four young men are as follows: Alfred Cheese, aged 15, supposed to be the leader or "king" of the gang, 357 Lakeview Ave.; Tom Ewyer, 16, 275 Lakeview Ave.; Martin Conley, 13, 49 West L street; John Pettler, 13, 14 Albion street. All of these boys are reported to be cigarette fiends and the fact is significant that in every break which they have been implicated in cigarettes have always been taken in large quantities.

On the night of August 3rd the store of Louis Weiner at 50 Bridge street was broken into, access being gained by a rear window which was broken in by the young bandits. Three boxes of chocolates and fifteen packages of cigarettes were taken in this break. This, so far as is known, was the gang's initial burglary.

Two weeks later on August 17th the quartet forced open a window in the rear of Watson's bakery, 335 Bridge street, and entered the place. Here they found nothing except a box of cigarettes, half empty, and $1.14 in money. Several articles of value were in the bakery but the cigarettes were taken and nothing but the money disappeared.

After finding so little of value in the bakery the gang then hit upon the idea of making another try on the same night instead of waiting for two weeks to go by and consequently took their way to Saunders' market on Gorham street. The four hung around there for upwards of an hour, but were frightened off by seeing a man enter the store.

The next place they sought to plunder was Barlow's store, located on the Chelmsford street building. Here the biggest haul in the history of the gang was made, for after smashing two of the rear windows and entering the place, they found $15 in money, which they promptly confiscated with due zeal.

Although it was after eleven o'clock at night by this time, the gang lingered long enough to amply supply themselves with the cigarettes which they craved and refused to leave the store, even at the imminent risk of capture by the police, until their precious smokes were procured.

The boys were brought before Judge Enright this morning for a preliminary hearing, although their cases will not be disposed of until a week from today in the juvenile session. The two youngest boys in the gang were allowed to return home to their parents, but the other two were kept in custody by the police. The capture of this gang, young though they may be, is a feather in the cap of the local police.

DEATHS

DUPUIS—Edouard Dupuis, aged 30 years, died last evening at Lowell hospital, after a very brief illness. Deceased was taken ill Monday and was removed to the hospital, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis and death resulted from its effects. He was a popular member of the C. M. WATER SHORTAGE

Silesia Mill in No. Chelmsford Closed For the Week on Account of Lack of Water

The Silesia mill in North Chelmsford is experiencing a shut-down this week, but not on account of lack of orders, but because of low water. However, everything is now all right and the entire plant will start full blast Monday morning. It is said that some mills in the vicinity have also been handicapped on account of low water.

MATHEWS' OUTING

Plans Completed for Greatest Event Held by This Society for Several Years

Plans are now completed for the annual outing of the Mathew Total Abstinence society of North Billerica which is to be held at Pinehurst park, tomorrow afternoon and evening. The feature of the day will be the program of sports, and there will be races for all who attend. A one-mile race is planned and it is expected that some of the best known runners from this city will take part in this event. Valuable prizes will be awarded the winners of the different events. Dancing will be enjoyed from 2 o'clock till 11:30 in the large dance hall at the grove and an entertainment will be furnished.

Miss Maud, Ellis of Wilson street will spend the next two weeks at Lake Sunapee, N. H.

A son has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Devire of Williston street.

Master Wynnan Holden of Malden is visiting in town.

Fire On Dump at Perry Street

The high street fire auto was called to the bank of the Concord river behind Cawley's coal yard this afternoon to put out a dump fire that blazed up.

FRANCIS BURTON HARRISON, NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL OF PHILIPPINES

F. B. HARRISON
NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL OF PHILIPPINES

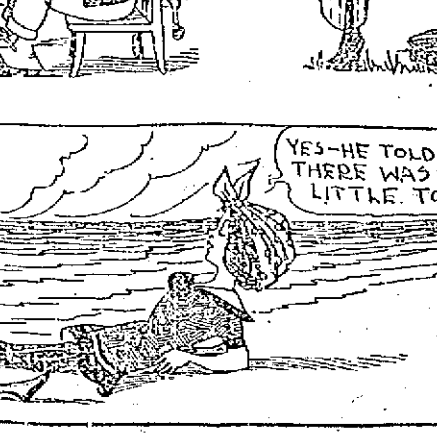

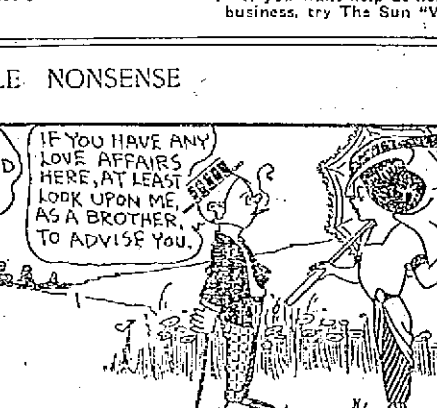

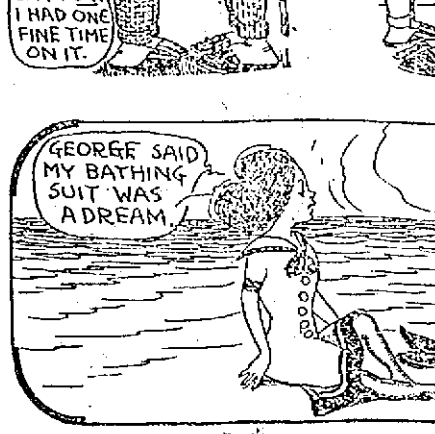

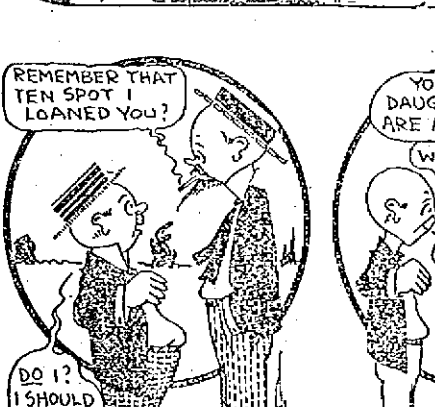

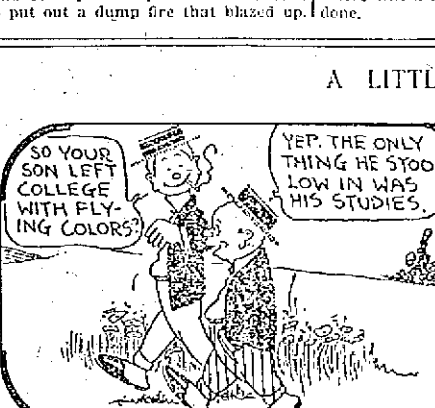

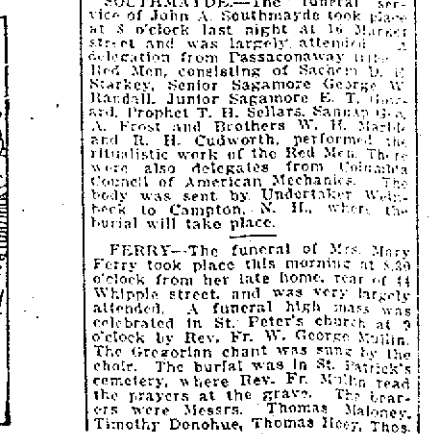

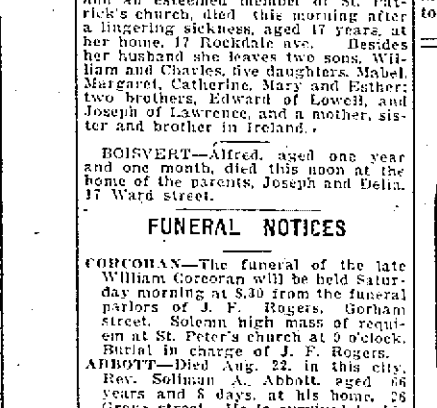

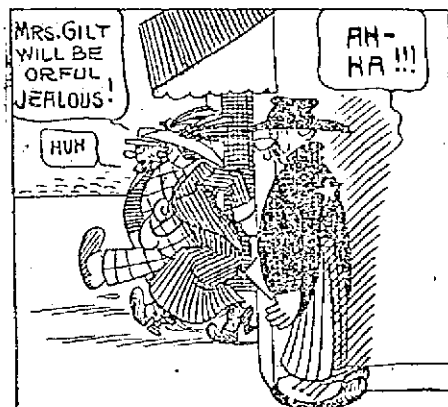

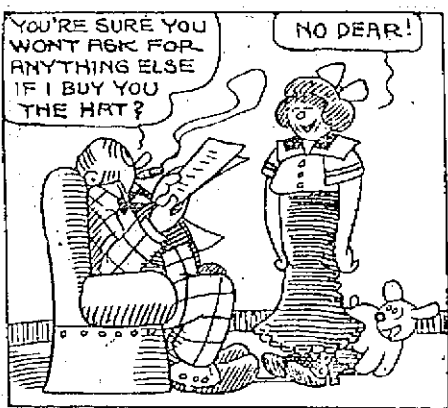

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Representative Francis Burton Harrison of New York, who was selected for governor-general of the Philippines, will inquire into present conditions in the islands with regard to carrying out the democratic party pledges relative to independence. Mr. Harrison is a democrat, a native of New York city, a lawyer by profession, and has been a representative in five congresses, his first service being in the Fifty-eighth. He enlisted as a private in the Spanish war in the volunteers and was a candidate for lieutenant-governor of New York in the campaign of 1904. He was educated at Yale university and the New York Law school. A reorganization of the Philippine commission was among Mr. Harrison's plans. Mr. Harrison was a member of the party which accompanied William Howard Taft as secretary of war on his trip to the Philippines, and he has had several conferences on Philippine matters from time to time with President Wilson, so that his policy is known to the administration.

STRIKERS DID NOT MARCH ON CALUMET

CALUMET, Mich., Aug. 22.—Reports last night that a large number of strikers intended to march on Calumet from the Ahmeek and Mohawk mines to the north to put a stop to all work in the Calumet and Hecla, kept the troops on the alert this morning. Several hundred strikers appeared but it proved to be a peaceful demonstration and they were allowed by the cavalry to parade through the Calumet and Hecla location. The strikers carried American flags and made no attempt to interfere with operations. Under ground work has been resumed in the Quincy mine where preparations for hoisting are under way.

There was a lot of smoke but no harm done. If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

EXAMINATION FOR EVENING

SCHOOL CERTIFICATES

Lowell, August 22, 1913.

In accordance with the rules of the school committee, an examination of candidates for certificates of qualification to serve in the evening school of Lowell will be held at the Lowell high school, on Saturday, September 20, 1913, at 8.30 o'clock a. m. All candidates must be bona fide residents of Lowell and must have intention to take this examination must be given at the office of the superintendent of schools on or before Saturday, September 19, 1913. Blankets for this purpose may be obtained at the office of the superintendent of schools. From the candidates who take this examination not more than one hundred and twenty will be selected in order of rank as evening elementary teachers, not more than forty as evening high school teachers, and not more than twenty as evening elementary principals.

Candidates for the position of principal of the high school will be examined in English (including grammar, composition, and spelling), U. S. history from the year 1760 to the present, either algebra through quadratics or plane geometry (first two books), and arithmetic. There will be also an essay of not more than three hundred words on some phase of evening school work. The examination of candidates for the position of principal of the evening high school will be open only to holders of fifth grade certificates or to graduates of a college or to persons who have had experience as principal of an evening high school.

The examination of candidates for the position of teacher in the high school will be the same as that for the principal, except that the essay will be on the subject of evening school work. Candidates for the position of principal in the elementary schools will be examined in English (including grammar and composition), U. S. history, from the year 1760 to the present, spelling and reading at sight; there will be also an essay of not more than three hundred words on some phase of evening school work. The examination of candidates for the position of principal of an elementary school will be open only to holders of fifth grade certificates or to graduates of a college or to persons who have had experience as principal of an elementary school.

Commend Stand of Sen. Lippitt Against Proposed Cut in Tariff on Cotton Goods

U. S. Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island has received a memorial from the cotton manufacturers of New England thanking him for his fight against the reduction in the tariff on cotton as proposed in the Underwood bill. The letter is as follows:

To Hon. Henry F. Lippitt,

U. S. Senator, D. C.

Dear Sir:—We commend and thank you for your able exposition of the unjust and excessive and unfairly unfair discrimination in the proposed tariff bill against New England cotton products which, as you show, are given a duty of from 7 1/2 per cent to 30 per cent, (an average of about 16 per cent), while silk cloth is given a duty of 15 per cent, and woolen cloths of 35 per cent.

The percentage of labor cost, higher in cotton than in the other textile industries, seems to require at least as high a duty on cotton goods.

With shorter working hours, higher wages and a higher percentage of labor cost (as shown by the U. S. census reports) than obtain in the great manufacturing states of the south, New England seems to be the target of the framers of the pending tariff measure.

Not desiring any unfair advantage and being already to compete on equal terms with any manufacturer in the world, we urge you to continue your efforts to secure reasonably fair treatment for New England's greatest industry.

Southern manufacturers themselves are on record endorsing our position and the need of higher and fair rates for New England products. They realize as do we that the continuation and development of the fine cotton goods manufacture of our mills is as important to the south as it is to the north.

Very truly

Among the long list of signatures are those of Edward Lovett, treasurer Massachusetts cotton mills; Sidney Coolidge, treasurer Lowell Bleachery; C. P. Baker, treasurer Lawrence Manufacturing company; A. G. Culmoch, treasurer Appleton mills; F. A. Flather, treasurer Boott mills; Charles F. Young, treasurer of the Tremont and Suffolk mills; Arthur Sharp, treasurer Hamilton company.

Drowned White Bathing

ELLISWORTH, Me., Aug. 22.—Kenneth, aged 15 and son of Leslie W. Jordan of this city, was drowned today while bathing at the foot of Green lake, where he had gone with a picnic party from the Baptist Sunday school. He was recovered by his depth. The body was recovered.

Brookton's Tax Rate

BROCKTON, Mass., Aug. 22.—The board of assessors today announced the 1913 tax rate as $21 on a thousand, the highest figure in a decade. The rate last year was $19.75.

MET DEATH BY FALL OF ALMOST A MILE

HALBERSTADT, Prussia Saxony, Aug. 22.—Lieutenant Schmidt of the 148th infantry and attached to the army aviation corps, met death here today by a fall of almost a mile. The lieutenant was completing an aeroplane flight to and from Goslar, a town in Hanover province 30 miles west of Halberstadt, and had begun a spiral descent. While the aeroplane was at a height of about 5000 feet one of the wings collapsed and the machine plunged to the ground.

THAW CASE

probable deportation proceedings, had not been received at the summer embassy here this morning.

"I find that it is a matter requiring the official attention of the Canadian authorities I shall simply forward the message to the secretary of state of Ottawa," said the ambassador.

"Extradition of prisoners is not a matter for the diplomatic department. All these things are arranged by treaty and I should have no influence in such a case. I should have no authority to make overtures to the Canadian officials."

"The usual course to be pursued in such matters would be for the Washington officials to communicate with the consul at Sherbrooke, Que., or call the matter directly to the attention of London."

The message of the state department forwarded from Washington last night explained the status of Thaw in New York state and his present predicament, adding: "The department while not in a position to make a request in the matter, will do its best in the matter within its extrajudicial functions, brings it to the attention of the Canadian authorities in the hope that such action as the Canadian authorities may find it wise to take will be taken."

Requests Thaw's Detention

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Action Governor Glynn, 21, requested Governor Fletcher of Vermont to have Harry N. Thaw apprehended to await extradition in case the Canadian authorities reported Thaw to that state.

Mr. Glynn's telegram to Governor Fletcher reads:

"I am informed that Canadian immigration authorities will deport Harry N. Thaw into Vermont on or about Wednesday, the 27th, that being the date when he entered Canada. I respectfully request you have him apprehended immediately upon his arrival in Vermont and have him held awaiting extradition for me."

He Was Going Some

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Automobile number 35521 N. Y., in which Harry N. Thaw is supposed to have made his flight from Mattawan, N. Y., at times reached the speed of 80 miles an hour in the expert opinion of Ritchie and Fox who today took possession of the car for John Collins of New York, the owner.

They found all the tires in bad shape, and one of the four may last through the return trip. An unused tire was found on the machine and Fox brought two more with him. The spark plug and the key to the tool box were missing. The machine was not badly damaged.

City Marshal George Young, who has stood guard over the six-cylinder car since it was abandoned here by two men last Monday, evoking the majesty of the law to prevent so much as a peep on the part of the curious villagers, surrendered his trust only after he had closely examined a stack of papers with which Fox was armed. These included a message from Deputy Police Commissioner George Dougherty of New York, who said that the police there have no objections to the return of the car where it could be had at any time if wished as evidence. There was a request from Collins and a copy of the car's certificate of registration from the automobile bureau in New York, signed by the secretary of state. The marshal said that the papers seemed regular.

Bryan Telegraphs Sulzer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Secretary Bryan sent the following telegram today to "Hon. William Sulzer, Albany, N. Y.":

"This case of Thaw, being one of which in its present aspect involving the application of Canadian immigration laws, this government cannot act officially, steps have been taken to lay the information as to his escape formally before the Canadian authorities."

Mr. Sulzer asked that the Canadian immigration authorities be requested to return Thaw to Rouse's Point, New York.

Secretary Wilson, who has charge of the immigration bureau, today sent his despatch to Acting Governor Glynn and Attorney General C. C. Carmody:

"I am unable to find any law which would authorize the department of labor to ask the Canadian government to deport Harry K. Thaw to the state of New York as requested by you. I am advised that steps have already been taken by the department of state to bring the matter to the attention of the Canadian government through the proper diplomatic channels."

PARK ARREST

Caused by a Fourteen-Year-Old Police Captain—Hit With an Indian Club

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Fourteen-year-old Capt. Moses Rotker of Park Commissioner Stover's boy police, was doing patrol duty near the greenhouses in Central Park at One Hundred and Sixth street and Fifth avenue yesterday when he had occasion to caution a gang of youngsters.

Instead of obeying one of them hit Rotker on the back with an Indian club. The youthful captain then blew three shrill blasts on his police whistle. Patrolman Bloss, a regular grown-up policeman, responded, and on Rotker's complaint arrested Alexander Rubinstein, 15, of No. 553 East One Hundred and Thirteenth street.

Young Rubinstein was taken to the juvenile park Arsenal charged with juvenile delinquency. He was paroled in the custody of his father.

This is the first arrest caused by any of the boy policemen in Central Park.

MEAN OLD FATHER

Drove Wife as a Horse—Accused of Using Little Son in Some Way—Held for Grand Jury

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Accused of hitting his wife and 12-year-old son with himself to a potato digger when his team had proved unable to drag the machine, and then beating his wife and throwing her into a gully when the human reinforcements had proved unavailing, George W. K. Boyce was before Justice F. F. Dodd yesterday in Supreme court.

Boyce managed the C. E. F. Hetrick farm near Farmingdale. Mrs. Boyce disappeared after the alleged assault and he was arrested on complaint of a married daughter, Mrs. Grace Townsend of Elizabeth. Mrs. Boyce was found working in a restaurant in Asbury Park. She and Boyce became reconciled, but the charges still hold.

Cure for Cancer

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Dr. Francis D. Donaghy returned on the Arabic yesterday from the Cancer congress at Brussels and the Medical congress in London. He announced that great excitement prevails in Germany over the use of mesothorium as a cure for cancer.

This product, which is found in Brazil, North and South Carolina and Colorado, has been experimented with and it is said, can cure certain forms of cancer. The towns of Germany have subscribed large sums to purchase mesothorium. Dueseldorf has spent $25,000 for the product. Hungary and Germany have purchased the supply of mesothorium available until January, 1915.

Mesothorium is a rayless product of thorium which soon becomes active through transformation into radiothorium. At first the price of mesothorium was about one-sixth of that of radium, but since it has proved so desirable for cancer cases the price has gone up. Some difference of opinion exists, Dr. Donaghy said, among the authorities as to whether mesothorium should be used in large quantities at a distance, or in small quantities applied directly.

One of the most startling discoveries reported at the cancer congress was that of Prof. Fibiger of Copenhagen, who found in the intestines of a rat a pinwormlike organism which he fed to insects. When the insects had been devoured by other rats they developed cancer.

Dr. Donaghy went to the Brussels conference as the representative of the state of Massachusetts. He afterward attended the medical congress in London.

SHERWOOD KNIGHTS
ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Banquet Held Last Night at Odd Fellows Temple a Feature of the Convention Program

The election of officers to the supreme conclave of the Knights of Sherwood forest took place this morning in the convention hall, Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street. The contest was spirited but the utmost harmony prevailed throughout. This was the most important business of the convention and all the delegates showed their interest by being present. Although some members of the Thomas Talbot executive council aspired to positions in the executive council of the supreme conclave, they were not successful; no Lowell man got elected to the higher offices.

The next convention will be held in two years. The question of where it will convene has been left to the executive council. Following the election this morning the officers were installed by past supreme commander, G. L. Pehrson, Rochester, N. Y. The newly elected officers are as follows:

Supreme conclave: George Market, Syracuse, supreme commander; George

R. Brown, Rochester, N. Y., supreme adjutant general; William H. Moriarty, Brockton, Mass., inspector general; Joseph S. Perkins, Waltham, Mass., assistant inspector general; James A. Ahern, Newport, R. I., second assistant inspector general; E. H. Spratt, Syracuse, N. Y., paymaster general; Dr. W. G. Smith, Ravenna, Ohio, supreme surgeon general; L. A. Minnie, Brockton, Mass., supreme quartermaster general; Jacob Augustine, Natick, Mass., first officer of the guard; A. Marcotte, Taunton, Mass., second officer of the guard.

Trustees: Henry Ziegler, Syracuse, N. Y., G. L. Pehrson, Rochester, N. Y., H. C. Stowell, Rochester, N. Y.

Auditors: William Anderson, Rochester, N. Y.; J. H. Whalley, Rochester, N. Y.; C. R. Miller, Rochester, N. Y.

The banquet at the Knights of Sherwood Forest, one of the principal features of the convention, was held last night.

LOWELL TRIMMING
BROCKTON TODAY

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Lowell	5	5	0	1	1	1	1	1	1

Lowell played its only home game of the week here this afternoon with the Brockton aggregation as opponents. At the time the game started there was a strong wind blowing and the grounds were very dusty, but in spite of the unfavorable conditions about 700 fans were present. Brockton tried out a rookie pitcher named Bailey today, and Haddock played behind him. Maybom, who pitched a part of yesterday's game in Worcester, started the twirling for the local boys with Daly behind the bat. A change was made in the batting order of the local team. DeGroff and Daly changing places. Umpire White called the game at 3 o'clock. The lineup was as follows:

Lowell
Clemens cf
Miller 2b
Daly c
Maggie lf
Halstein 3b
DeGroff 1b
Aubrey ss
Doe 3b
Maybom p

Brockton
McMahon 1b
McMahon 2b
Brigaglia cf
McGill lf
Kennedy 3b
Tesch ss
Ruffange c
Bailey p

Maloney opened the first inning with a grounder to Dee and lost first base on a close decision. Dee also threw out Dowd. Daly made a nice catch of McMahon's foul fly.

Lowell scored five runs in the first inning. Bailey passed Clemens and Miller. The two men executed a double steal. Daly was thrown out at first by the pitcher. Maggie singled to left scoring Clemens and Miller and then stole second. Halstein walked and three men were on when Maloney dropped DeGroff's line drive. Aubrey walked, forcing in Magee. At this point Swapp replaced Bailey. Swapp struck out Dee but Maybom singled to right, scoring Halstein and DeGroff. Clemens popped out to Dowd.

Score: Lowell 5, Brockton 0.

Brockton looked like a scorer in the second when Brigaglia, the first man up doubled to the left field fence. Maybom then struck out McGill. Kennedy was thrown out at first by Daly and Brigaglia was left at third when Tesch struck out.

Lowell scored five more in the second. Miller singled to left and was safe at second on Swapp's poor throw of Daly's grounder to Dowd. Magee scored Miller with a single to left.

MITCHELL THOMPSON
ARRAIGNED TODAY

In Police Court at Sherbrooke—Case Postponed Until Friday—Thaw May Become British Subject

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 22.—The hearing in the case of the self-styled "Mitchell Thompson" arrested by the immigration authorities charged with aiding a lunatic—Harry K. Thaw—in crossing the Canadian frontier, was postponed today until Friday next.

Thompson was arraigned before Police Judge Mulvena shortly after 10 o'clock. F. Campbell, acting jointly for the Dominion department of immigration and the Dutchess county (New York) authorities, asked that the case be put over on the ground that documents from Matteawan, showing that Thaw had been confined there and are therefore pertinent to Thompson's alleged offense, had not arrived here.

Counsel for Thompson, Louis St. Laurent, associated with Thaw's group of defenders, at first objected to delay but finally agreed to the hearing on Friday, August 23.

Thompson came into court, more or less disguised by a pair of smoked glasses. Pictures of "Gentleman Roger" had arrived during the night, however, and Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county, holding one of these and gazing at the prisoner said: "Who could miss it? It certainly is Roger."

Thompson said not a word.

The little courtroom on a floor below the superior court, where Thaw's habeas corpus hearing is to come up, was packed to the doors. The judge disposed of a petty larceny case before taking up the Thompson matter and then listened patiently while counsel were wrangling over the date for the hearing. All of Thaw's lawyers were present.

Thaw's Sister Goss

years and ascertaining that everything was being done to protect his liberty. The habeas corpus proceedings not being due until Wednesday, Thaw endeavored to relax today and to enjoy the first good rest he has had since his escape.

May Become British Subject

Thaw has been advised by certain of his counsel, it was learned today, to buy property in Canada and take steps to become naturalized as a British subject. This it was held, would prevent his deportation.

Bryan's Message Awaited

DUBLIN, N. H., Aug. 22.—Secretary of State Bryan's personal telegram notifying the British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, that Harry K. Thaw, wanted in the United States, was held in Canada and the subject of his deportation.

TEWKSBURY NURSES
POUND PATIENT

William Mavor and Joseph L. Collins, two night nurses at the Tewksbury hospital, held the center of the police court stage this morning with assault and battery case. The two young attendants were charged with beating up one of the insane patients, Anton Kovis by name, and both pleaded not guilty. They were represented by Attorney Devine.

The first witness produced by the prosecution was the assistant superintendent of the institution, where the alleged assault took place. He testified only to the condition of the patient after the fracas and also to what the two defendants had told him after the clouds of battle had parted and order once more reigned supreme in the Tewksbury asylum.

The witness stated that he had found no less than eight long bruises on the left arm of the patient and that both wrists and the back of his left hand also bore signs of rough usage. His back had one long welt and his chest carried a mark which might have been made by a sharp blow from most any instrument. Witness said that the defendant Collins had told him that he did not strike Kovis, but that his colleague, Mavor, might have done so.

Dr. Coburn Testifies

Dr. Coburn, another attache of the hospital, took the stand next. He single to left scoring Maybom and Miller. Magee made a triple to the left field fence sending Thomas home. At this point Brigaglia was pulled in from center field and took Swapp's place on the mound. Baum going to right and McGill to center. Halstein grounded out to Dowd.

Score: Lowell 22, Brockton 0.

WENT TO LAKEVIEW

Children of Playgrounds Enjoyed Outing—Boys Take a Dip in Lake Mass.

The boys and girls who frequent the Greenbush school playgrounds were a happy lot yesterday when they learned that the Bay State Street railway had furnished the supervisors of the grounds with tickets to convey them to and from Lakeview park. Shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning about 100 of the young ones boarded the cars for Lakeview, and it certainly was an enjoyable day for them. Arriving at the grounds they were given free rides on the roller coaster and merry-go-round and were allowed all the privileges at the park. At noon a basket lunch was served on the grounds, and it was a hungry group that opened their dinner boxes to partake of the luncheon that had been prepared before they left their homes. During the day many of the boys enjoyed a dip in the waters of Lake Massapeque, and about 450 they gathered at the park entrance to take the cars for the return trip. The light, airy sanitary offices of the New Sun building compared with those of any other office building in Lowell are so much more up to date that not only the occupants but their patrons are delighted with them.

STRANGE SHOOTING

Of Boy Playing Near Window—Police Unable to Learn Where Bullet Came From

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—As Mrs. Puccio worked in the kitchen of her flat on the third floor of No. 139 Cherry street last night she passed now and then an open window. Little Joseph, her eight-year-old son, who was playing by himself in a front bedroom, suddenly there came a silence over the front room.

Mrs. Puccio ran down the hall and threw open the door. On the floor lay a bullet wound in his left temple. Clutching him in her arms Mrs. Puccio screamed. Patrolman Sullivan of the Oak street station hurried in, placed Joseph on a bed, and telephoned to the Voluntary hospital. When Dr. Haggerty arrived in an ambulance he said that a bullet from a large caliber revolver or a rifle had penetrated the boy's head. He died three hours later.

Detectives searched the house and other crowded tenements in the neighborhood, but could find no one who had heard a shot or who had seen any one carrying a rifle.

Butcher Knife Duel

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 22.—While the salesroom in one of the largest retail meat markets was full of customers today Frank Mooney and Mark Hamilton, meat cutters, engaged in a death struggle across a meat block in the rear. Until Mooney fell dead on the floor with the long blade of a butcher knife thrust through his heart. Women screamed and fled from the store. Hamilton told the police he had stabbed Mooney because "he could not stand his cursing."

Old Man Drowned

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 22.—Conrad Churchill, an aged man, fell in the gutter when running from a fire at the Farmers' Seed company's store here today. As he lay helpless, face down, water poured upon the fire flowed out into the gutter, and submerged him. He was drowned.

New Baseball League

Tomorrow the opening game in the newly formed Trade and Labor league will be played on the Fair grounds when the South Parks, a strong amateur team, will lineup against the Shawlights, another speedy combination of ball players. The following South Park players are requested on the South common at 1:30 o'clock: Clark, Breen, Curtin, Gallagher, Forays, O'Dea, Roane, Lyons, Hogan and Richter.

REV. G. OUELLETTE, O. M. I.

Left This Morning for Plattsburg, N. Y.—Large Delegation From C. M. A. C. at Northern Station.

Rev. Guillaume Ouellette, O. M. I. of St. Joseph's parish, who was recently transferred to Plattsburg, N. Y., left this morning for his new field of work. The young clergyman who was chaplain of the C. M. A. C. was escorted to the Northern station by a delegation of nearly 100 from this popular organization, who extended their best wishes before he boarded the 7 o'clock train. At the last meeting of the C. M. A. C. Fr. Ouellette was presented a handsome traveling bag, and it was voted to have a large delegation escort the chaplain to the railroad station. Messrs. Henry Barry and Joseph L. Lemieux accompanied the young priest as far as Ayer Junction.

Rev. Aquila Gratton, O. M. I., who was transferred from Notre Dame de Lourdes parish to St. Joseph's, assumed his new duties yesterday afternoon, and he was warmly greeted, especially by the members of the Children of Mary sodality, of which he was chaplain before leaving the parish last February.

Brush Fire Last Night

In response to an alarm from box 171 shortly after nine o'clock last night, the members of the fire department hurried to the junction of Pawtucket and Middlesex streets, where a brush fire was in progress. Before the department reached the place the flames had set the fence afire, but the damage was slight.

SECRETARY BRYAN
SENDS WARNING

To Mexico—Americans Must Not be Abused by Anyone Claiming Civil or Military Authority

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Curt warning to both the Huerta and constitutionalist commanders at La Boquilla, Chihuahua, Mexico, that the United States will hold them personally responsible for any violence against Americans by "anyone claiming civil or military authority," was sent today by Secretary Bryan through American Consul Letcher at Chihuahua City.

Secretary Bryan instructed Mr. Letcher to despatch his message to La Boquilla by courier and get an answer. His action was in response to a request by Senator Penrose for action to protect S. C. Hulse, Chief Engineer Fuller and other Americans at the plant of the Mexican Northern Power and Irrigation company.

Secretary Bryan's telegram follows: "Information having been received by this government that threats of violence and death have been made against Fuller, Hulse and others at La Boquilla, this government deems it proper to say that if any violence is visited upon any American citizen there or elsewhere by anyone claiming civil or military authority the United States will hold personally responsible the perpetrators thereof."

"Couriers should ascertain conditions of all foreigners at La Boquilla and report what reply the officer in charge makes."

The protection of Americans was taken as indicative of the views of the United States in the protection of Americans wherever their safety is threatened.

SENTENCED FOR REVILING FLAG

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22.—After he had publicly renounced his allegiance to the Industrial Workers of the World and apologized for incendiary utterances in his speeches as an organizer for that body, Martin J. Phelan was given a sentence of $100 fine and 30 days workhouse imprisonment today. It was the maximum sentence. The court held that Phelan's speeches in which he reviled the American flag, constituted an offense for which an apology alone was not adequate.

$67,552,400 IN BONDS

Authorized by the New Haven Stockholders

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 22.—A special meeting of the stockholders of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, authorized the issuance of $67,552,400 in debenture bonds at a six per cent. rate with the right of conversion into stock. The authorization was a formality only as sufficient proxies were in hand several days ago for an affirmative vote, and those held by the stockholders' protective committee were also cast that way.

The small room in which the stockholders meet, usually adequate for all who attend, was overcrowded before the noon hour and the directors had difficulty in pushing through the aisle to reach their seats in front. A majority of the board was present, and Howard Elliott, recently elected president of the company, sat with the directors. President Mellen was not present and Director Charles F. Brook presided. The call for the meeting which was to authorize a bond issue, was read by Mr. Clarke, the secretary, and A. Maxey Miller, a stockholder of this city, took the floor and asked for explanation of the issue which was given by Mr. Brooker.

DAUGHTER REFUSES

To Recognize Parent When Produced in Court—Mother Reached Out Her Arms to Daughter

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—An eighteen-year-old girl who hasn't seen her mother for ten years was sitting in Justice Giegerich's court room yesterday talking to her father when her mother entered. The mother rushed up to the young woman with outstretched arms and said: "Come, my daughter, don't you know me? I'm your mother, dear, I'm your mother."

The daughter looked on her mother for a moment without giving a sign of recognition and then turned her back and resumed talking with her father.

The young woman is Reni Davis, daughter of Adolph J. Davis, a mining operator with an office at 2 Stone street, who lives at the Hotel Rector. Davis had been directed to produce his daughter in court on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by the girl's mother, Mrs. Alma J. Davis.

In her petition Mrs. Davis said that her husband divorced her in Colorado ten years ago and then took their daughter away. Mrs. Davis claims she never was served with papers in the suit and didn't defend it. She sued for divorce here and then learned that her daughter was with her husband's relatives at Plattsburg.

The court suggested that an arrangement be made by which Mrs.

President at Work on Message to Congress

THAT WILL GIVE ALL THE FACTS IN THE MEXICAN CASE

It Will Prove, Huerta Mistaken in Supposing President Wilson is Not Backed By Country

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—President Wilson was at work last night on a special message which he will probably read to both houses of congress next Monday, relating in detail to the negotiations which have been conducted through his personal representative, John Lind, with the Huerta government in Mexico.

sive statement on the situation to congress, was reached yesterday after the president had about concluded that the negotiations between Mr. Lind and Provisional President Huerta, since the exchange of notes had developed no new basis for discussion.

With his message the president will present the two notes, setting forth the American suggestions to the Huerta government and its reply.

Should he read the document himself, which he is being urged to do by members of his cabinet and to which idea he is strongly inclined. It will be the first time since the days of George Washington that a president has communicated a matter of foreign policy in person to the legislative branch of the government.

While there was no information from the White House to indicate what object it was hoped to accomplish through a message at this time, there was a well defined belief in official circles that President Wilson thinks the reading of an address which will lay the American viewpoint and the Huerta contentions before the congress and people of this country and which also will be made public to the world

generally, cannot but have an important effect on the situation in Mexico.

It is expected to be a partial answer to the intimations of Provisional President Huerta in his note that President Wilson stands alone in his Mexican policy and unsupported generally in congress. The refutation of this Huerta supposition came in the senate yesterday when prominent republicans vigorously upheld the hands of the president. The expressions of confidence in the wisdom and good faith of President Wilson were made by several republican leaders in succession after Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania (Republican) had introduced a resolution to require the president to place American troops in Mexico to protect American lives. No action was taken on the resolution and though Senator Penrose declared that the sending of troops could be resolved by a vote of 75 to 25, he did not believe in the view at the White House and state department was that such a move in effect would be an act of war.

President Wilson reiterated to callers yesterday that he had absolutely no intention of taking any drastic measures, denied that Secretary Garrison of the war department had been called back to Washington, and referred to the fact that Mr. Garrison would take a vacation after his inspection trip in the west was ended.

He incidentally complimented republican senators on their spirit of cooperation, emphatically stating there had not been the slightest exhibition of partisanship.

That Provisional President Huerta has advanced the idea that recognition of his government is a partisan question in the United States and that the democratic party is not actually dominant, is admitted by administration officials but they believe that if such a illusion exists in Mexico, it shortly will be dispelled, not only by news of yesterday's debate in the senate but by the expectation that congress in some way will show its confidence in the president when he reads his message.

The administration hopes that when the facts are known in Mexico, the Huerta authorities may be more inclined to respect the American suggestions.

continue to scorn the suggestions of the United States, the situation in Mexico will soon disentangle itself and that a policy of non-interference should be maintained for the present, at least.

Mr. Lind probably will remain in Mexico City indefinitely and his reports indicate that he has not abandoned hope.

$5000 FOR LOST BOY
A Lawrence Alderman Sued for Accident

In consequence of the accidental death by drowning of little Ronald Gaudette, one of the 11 boys who lost their lives in the Merrimack river by the collapse of the bathhouse gangway on June 30th, suit in the sum of $5000 has been brought by the parents of the boy against Alderman Alfred Bradbury, commissioner in charge of the bath houses.

The parents reside in Fitchburg. The action, which is one of tort, has been instituted through the law offices of Walsh & Walsh of Fitchburg. The writ of attachment has been filed and is returnable in the superior court at Worcester on the first Monday of October.

This is the first case against Alderman Bradbury as the result of the tragedy.

The writ was filed at the registry of deeds office Monday.

LOWELL SOLDIER BOYS

Interested in Military School at Framingham

TO BE OPEN FROM AUG. 30 TO SEPT. 1

Each of the Lowell Companies to Be Represented By One Man Selected By Captain

There is a good deal of interest among military men in the school of instruction provided for by the order of Adjutant-General Pearson. The local captains will each designate one man to represent his company at the school. This man will not be selected on account of his special need of military instruction but because of merit.

The four men who will go from Lowell will be representatives of the stalwart men of the company and likely to compare quite favorably with those from other parts of the state.

It is quite certain that some of the Lowell men will appear in the awkward squad.

The orders issued from the adjutant-general's office announce that the camp at South Framingham will be occupied by the training school, M. V. M., Aug. 30 to Sept. 1, inclusive. This is the first time for years that the old muster field has been used by troops, and it is believed will prove ideal for the purposes of the training school.

Maj.-Gen. William A. Pew (retired), who is the superintendent of the school, has been authorized to prescribe the hours of service, camp regulations and routine.

Lieut.-Colonel Willis W. Stover, 8th infantry, who is commandant of cadets, has been directed to require from the quartermaster-general, such property as is necessary for the use of the school and to make such arrangements as may be necessary to provide for the use and lighting of one mess hall for instruction purposes and of one cookhouse. Company commanders have been directed to issue to enlisted students such arms and equipments as may be specified in the camp order. For duty at this school officers and students will receive the pay of grade and mileage of 4 cents a mile from home stations.

The idea of the school is to give a thorough and uniform education in the

CURRENCY BILL IN CONGRESS

Objected to by Bankers — They Suggest Law to Improve the Banking System of Country

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—More than 200 bankers, delegates from clearing house and banking associations assembled here today to voice their objections to certain sections of the Glass-Owen currency bill now before congress and to make suggestions for a law which they hope will bring about an improvement in the banking system of the country.

The conference was called by the currency commission of the American Bankers' Association. Its purpose, as explained by Frederick Farnsworth of New York, secretary of the organization, is to aid the administration in "effecting good currency legislation."

Arrangements were made for three sessions today and it is the hope of the members of the commission that by tomorrow night recommendations for amendments to the Glass-Owen measure will be agreed upon which will make it satisfactory to a great majority of the financiers of the country. "There are four fundamental features of the bill to which the bankers of the country are almost unanimously opposed," said Mr. Farnsworth. "They are the government control provision, the reserve feature, the exportation referring to note issue by the government and the stipulation for the refunding of the two per cent. bonds. The ideas of the association bankers on these scores are well known, and it is probable that their action will take the form of resolutions protesting against the objectionable features and suggesting amendments."

No formal program has been prepared, but a general discussion will follow an address by A. Barton Hepburn of New York, chairman of the currency commission, which is expected to be the keynote of the conference.

other ladies of the court who visited the on pit threw her glove into the midst of the savage brute. She then commanded her lover to show his regard for her by recovering it. Being a brave man he did so, but to her surprise when he had reached safety he threw the glove in her face and took himself off, declaring that any woman who demanded such a risk for vanity's sake would not do for him.

Merrimack Square Theatre Players "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallington" made into play from George Handolph Chester's novel and produced by the Merrimack Square theatre players, will be the attraction at this popular theatre the coming week. Of course you've heard of it everyone who has, and every one knows also that it's the best comedy of recent years. Geo M. Cohan dramatized it, and when Cohan has anything to do with a theatrical performance it must be good. Walter Scott Weeks, the popular leading man, had been cast as "J. Rufus Wallington" and John Phillips as "Blackie Law." The merry chase these two lead the natives of "Hattiesburg," finally making them all millionaires and becoming straight themselves, furnishes a good afternoon or evening entertainment as you could find in a month's travel. Don't fail to see it when it is produced next week. If you do you are sure to be sorry. And here's a tip—get your seats early, for after the first performance they are sure to be at a premium. Seats are on hand in advance now ready. Subscription list open at the box office.

Canobie Lake Park Concert by the Military Band, Fred S. Ross, director, Sunday, August 21, 1913, 4 to 6 p. m. Program: March, Gilmore's Triumphant, Brooks; overture, Peter Schmitt, Meyer; march of the old songs, You Ticker; characteristic suite, (a) Wah Na Loo, Beedie, (b) Thatsum Rug, Pinar; trombone solo, "A Son of the Distant Shore," Mr. Dennis W. Ward; dream picture, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Lame; echoes from the Metropolitan Opera House, Tobani descriptive, "March of the Blue Line," Becker; symphony, "Near midnight, the night birds, owls, crickets, etc., are heard. As the steady clock strikes the hour, the goblins assemble at the old church and to their dance until they are suddenly frightened away by the watchman's pistol. They return later and dance reveling through the woods. The whole of a passing steamboat on a nearby river is heard. While the dance is at its height a second pistol shot is heard, which frightens the dancing goblins. The scene is music and weird effects describes them scattering in all directions; (a) The Monastery Bells, Le Fehure-Vely; (b) one letter from Lucia, Pinar; selection, Amorita, Cizibuka; fantasia of Irish airs, "The Shamrock," Myddleton; The Star-Spangled Banner.

Keith's Theatre Tickets are going well for the performances of the opening week at the B. F. Keith theatre, the box office having been open since Thursday morning. The demand for good vaudeville is stronger than ever in this city, and the opening bill seems to hold several acts which will meet the approval of theatre goers in general. The big feature is "From Coney Island to the North Pole," and it is equipped with new scenery, costumes, dresses, music, stunts, dancing and singing girls, and three comedians, with Arthur Laving heading the list. Jennings and Wilson, a pair of black face comedians, are everywhere called "the men with the goods." Their stuff is original, and their songs are always of the latest vogue. The versatile "Trick" and "Thuray" are young and play instruments, are rapid-fire winners, and Flo and Arlie Walters are blue ribbon dancing maids. "Toll Bridge," a sweet comedy, will be played by James Grady & Co., and Rio and Norman are Roman ring performers of international reputation. Thornton, a clever clown, will open the bill. Good seats for all performances during the week may be obtained at the theatre box office. The telephone number is the same as last season, No. 25.

OFFERS MILK PRIZES

State Board Wants to Encourage Cleanliness

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—In order to encourage practical dairying and the production of milk and other dairy products of superior quality and cleanliness, the commonwealth has placed in the hands of the state board of agriculture a sum not exceeding $5000 annually for three years.

Since this sum is only one-fifth of the amount originally sought, only a portion of the work that was mapped out can be undertaken. A beginning has been made by an offer from the state board of $500 in cash prizes for dairies of five cows or more in this state, whose owners are practical farmers, superintending their own establishments.

In addition to this, sweepstake prizes for the entire state amounting to $450 have been offered while an equal sum is offered in prizes for dairies best protected from flies.

P. M. Harwood, general agent of the dairy bureau, said yesterday that the milk supply in this state was as good as, if not better than, that of any other states in the Union. Nevertheless, he declared, the members of the board feel that the greatest care should be exercised to secure absolutely pure milk.

"We are also of the opinion," said Mr. Harwood, "that the farmer ought to get a higher price for pure milk than he does at present. The protection of milk from flies is one of the most essential features in the production of milk which is really pure."

In the clean milk contest the state will be divided into two sections, the eastern comprising Essex, Middlesex, Suffolk, Norfolk, Bristol, Plymouth, Barnstable, Dukes and Nantucket counties, while the western section includes Worcester, Franklin, Hampshire, Hampshire and Berkshire counties.

Dairies in the eastern section are to be visited during September by authorized experts, and samples of unrefined hand-drawn mixed milk will be tested for cleanliness. Those in the western section will be visited during October.

Entries for the clean milk and sweepstake contests in the eastern section must be made on or before August 22, while those in the western section must be made on or before Sept. 22. Entry blanks may be obtained from the headquarters of the state board of agriculture, room 136, state house.

Entries for the prizes for protection of milk from flies closes Sept. 1, and in awarding these prizes the following points will be emphasized: Means adapted to preventing fly breeding; thoroughness in screening; best methods of trapping and general effectiveness of the whole scheme.

If you are a doctor, doesn't it pain you to see your patients, after waiting two or three flights, come into your office completely exhausted? Wouldn't it be better to provide an office in a building where your patients would be carried right up to your office door in an easy running and absolutely safe elevator? The new Sun building provides such a service. Think it over, doctor.

CIPRIANO CASTRO NOT IN VENEZUELA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—News that Cipriano Castro, former dictator of Venezuela, who was supposed to have landed in that country recently to direct a revolution, has not been in Venezuela, has been confirmed by a cable to the navy department from Commander Long of the cruiser Des Moines, who was sent down to investigate the situation. "The fullest information," the commander reported, "indicates that Castro has never been in Venezuela; that the present disturbance has not been important and that it is practically finished."

CRUSHED TO DEATH AT HIS KEY

Wireless Operator Proves Title Clear to Hero—Killed on Steamship State of California

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 22.—Another story of heroism was added to the annals of wireless telegraphy early today when 10 survivors of the wrecked steamship State of California arrived here on the steamer Jefferson.

Donald C. Perkins of Oakland, Cal., who went as chief wireless operator on the State of California in hope of encountering adventure, was off duty and asleep when the steamer struck an uncharted reef in Gambier bay, Alaska, last Sunday morning. Awakened by the shock, he rushed to the wireless room and ordered Walter Chamberlain, the operator on duty to seek safety. Then he sat down at the key, but before he could send his first call for help a falling mast went through the wireless house and crushed Perkins to death at his post.

Of the three lifeboats launched, the survivors said, one was useless, having been smashed by falling wreckage, and one was carried down by the suction of the boat.

TIME EXTENDED FOR NAVY MEN IN TRAINING SCHOOL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Secretary Daniels ordered today that, beginning October 1, enlisted men in the navy may be required to remain in the training schools at the discretion of the commandant, four months instead of three, and in some cases they may have to stay as long as six months. Such schools are located at Chicago, San Francisco, Newport and Norfolk.

GOVERNMENT JOBS GO ABEGGING

Civil Service Commission Urges Qualified to Enter the Examinations—Eligibles are Scarce

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Jobs under the government are going abegging, and the civil service commission issued announcements today of examinations to be held for a number of positions, almost every announcement bearing this significant statement in black-faced letters:

"As the commission has experienced considerable difficulty in securing a sufficient number of eligibles for this position, qualified persons are urged to enter this examination."

Among the positions which the commission seeks to fill through competitive examinations is that of a preparator in the bureau of entomology of the department of agriculture. The place pays $50 a month. The examination consists only in spelling, arithmetic, letter writing, penmanship, copying and demonstrating general aptitude for the job through "practical tests in preparing, mounting and labelling entomological specimens, both pinned and microscopic."

Another place the commission thus far has failed to fill is that of teacher of metal working and mechanical drawing in the Indian service. This job also pays $50 a month. Besides being both an arithmetician and an artist the applicant, according to the specifications, might well have "a knowledge of wood turning," but this knowledge "is not essential."

The real prize position pays $1500 a year. It is the position of professor of pharmacology in the public health service. "The specific position mentioned," says the commission's announcement, "is one of much responsibility, and it is desired to secure the services of a man who has had broad training and extensive practical experience in various branches of pharmacology, physiology, pathological and pharmaceutical chemistry, chemotherapy, etc., as they relate to medicine and the public health."

Those seeking this position, however, the commission insists, must have had 10 years' experience along the lines laid down, and likewise must have had training that would qualify them for the degree of Ph. D. If they have not already acquired that distinction.

BOSTON DAY AT ROCKINGHAM

Big Racing Events and Good Attendance—Principal Race Calls for $6000 Stake

SALEM, N. H., Aug. 22.—Another perfect day, such as has favored the entire meeting, greeted the early arrivals of "Boston Day," the fourth of the grand circuit meeting at Rockingham park. A large crowd gathered in the morning and much interest was apparent in the day's card.

The principal race of the day was the three-year old trot of the "American Horse Breeder" Futurity, for a stake of $6000. A. B. Cox, of Paoli, Pa., with his filly, Abner, was the favorite for not only did his fast colt win a record of 2:11 1/4 last season, but also won his Futurity this year in 2:14 1/4. With Newadway Girl scratched, little opposition was manifest, unless it was to be from Peter Johnson from the Cox stables.

The other two excellent events were "The Rockingham" for 2 1/2 class trotters and the "Haystack" for 2 1/2 trotters, each with a purse of $5000.

Good Hurling

The racing yesterday was by far the best of the meeting to date. It was Governor's Day, and Gov. Feltner had the pleasure of seeing New Hampshire's great champion, Walter Cox, win the feature race, the $6000 American Horse Breeder Futurity, over Gers and his M. and M. victor, Reusens, and McDonald's crack stake trotter, Tommy Horn.

The taking of first money in the Grand National by Lady Grattan was something of a surprise, as Reusens, who scored such a sparkling win in the $10,000 race at Detroit last week, naturally was picked as the best of the field of nine, with Tommy Horn, the one best bet in Lon McDonald's stable, as certain to collect second money.

Earl Jr. Has Work Cut Out

The victory of Earl Jr. in the free-for-all race was not quite so unexpected, as the gray war horse has been making a sterling campaign over the double oval of Maine, and New England turfmen figured he would be more at home in the soft footing than Braden Direct, who is off the parlor tracks of Michigan.

The men who have been following the big line, however, could not be talked out of the notion that the Denvers pons was not the best over any sort of going.

Earl Jr. had his work cut out, and it was only his ability to tramp through the stretch at better than a two-minute clip that enabled him to win the first heat in 2:06 1/2. His competitor was not Braden Direct, however, but Hal D. Jr.

The pacing division of the American Horse Breeder Futurity was easily won by Murphy's Tilly Tipton. There was a real race for second money between Homer Baughman, a brother to Branham Baughman, and the Zombro filly, Titta K. R. This resulted in a tie, so they divided second and third money.

The 2:30 trot was won by the Southern stallion, Hon. Tom, who took third money against Peter Sims on Tuesday. He was a much improved trotter yesterday and won as he liked over a field of 11 other starters.

Second to him in the summary was Cochato-Maid, a daughter of Cochato, owned and driven by Andrew Jameson of Somerville, Mass. Baron Sidgut, a son of Baron Wilkes, from Woolwich, Me., won third money, and Lady Watts, a handsome little trick-Norman Tully man is training for Charles and George Leonard, secured fourth.

Here's How the Lady Won

New Hampshire folks found much satisfaction in the victory of Lady Grattan, for not only was it well earned by both horse and driver, but it was taken to mean that the Cox stable, which has been so severely hit by the distemper, had made the turn in the road and would before long be the strongest of the circuit.

Tommy Horn took the first heat in the $5000 race, with Lady Grattan not quite up to catching him in the stretch, the Dakota gelding stepping the last quarter in 30 1/2. Farza set the pace a greater portion of the mile, but could not live the distance out.

The Lady outraced Tommy from the draggled home in the second heat, both trotters finishing under a strong drive in 2:10, a capital performance.

The next trip the chestnut mare gave Cox a lot of trouble going away, but he saved her tipping over, which really made it possible for her to win the heat, as Reusens was on his good behavior and at the mare's side.

Coming down the stretch it was either's heat. The drive began coming out of the turn, Cox starting it early, hoping that he could carry the high-strung Reusens to a break. Gers nursed him along with the hope that the long brush would slow the mare down.

Ten yards from the wire, as Cox picked his charge up for the last rally, the M. and M. winner went into the air, and then these New Hampshire folk made themselves heard. The mile was in 2:16, another capital performance.

The final heat was not such a hard one, as Reusens failed to respond when Gers shook him up at the distance flag, and Tommy Horn had had all he cared for.

Lady Grattan is owned by Barton Pardee of Lockhaven, Penn., and was raced over tracks west of the Mississippi last year, winning a dozen times in as many starts on the half-mile track.

In the Fast Pace

Earl Jr. took the track at once in the

ARMY NATIONAL INSURANCE POLICY

DEADWOOD, S. D., Aug. 22.—The army is the national insurance policy, Secretary of War Garrison told the Deadwood Business club last night. The nation deserved to lose its protection if it did not see that proper clauses were inserted in the policy that protected the country. The army was never better equipped or had better fighters than now, he said, but 33,000 for a standing army was woefully small. The country, he said, had but two resources, either a big standing army or a reserve body.

Universal peace talk was "hot air and a little steam" General Wood, chief of staff, told the club. He urged the encouragement of state militias and constabularies. With the right encouragement such bodies would make a great fighting machine, he said.

fast pace and did not lose it the first heat, although it was only by inches that he flashed at the finish. Braden Direct went to a break then Eagan, but Earl Jr. after the gray fellow on the far turn.

Braden Direct made his followers feel well in the second mile by racing out in front on reaching the backstretch, but when Milroy turned his racing machine loose at the three-quarters, pacing in even time was more than Direct could attend to and mind the footing. As the horse from Western Canada overhauled him he took the challenge on the run, and when he caught the race was over and Hal D. Jr. had second money tucked away.

Horse and Cattle Show

The record attendance at the fair yesterday was limited only by the capacity of the steam and street railways to transport the people. This was especially true of the attendance from the Merrimack valley cities, Lowell in particular. There were not cars enough to accommodate the people, but Lowell people as a rule, are getting used to that.

Shortly after noon Gov. Samuel D. Parker arrived accompanied by Mrs. Feltner and his staff. They were met by the fair management in autos and taken along the track before the grandstand, headed by the band. The governor then made a speech from the grandstand congratulating the management on the high success of the fair.

Massachusetts was represented by Mrs. Eugene Foss and daughters of the governor's family. The distinguished guests were shown through the exhibits and midway before their departure.

The judging of the cattle was not completed on account of the interruption caused by the animals parading the track again in the afternoon. The tests of working oxen and steers will be made today.

In the Holstein class, W. P. Tucker won the prize for the best herd; F. F. Knowles of Auburn, Mass., second.

In the Hereford class, G. W. Carroll of Jackson, Conn., Pa., won for the best herd with Warren McCray of Kentland, Ind., second.

For best breeders, young herd, McCray won, with Carroll and Son second. The horse show had a brilliant day. The jumping classes, the big class won by Vanderbilt's Sir James, 15.1-1-3 hands, and the four-in-hands, driven by women, being most attractive to the spectators. Elmhurst, a hunter, with the highest record in the world, 8 ft. 1 in., is in the string by Clifford Sifton from Ottawa. The awards of the horse show:

AMERICAN HYDROPLANE TO CONTEST FOR TROPHY

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Disturber I. L. L., the 40-foot hydroplane, owned by Commodore James E. Pugh of Chicago, was named today as one of three boats which will be sent across the Atlantic in an effort to regain from England the Lord Farnsworth trophy. The selection was made following the Disturber's performance yesterday in the preliminary heats of the free-for-all speed boat championship run under the auspices of the Associated Yacht and Power Boat clubs of America. The craft will be sent with Count Manowski's Ankle Deep and one other not yet selected. The Disturber averaged only a fraction better than 12 miles an hour for the 14 miles, running in a choppy sea, but experts hold that the boat is capable of much more speed.

MARGERY W. PHELPS

Will Marry Francis W. Bird

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Miss Margery Willard Phelps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Phelps of 256 Commonwealth avenue, called at the office of the registry department yesterday and gave the notice required by law of her intended marriage to Francis W. Bird, son of Charles S. Bird of Walpole, the progressive candidate for governor. The engagement was announced about a month ago.

Miss Phelps' father is treasurer of the George Frost Company. She is 31 years old and was born in West Newton. She is a member of the Vincent club of Boston, but is best known as a golfer, being considered one of the best woman golfers of Massachusetts.

As a representative of the Brae-Burn club of Newton she has since 1905 or earlier taken part annually in the tournaments for the women's United States golf championship, and has always given an exhibition of good play. In 1908, she was one of the four Boston women to enter the tournament of the Ladies' Golf union of Great Britain at St. Andrews, Scotland. In 1906 she was chosen secretary of the Women's Golf association of Boston.

Miss Phelps is at Winona, a summer resort in Barnstable, near Otterville, and there the ceremony will be performed, possibly next week. The law requires a notice of intentions at least seven days before issuance of the license.

Mr. Bird is 32 years old and was born in East Walpole. He was graduated from Harvard college in 1904 and from Harvard law school in 1906. That year he passed the Massachusetts bar examinations, and for three years he was assistant United States district attorney in the southern district of New York under Henry L. Stimson. In 1908 he had been admitted to the New York bar, and in December, 1909, he was made a special assistant to Mr. Stimson in the investigation of sugar frauds and other matters in the customs service.

This work kept him occupied until the fall of 1910, and the following March he was named as speaker of the Port of New York, succeeding George W. Wanamaker. This position, however, he resigned in July, 1912, to join the newly organized progressive party. His home is in New York, where he has business interests, and he is member of several clubs and, like Miss Phelps, is fond of athletics.

Breaks Golden Silence
ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Breaking his rule of silence, Governor Sulzer assured a delegation of Hebrew sympathizers at the executive chamber today that "when my story is told—and it will be told, there will be nothing in my private life or public career of which I will have anything to be ashamed."

My 8th Semi-Annual Clean-Up Sale

TWO DAYS ONLY

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

This is—as usual—a complete clearance of my entire Spring and Summer stock, some fall weights, at prices which bear little relation to cost, former price or value, for neither this nor any of my other stores ever carries anything over from one season to another.

I keep my stock complete right up to the end of our regular selling season, after which everything goes at extreme reductions from former low prices, giving every man and mother's son a chance to pick from the finest custom clothing wools, that the market affords, at big and real savings of good, hard money, as the items below bear witness, and as every regular patron of this popular store knows.

This is unquestionably the season's greatest Clean-up Sale—a good clothes event that no man who needs a Suit of Clothes or a pair of pants can afford to miss.

Next week I start my Overcoat campaign for Fall and Winter—watch for my announcement. I just closed a deal, buying 160 pieces of Coatings, the best this country knows how to make—in plaid backs, novelties, Meltons and Kerseys—the name of this mill I will tell you later, but don't forget me Today and Tomorrow—I want to make room for this stock.

Mr. Reader—I've been for years the moving spirit of the brilliantly successful Mitchell stores. My styles, ideas, my advertising, my window displays, my doorways, merchandising methods are copied far and wide. Some of the most prominent stores of Boston are this season showing fabrics, patterns and models that I originated and introduced to the public through my stores years ago. All this may sound egotistical, and I'll be criticized generally by my competitors for it—but facts are facts.

I have only two days for this sale. I dare not let anything stand in the way of success, unhampered by anyone, untroubled by any thought of profit. I have simply slaughtered prices—and if values can produce results, my store at 24 Central Street should be crowded to the doors from the first hour of this announcement.

for Voting to Impeach Governor Sulzer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The assembly judiciary committee expected to have trouble today in running down a story that certain members of the lower legislative house received money for voting to impeach Gov. Sulzer. The committee had subpoenaed persons alleged to be responsible for the circulation of this story immediately after the impeachment, but they feared that the witnesses they desired might ignore the subpoenas or refuse to testify on the ground that the legislature was not properly constituted and had no legal standing at present. This is the point that Gov. Sulzer wanted threshed out in the courts. The men under subpoena are Louis A. Sarrecky, Sulzer's confidential clerk; Frederick L. Colwell, alleged agent for the impeached governor in various Wall street transactions; James C. Garrison, said to be one of Sulzer's press agents, and Lynn J. Arnold, publisher of an Albany newspaper and one of the governor's advisers.

CONGRESS ON SCHOOL HYGIENE

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The American and foreign delegates to the International Congress on School Hygiene, which will take place in this city next week, will be officially welcomed to the country, the state, the city and the congress itself on Monday. In this formality, which opens the deliberations of the congress, the federal government will be represented by Secretary of Labor Wilson; the state of New York by J. H. Finlay, the retiring president of the College of the City of New York, and recently elected state commissioner of education; the city of Buffalo by Mayor Fuhrmann, and the congress by Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university and president of the congress.

FOR MAYOR OF NEW YORK

Tammany's Selection for the Municipal Ticket

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Edward E. McCall, chairman of the state public service commission for this district, announced today that he would accept the democratic designation as candidate for mayor of New York. Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader, asked Mr. McCall early today, at the conclusion of a long conference, organization leaders, if he would head Tammany's selection for the municipal ticket. Mr. McCall requested a few hours time to consider. Whether Mr.

FIVE PASSENGERS HURT

In a Train Wreck Near
Pa. State Line

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 22.—The eastern express from Chicago to New York, over the Pittsburgh-Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad, was wrecked near Leontia, Ohio, not far from the Pennsylvania state line, this morning, and five passengers were hurt. A truck under a day coach broke, derailing that car and three Pullmans following. The injured passengers were in the Pullmans.

Who Retard Progress of Others in the Grades

Superintendent Hugh J. Molloy of the public schools has a plan in mind to better the education of the children who are decidedly over age for their grades, and the same was presented at the adjourned meeting of the school board last night, but no action was taken. Mr. Molloy believes one building of four rooms preferably should be taken as a school for backward pupils, for he is of the opinion that the plan which takes an entire school for special work is better than the plan which places a special class in each of a number of schools.

Mr. Molloy, in conversation with the writer this morning gave out the following statement relative to his plan:

"Much has been said during recent years on the matter of retardation in the elementary schools; there are many causes to be considered, and various remedies are suggested. We have been trying during the year just closed to do something with backward pupils by giving small groups of such pupils to the permanent substitutes who have been assigned to the various school districts.

"It is my firm belief that one building in this district, preferably a building of four rooms, should be taken as a special school for the children of that district who are decidedly over age for their grades; that for these children special work should be done in the three Rs, the things in which their deficiency is most noted when promotion is under consideration.

"It is by no means intended that such a school should be in any sense a school for defective children, but, rather, that it should be a school for children who require particular attention in order that they may not fall behind in the branches on which regular progress depends.

"If the matter can be made so plain that it will be understood that the school is intended only for the purpose of being particularly helpful to a large number of children who are in nearly every respect practically normal, I feel that there will be no objection on the part of parents to sending their children to the school.

"The plan could be perfected and put in operation during the first month of the school year.

"The number of children in the seven buildings referred to was 800 in the first week report of September, 1912.

"Furthermore I am inclined to believe that whether such a plan is in operation elsewhere or not, some such plan will be followed in cities where the district is compact and the number of children is large; and I feel confident that an earnest whole hearted trial of the plan will bring good results."

ROCKINGHAM FAIR

The unexpected and very unusual amount of enthusiasm which has been aroused here by the Great Rockingham fair, as evidenced by the unprecedented crowds that flock there daily and the public discussion of it on all sides, argues for a renewal of widespread appreciation for healthy amusement. In these degenerate times of moving pictures and musical comedies it is very refreshing to see that what pertains to the farm and open country still has charms for most people. It is singular, but true nevertheless, that country fairs, horse races and exhibitions of cattle or farm produce have become associated with old-fashioned ideas which we in our superiority have outgrown. We are more apt to be thrilled with the more artificial and far less beneficial excitements of an automobile race or an aviation meet. But there must be a revulsion of feeling sometime and the present interest in the great Rockingham fair may be an indication that the public is wearying of the shoddy attractions of artificial things and finds respite, instruction and amusement in the natural things that our fathers loved.

Enjoyment of cattle shows or agricultural fairs has some subtle essence that elevates and rejuvenates us. We may live in a street of terraces a mile long and all our business interests may be hedged round revolving wheels or swinging hammers, but there is an appeal in groups of bleated cattle or great piles of agricultural produce which stirs a deep primitive note in most of us. It may be that the man of the woods and the caves is still dormant in our blood or it may be that Rockingham fairs are like pictures from the nursery books of time; but certain it is that horses that rush by with the speed of the wind make us realize the breathless desire of the charioteers of old, and the patient eyes of the cows preach sermons of the vanity of a too great coveting of earthly and transitory things. Wholesome thoughts spring from enjoyment of wholesome things, and the world is made better and brighter by its Rockingham fairs.

A WAR LOBBY

As time goes on it looks more and more as though the president was pretty sure of his ground when he intimated that part of the difficulty of reaching an amicable settlement with Mexico is due to the existence and ceaseless activity of a war lobby. He made the statement fully conscious of the fact that a former accusation of his of a similar nature was immediately followed by a congressional investigation, which by the way revealed that he spoke neither in haste nor through ignorance. He must have taken into account the possibility of a like issue in the war lobby imputation, and he did not hesitate to accept the responsibility for his assertion. Events of the past few days ought to convince us that there is some insincere power back of the Mexican authorities, and it is as likely to be a war lobby as anything else.

In dealing generally with the possible and probable existence of a war lobby, and particularly with the recent "story" from Mexico, the Portland Express has the following:

"It is not difficult to read between the lines. The intent of the story was, of course, to arouse public sentiment in this country to a point where our resentment might lead to hasty action of some kind, action that would have intensified the feeling of hostility between the two peoples. Fortunately, however, the denial came in time and anyway public opinion in the United States does not make for any war with Mexico."

Some of the most prominent papers in the country condemn this war lobby, which is persistently spreading false reports and painting war clouds on the horizon. President Wilson has already discovered the influence of this lobby and his knowledge will cause him to steer clear of its snares.

LOBBYING

In a recent article in the Saturday Evening Post, Ex-Speaker Cannon calls attention to the danger of classing all lobbying with the pernicious methods only too clearly revealed in the recent congressional investigations. Any lobby which would effect its ends by bribes or threats is of course deserving of the strongest condemnation, but there has been lobby activity which has sought to effect legislation by fair and honorable means, and this species of lobby instead of being a detriment or hindrance to justice is a help and ought to be respected and fostered. Unfortunately at the present time owing to the recent malodorous disclosures, the term "lobby" in itself has come to be regarded with suspicion. This is to be regretted. Much, very much crooked work has been done under the heretofore innocent guise of the harmless lobby, but honest, effective and constructive work has also been accomplished. Those who have grossly abused the lobby game have endangered the reputation of all who have at any time engaged in it. When reform comes, as it certainly must, it is to be hoped that the distinction drawn by Mr. Cannon will be remembered. The bribe-giving and threatening lobbyist must be thwarted, but it ought to be possible to do this without excluding those who strive to give legislators guidance and assistance with honest intent.

THE THAW CASE

Harry K. Thaw is now an international issue. The governor of New York has appealed to Secretary of State Bryan to use his influence with the Canadian and British authorities in hastening the deportation of Thaw. There is no criminal charge against Thaw, although at first he was charged with conspiracy, a most comical accusation to bring against a judicial loner just escaped from an asylum for the criminal insane. The Canadian authorities will doubtless order him deported on the ground that he is an undesirable person; and although the advertisement of his getting $25,000 to fight the case may appeal to some hungry lawyers, we do not believe it will have any effect upon the action of the courts. Thaw will soon be back in Matagawan in spite of all his efforts to secure his freedom. The vast majority of the people of this country are tired reading of Thaw, his money, and his attempts to escape.

CREDITABLE TO SUPT. WELCH

To the police of Lowell comes the credit of trapping two of the most noted white slave agents that have appeared in New England. Richards had piled his nefarious business in different cities but escaped undetected until he began to operate in the vicinity of Lowell. Richards, thanks to the efforts of the Lowell police, is now awaiting trial in the federal courts. Another case fully as important was that of Millard Kutsomkos, who had operated as far west as St. Louis without police interference. But when he reached Lowell he was quickly spotted by the police and finally arrested. The developments in his case showed the manner in which he victimized Miss Hight, a simple girl from the state of Maine. Supt. Welch, who rounded up Kutsomkos, deserves great credit for his vigilance in catching crooks of all kinds as soon as they strike the city.

CARS PASSING THE DEPOT

It frequently happens that when a lot of passengers get off a train at the Middlesex street station, they have to wait about twenty minutes for a car and then three or four cars will come all in a bunch running in the same direction. A correspondent sends in a complaint that shortly after 8 o'clock last Saturday night he got off a train and waited about twenty minutes or over for a car to the square, when there came trooping together three cars marked respectively "Tyngsboro," "North Chelmsford," and "High Street." Why could not the running time of these cars be so arranged that they will pass the depot at reasonable intervals apart?

HUERTA'S RETORT

President Huerta of Mexico says President Wilson is not backed by public sentiment in the United States in his attitude towards the new Mexican regime. That is the charge which President Wilson has made against the Huerta government in Mexico and in this he does not stand alone for other governments have refused to recognize the present Mexican government until it is endorsed by the Mexican people. That is the proper stand to take and it should be firmly maintained to the last.

Authorities who have in charge some of England's ancient treasures try to discourage the habit of carving initials on these relics. A fine of $15 was recently imposed on a man who had chipped his name in letters six inches high on one of the stones in the "Druids' Circle" near Keswick. Close to the giant stone globe at Swage a special club is provided for the harmless reception of the names of all who are addicted to this self advertisement. On popular Alpine summits it is customary for names to be left on cards in crumpled wine bottles.

Speaking of the celebration in this country in honor of the victory of Perry and his men on Lake Erie a century ago, the London Times is moved to make a mild suggestion that it would be a good thing for the United States to commemorate some of the numerous defeats that it suffered in the second war with Great Britain. There is merit in the suggestion. It would be well for this nation, and for any nation to celebrate or at least, to observe, the anniversary of some great reverses as it is accustomed to observe those of its notable victories. Such observance would have a chastening and sobering influence, of which there is obviously occasional need when jingoism and boastfulness get rampant.

The remainder of the London Times that the British people are accustomed to join the Americans in England in celebrating the Fourth of July shows that it is possible for a people to observe in a very good spirit the anniversary of a national humiliation and blunder as well as of its notable victories. Still, an annual Anglo-American banquet in Washington, for example, in honor of the collapse of the American invasion of Canada or of the burning of the national capital would hardly prove so successful as the independence day banquets in London have come to be.

The second war with Great Britain was full of things which we Americans are not accustomed to dwelling upon. It had many naval victories, to be sure, and there was the notable land victory of Jackson and his famous march on New Orleans. But the invasion of Canada was a miserable fiasco, and there were numerous defeats due to incompetent leaders and cowardly troops. In New England, toward the militia in some cases, refused to leave their states for service outside in defense of the common country. There was by no means a united American people in support of the war.

It is only human nature to minimize all these and the other unpleasant features of the war and to celebrate the brilliant exploits of our sailors, but beyond question the Times is right when it dwells on a certain usefulness which has resulted from the national defeats and in taking their grim lessons to heart.—Boston Herald.

THE LION'S RIDE

The lion is the desert's king through his domain so wide. Right swiftly and right royally this monarch he means to ride. By the sedge brink, where the wild herds drink, close crouches the grim chief; The trembling sycamore above whistles with every leaf.

At evening on the Table Mount, when you can see no more The changing play of signals gay; When the gloom is speckled o'er With twinkling lights of Caffre wiles, Home through the lone karoo, When the bushbuck in the thicket sleeps and by the stream thegnu.

Then bend your gaze across the waste—what see ye? The giraffe, Majestic stalks toward the lagoon, The turbid lymph to quaff; With outstretched neck and tongue aloft, he kneels him down to cool.

His hot thirst with a welcome draft From the foul and brackish pool. A rustling sound, a roar, a bound—the lion sits astride. Upon the giant courser's back. Did ever king so ride, Had ever king a steed so rare, caparisoned of state.

To match the dappled skin whereon that rider sits elate? In the muscles of the neck his teeth are plunged with ravenous greed; His tawny mane is tossing round the withers of the steed. Up leaping with a hollow yell of anguish and surprise, Away, away, in wild dismay, the caméléopard flies.

His feet have wings; see how he springs across the moonlit plain. As from their sockets they would burst his glaring eyeballs strain; In thick black streams of purring blood, full fast his life is pouring. The stillness he, the stillness he, his heart's tumultuous beating.

Like the cloud that through the wilderness the path of Israel traced—like an air-plume dull and wan, a spirit of the waste—From the sandy sea uprising, as the waterspout from ocean, A swirling cloud of dust keeps pace with the courser's fiery motion.

Croaking companion of their flight, the culture whirs on high; Below, the terror of the fold, the panther Herce and str. And hyenas foul, round graves that brenas join in the horrid race; By the footprints wet with gore and sweat, the swart monarch's course they trace.

They see him on his living throne, and quake with fear, the while With low steel hoofs he paces piecemeal his cushion's piled pile. On! on! no pause, no rest, graffe, while life and strength remain! The steed by such a rider backed may madly plunge in vain.

Reeling upon the desert's verge, he falls, and breathes his last; The courser, stained with dust and foam, is a fell beast. O'er Madagascare, eastward far, a falcon dash is described— Thus nightly, o'er his broad domain, the King of beasts doth ride. The German of Ferdinand Freilicht.

In New Bedford

New Bedford Standard: The mayor asked for the adoption of some regulations so that the people who use the streets would proceed in good order instead of driving wildly as is the prevailing custom. Good, let him persist until we get them. The mayor asks that "some live traffic cops be stationed at some of the prominent corners, and that the rules of the road are observed and that drivers move corners according to the regulations." Let no time be lost in bringing this about.

Good Manners

Providence Tribune: Good manners give a boy a value which he cannot possess without them, says Lord Rosebery; they give him a start over other boys who do not acquire them and they keep him ahead when perhaps able boys fall. They also, it may be added, incidentally contribute to the happiness of the world. Always, says Lord Rosebery, give him a start over other boys who do not acquire them and they keep him ahead when perhaps able boys fall. They also, it may be added, incidentally contribute to the happiness of the world.

Tied Down

Springfield Union: From Connecticut comes the sad tidings that instead of speaking in Hartford on Sept. 1, V. S. Marshall will observe Labor day by putting in a full day's work as presiding officer of the United States senate. It is extremely hard for him to tie down to his work in this manner, and it is not to be doubted that Mr. Marshall has the heartfelt sympathy of Secretary Bryan, who is a fellow sufferer in that respect.

Worse Than Useless

Burlington Free Press: It is worse than useless to become excited over any report of prospective trouble in the part of Mexico. It is more than half likely to take it all back the next day, or to protest he never said it.

Coloing Experience

Fall River Globe: It transpires that while Gov. Sulzer was preaching a crusade for the reform of Wall street he was at the very time secretly playing the stock market, which was hardly consistent although his experience may have impressed him with the desirability of having the law throw some measure of protection on the man who, like himself, was enduring the discomforts of being fleeced in that district.

Money and The Law

Lawiston Sun: What is most disagreeable about the Thaw escape is that it seems to have been made possible by money. The man without means would not have two automobiles awaiting him, manned and equipped to make a sudden dash for liberty. For he will be convinced that this is not a case of conspiracy and corruption made possible by abundant cash, a case of defeat of justice with money.

Trees and Curbing

Fall River Herald: People who know the trees which line Hanover street will join in the expression of regret over the curbing there if the laying of curbing there is going to enrage those trees. They are among the finest in the city, and their removal would be a loss to the locality as well as to the people who pass through the street. We dare say that none of the residents and very few thoughtful persons among the regular or transient pedestrians would get more satisfaction out of a curbed sidewalk at that point than they would of the removal of the trees there, and if that is the case, what is the use of threatening their growth and perhaps their life by resort to the trouble and expense of laying the curbing?

Before 40

Manchester Mirror: A Pittsburgh financier has just declared that of the 500 richest men in America not fifty made their fortunes before 40. He said that there is an instinctive feeling among financiers that the younger man, however successful he may have proved, and however brilliant his prospects, is not to be implicitly trusted.

Quinté Human

Foster's Democrat: The interesting and amusing information comes from London that of the multitude of doctors now attending there the medical congress about two hundred have so far refused to attend because they are sick. This goes to confirm a previous widespread suspicion that doctors are quite human.

A State Joke

Newburyport Herald: The best of the political prognosticators have been all at sea as to the threatened loss of the governorship in the republican primaries. Now it seems to be a toss-up as to whether the governor's lieutenant was neglected and whether the "old boy" was not in the other one of the jokes on the politicians and the newspapers.

ARGUMENT FOR PENSIONS

Boston Letter Carriers Will Use Descriptive Condition of "Joe" Jefferson as an Illustration

Great interest exists among the letter carriers in the National convention of the National Letter Carriers' Association at San Francisco next week, when an effort will be made to pass a Federal law in the next Congress to provide a pension for superannuated clerks and letter carriers.

For several years the employees of the department have been agitating such a law, and at the coming convention the delegates from Massachusetts will be asked to take up the matter as an illustration of the dire want of old age or when incapacitated after years of labor the case of one "Joe" Jefferson, who, after 42 consecutive years of service at the Boston Central office, was stricken with paralysis. The case of Jefferson appears especially pathetic as he is completely helpless physically. When stricken he was engaged in the rush of the Christmas mail, he having been chief dispatcher for many years. His devoted wife, who, nearly as old as himself—"Joe" is about 65—has stood steadfastly by his side refusing to be helped in any way, but providing for him at a hospital. Their scant savings are now exhausted.

Under the present regulations there is no provision whatsoever by the government to meet such cases. Postmaster Mansfield and old associates of Jefferson added him of late in keeping the wolf from the door, and as Congressmen Curley, Murray, Fox and Mitchell have become interested in the case of Jefferson, Congress will probably be asked to provide a gratuity in his behalf should an act for the general aid of postal employees fail of passage.

HOSPITAL CAN'T LOSE PATIENT

Has Been There a Year—Police Are Called In

Walsh Said He'd Stick Around Until He Was Cured

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—The serving of a trespass warrant and the calling in of the police yesterday, was necessary before Thomas Walsh could be removed from his cot in the Grace hospital.

Walsh had been a patient there since March 25, 1912, when, while at work in the Fore River works at Quincy, he had been caught in a machine and whirled around a shafting until some of his fellow workmen had shut off the power.

"I came to this place in a stretcher and I'll be taken from it in a stretcher, or I'll stick around here until I'm cured."

Such was Walsh's statement to a hospital official, who several days ago asked the man to leave the institution.

He made a similar reply to the officer who presented him with the trespass warrant yesterday, and not only did he refuse to leave his cot, but even would not put on his clothing. As the result it devolved upon the officer and the hospital attendants to dress the man and carry him to a waiting car, which conveyed him to the courthouse.

As the result of the accident 17 months ago, Walsh's chest was crushed, his left side bruised, and his left leg fractured in several places, above and below the knee.

The diagnosis of his condition was followed by the signing of a mutual agreement between Walsh and the Fore River Company, whereby, upon receipt of a small financial consideration and the agreement of the company to bear all medical and hospital expenses until he was cured, the injured man released all claims against the company.

That was 17 months ago. Now save for scars, the injuries to the chest and body have healed, but the fractured leg, thus far, has failed to mend. For this failure, the hospital authorities blame Walsh, and Walsh, in turn, blames the hospital.

Say He Criticized

But this had very little to do with the warrant for trespassing, according to the hospital authorities. Representatives of that institution state that aside from making uncomplimentary remarks about the ability of hospital physicians, he used bad language to the nurses, and conducted himself in such a manner that he became a nuisance to other patients and to everybody in the institution.

On the latter scores, the hospital, some time ago, told Walsh he must leave the institution. This Walsh refused to do. Then the hospital notified the Fore River company. Still, Walsh remained in the hospital. Finally he was served with notice that he was a trespasser. The company 10 days allowed to elapse before further action could take place, ended yesterday, and it was as the result of this that Walsh was haled before the courts.

VERY WELL SPLICED

Couple Married Each Other 11 Times

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 22.—To be married to each other 11 times since 1909 has been the novel experience of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernon, who are at Braddock Heights. The marriage ceremonies have been performed in as many different countries.

Asked why he and his wife had been married so often, Vernon said it was a sort of hobby with them and they took the step as a precaution because in some countries marriages performed in others are not recognized.

He and his wife first married in Columbus, O., in 1909; then in Montreal in 1910; in England, Scotland, Wales, France, Germany, Belgium and Russia in 1911; in Sydney, Australia, in 1912, and in Vera Cruz, Mex., in 1913. They held marriage certificates of all these weddings and the display is unique.

In some of the countries where they were married they did not understand a word the officiating clergyman was saying, but simply nodded their heads when they thought the time had come to make the response.

They speak French and German.

TEWKSBURY

The fire which is burning in the past between Wameet and the Centre railroad station still continues to give the local fire warden considerable work at times. Several calls for assistance in fighting the flames were sent in the past few days. The heavy fogs of the past few nights have prevented the smoke from rising, making the air very thick.

What might have proven a serious accident occurred Tuesday morning, when a horse which had been brought to the local blacksmith shop became frightened at a passing motor cycle, throwing one of the occupants from the carriage and doing considerable damage to the vehicle before the animal was stopped. The occupant of the carriage escaped with a few bruises and a severe shaking up.

Mrs. John Watson and daughter and the Misses Huth and Doris Tingley are at the Tingley cottage at Plum Island for one week.

The young brothers of the Novillate are to return the middle of next week from Boothbay Harbor, Maine, where they have spent their entire summer vacation.

Card of Thanks

The undersigned wish to express publicly their sincere thanks to those who assisted them in any way during their recent bereavement in the death of their beloved son and brother Adelard Dellise who died at Fort Raymond, Mexico. Also for the beautiful floral offerings sent. Especially do they wish to thank John Jacob Rogers, Esq., through whose efforts the body was shipped to Lowell for burial. All will ever be held in loving remembrance by Antoine Dellise and family, 22 Second street.

An Innovation

Two fast elevators always running and the other up-to-date features of the new Sun building are an innovation for Lowell and the patrons of the North street leave Saturday for Cape Cod.

WILL ATTEMPT TO CROSS ATLANTIC

In Fourteen Foot Sloop — Men Familiar With the Sea Will Take a Chance

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Lawrence J. Moran and Joseph Higgins, two young men of the East Boston district, start today on their attempt to cross the Atlantic in a 14-foot sloop. The two skippers intend to make Liverpool their destination and hope to cover the 3500 odd miles in about four months' time. The first leg of the trip is to Provincetown, from which port they will sail along the New England coast to Newfoundland, and then across the Atlantic in the path of the ocean liners from which they plan to draw their provisions and drinking water, as only about enough for two weeks can be carried on their craft at one time. The 14ft. sloop, a mainsail with three sets of reefing points and a leg of jib, is a storm sail, constitute their sailing equipment. A sea anchor, four life belts and two sets of oilskins are also a part of their outfit. Both men have followed the sea from boyhood and have carefully planned the trip, which if successfully completed, will be the first time that such a feat has been accomplished.

INSURANCE MEN CRITICIZE GOVERNMENTS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 22.—The convention of the American Life Association, which has been in progress here since Tuesday, will be concluded late today with the election of officers. The 1914 convention will be held in Dallas, Tex. Criticism of state governments for the alleged unfair tax imposed upon insurance companies, has characterized the meeting. The convention also went on record as opposed to group insurance, advocated a reduction in medical examination fees and denounced as unethical the methods employed by some agents in attempting to create unfavorable sentiment against competing companies.

BOMB WAS ANYTHING BUT HOAX

The Fuse of Bomb Found Below Mayor Gaynor's Window in N. Y. City Hall Was Lighted

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—A piece of bright-colored cambric was the principal clue today in the investigation of the city hall bomb mystery. The cloth was wrapped around the four sticks of dynamite found yesterday in an arway in the city hall below Mayor Gaynor's window. The bomb was anything but a hoax, for the fuse had been lighted and had gone out just before the spark reached the detonator. An explosion probably would have caved in the side of the building. The detectives, however, cannot decide whether the dynamite was meant for the mayor or someone in the marriage license bureau, which was even nearer than the mayor's office, or was planted as a protest against the city government in general. The cambric wrapper directed search today among Italian workmen employed in blasting out the new subway. A shaft of the subway opens near the city hall. The cambric was of a kind popular among Italian women of the working class. The dynamite was too carefully arranged to have been left on the spot by accident.

STATUES AND MEMORIALS FOR WOMEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Intended as a harbinger of woman's political emancipation, Senator Jones of Washington has offered a bill setting aside a space in the proposed plaza between the capitol and the Union station solely for raising statues and memorials to women. He would have it known as the "Parthenon." Senator Jones has the support of other members of congress who come from suffragette states. Anyway, the bill has been introduced.

HANDS BAD WITH SALT RHEUM

Brooklyn, Me.—"A few years ago my hands were very badly afflicted with salt rheum. At first there was an eruption of small water pimples on the inside of the fingers, and by not paying any attention to the humor my hands gradually became worse and began to itch and burn and one after another cracks appeared around the nails, on the inside of the fingers and on the bend of the joints until I was discouraged, as they were very painful and sore. I had to omit work that required putting my hands in water and could hardly work at all on account of the bleeding cracks. "I finally procured some Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I found by washing my hands in quite warm water and Cuticura Soap that they were improving. I began wrapping my fingers nightly in pieces of soft linen, after a good application of Cuticura Ointment which was very soothing. In a month my hands were completely cured and I have never been afflicted with the trouble since." (Signed) Mrs. G. L. Parker, Nov. 22, 1912.

When you buy a fine toilet soap think of the advantages Cuticura Soap possesses over the most expensive toilet soap ever made. In addition to being absolutely pure and refreshingly fragrant, it is delicately yet effectively medicated, giving you two soaps in one, a toilet and a skin soap at one price. Sold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

22—Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

REGULAR OLD CUTUP

Runs Away at 95 for Birthday Fun

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—A very old man, well dressed and prosperous looking, went up to Police Sergeant Bernard Smythe yesterday afternoon at Fifty-third street and Third avenue and, after mumbling something which the sergeant couldn't understand, pulled a pad from his pocket and wrote on it:

"I am lost."

Smythe led him to the East Fifty-first street station, where after a rest he recovered his speech. "I am Prof. A. C. Cooper," he said, "and I live in Flushing, L. I., with my son-in-law, John M. Moe. This is my birthday. I am 110 years old. I started in to town this morning to celebrate and get lost. If you'll just put me on a trolley car for Flushing I'll be all right, because everybody out there knows me."

His request was granted, and he reached his home in South Parson avenue an hour or so afterward. His relatives had just begun to worry about him.

"The professor is not old, but he is really 95," said Mr. Moe. "He likes to pretend he's older than he is. He usually has his valet with him when he leaves the house, but this morning he got away unattended. He is none the worse for his adventure."

Prof. Cooper was a manufacturing chemist in New England for many years, but retired long ago with a comfortable fortune.

LABOR DAY PARADE

Unions Draw Lots for Position in Line

FIVE LOWELL BANDS SECURED FOR THE DAY

First Division Will Be Made Up of Delegates to E. and L. Council and the Smaller Unions

An enthusiastic meeting of the Trades and Labor council was held last night at 22 Middlesex street with President Rourke in the chair. The principal business to come before the meeting was the drawing of lots for the Labor day parade between the many organizations which are scheduled to appear in line on that day.

Present at the meeting was a delegation from the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Street Railway Men's union, No. 260, who were welcomed as fraternal delegates. Philip J. Byrne of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union and Charles Morris of the United Hatters of America addressed the gathering. It was announced relative to the Labor day parade that the first division will be composed of delegates to the Trades and Labor council and the smaller organizations that do not have banners of their own, which will take positions in alphabetical order. The second division will be composed of miscellaneous unions, while the building trades will compose the third division.

The drawing of lots resulted as follows:

Second division—No. 1, city employees; 2, coal teamsters; 3, brewery workers; 4, bartenders; 5, street railway men; 6, loomfixers; 7, leather workers.

Third division—No. 1, carpenters; 2, painters; 3, molders; 4, building laborers; 5, machinists; 6, stationary firemen; 7, engineers.

The first division will form on Middle street, right resting on Central street. The second division will form on Market street, right resting on Central street. The third division will form on Jackson street, right resting on Central street. The parade will start at 9:30 o'clock sharp. The route will be announced at the meeting of the Labor day committee next Thursday evening.

The aides to the chief marshal that have not received information as to where they can procure their uniforms can receive said information at headquarters Saturday evening.

The council has secured the services of the five Lowell bands for the parade, also the O. M. I. Cadet drum corps of Lowell, and the Eighth regiment drum corps of Lawrence.

After transacting considerable business of a routine nature, the council adjourned.

LABOR MEN PLEASED

With Attitude of Mayor and Council

The members of the new lodge of machinists recently organized in this city are elated over the action of the council at one of its recent meetings relative to the amendment to the city ordinances which provide that educational literature may under proper supervision be distributed upon the streets of the city.

At a noon day meeting yesterday, attended by about 1000 machinists, Organizer Young read a letter, which he had been asked by the machinists to present, expressing their appreciation of the attitude taken by the mayor and other members of the council, and it was voted unanimously to forward the letter to the mayor. The letter:

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 22, 1913. Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Mayor of the City of Lowell, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: I am instructed by a unanimous vote of our new lodge of machinists to convey to you their heartfelt appreciation of the uniformly fair attitude taken by you toward us and the American Federation of Labor in our present successful campaign of organization.

We appreciate to the fullest extent the broad minded, courteous and liberal treatment accorded by Your Honor to the representative of our association and we especially desire to thank you for your efforts in behalf of the amendment to the city ordinances which provide that educational literature may under proper supervision be distributed upon the streets of the city.

FIRE ON STEAM YACHT SPREAD TO ISLANDS

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Fire that originated yesterday on board the steam yacht Pocahontas, owned by George Foster Peabody, the New York banker, spread to two nearby islands and destroyed the servants' quarters at Triana which is Mrs. Spencer Trask's summer home and a number of other buildings, burning up also the Pocahontas, two gasoline boats and four rowboats.

Mrs. Trask, authoress and widow of Spencer Trask, banker, was lying seriously ill in her home. She was taken to the main land in a launch and removed to the home of Mr. Peabody where she is now in a critical condition.

It is believed the fire was due to carelessness of employes on the Pocahontas.

OFFICERS DISCUSS AVIATOR'S 9000 FT. DROP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Officers of the army signal corps today are discussing the 9000 foot "slide" of Aviator C. Marvin Wood, who stopped his engine nearly two miles above the earth late yesterday and plunged down through the gathering dusk to a successful landing on the parade ground at Fort Myer, Va. His spectacular downward dash took only four minutes.

The officers were preparing to have beacon fires lighted to guide the aviator back to his landing place when Wood began his slide. He had been aloft one hour and forty minutes and had sailed above the Virginia hills and far out into Maryland before he decided to come down in his monoplane. Wood is demonstrating his monoplane for the army officials. The military air craft at present are all bi-planes.

BATTLESHIP SINKS GUNBOAT IN COLLISION

MALMO, Sweden, Aug. 22.—While the manoeuvres of the Swedish fleet were in progress in the sound this morning an armored ship collided with and sank a gunboat. No details have yet been received at the naval station here.

The battleship and the gunboat collided at a point to the westward of Hven, a Swedish island in the Sound eight miles south of Elsinore. The fate of the gunboat's crew is unknown.

The Cheerful Life

It is the right of everyone to live and enjoy the cheerful life. We owe it to ourselves and those who live with us to live the cheerful life. We cannot do so if ill health takes hold of us.

The wife, mother and daughter suffering from hot flashes, nervousness, headache, backache, dragging-down feeling, or any other weakness due to disorders or irregularities of the delicate female organs—is not only a burden to herself, but to her loved ones.

There is a remedy. Forty years experience has proven unmistakably that

TWO DEAD AS RESULT OF SUICIDE PACT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 22.—Roy Gross, 22, and an unidentified woman are dead here this morning as a result of what is believed to have been a suicide pact. Gross was dead when found and the woman was unconscious and died later at the city hospital without revealing her identity. Earl Pritchard, in whose home the tragedy occurred, found the couple lying with their arms about each other. Two glasses stood beside the bed. Gross roomed at the home of Pritchard and had been there only 10 days. The woman, so far as could be learned, had never been seen at the house until last night.

events of their three-day convention in this city, took place last evening in the banquet hall of Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street. There were addresses and speeches galore and a display of appetizing viands as notable for quantity as for the excellence of the quality. Though many of the delegates were unable to be present owing to side trips and various external influences, those who were fortunate in being present will long remember the spirit of harmony and genial brotherhood that prevailed throughout the evening.

At 8 p. m. the knights collected in the assembly hall of the convention and ranged themselves in two according to their rank. They then marched to the banquet hall and took up their respective positions. All speeches were postponed until the conclusion of the banquet proper, and this arrangement seemed to please the greater number of those whose appetites had been made keen by their tours of inspection throughout the city, in the cool of the afternoon.

Matthew Whelton, toastmaster of the committee, briefly introduced the toastmaster of the evening, John Barrett, sergeant major and secretary of the committee, who started the social session by calling on Sir Knight Marcotte for "La Marseillaise." At the conclusion of the song the toastmaster said he hoped the day would never come in America when it would be sung as it was sung at the French revolution. He welcomed the various delegates to Lowell and called their attention to the many interesting sights in Forestry many years ago, is still alive and vigorous. He assured those present that they would ever find him ready and willing to do all in his power to further the interests of the order.

Secretary Hears

The mayor's secretary, Jas. Hearn, representing Mayor O'Donnell and responding to the toast, "The Press," spoke as follows:

The gentleman to whom this toast was originally assigned, Mr. Lawrence Cummings, our commissioner of public buildings, and Boston Globe correspondent, was called out of town today, and he made no present his regrets at his inability to be present and his best wishes for the success and prosperity of your honorable order. He also made me make a few humble remarks in his place, and I assured him that they would be few and feeble.

When I entered the newspaper business quite a few years ago, each office had a reporter known as the "Hall Man," whose duties consisted of climbing innumerable flights of stairs to get fraternal news on meeting nights. When I was on that job it seemed to me that the societies always made a point to select the top floors of the highest buildings in the city, giving the preference to buildings without elevators. But times have changed. The city and newspapers have grown while the fraternal organizations have increased in numbers and influence and now the daily press presents columns of fraternal news and welcomes any amount of it. The fraternal order is an important factor in the daily life of the community. The spirit of fraternalism makes better men and better citizens. The mission of the press is to uphold the highest standards of citizenship, and appreciating the power for good that is wielded by such associations, the press is ever ready to encourage and assist them.

Dr. W. G. Smith of Ravenna, Ohio, supreme medical examiner, made a long and forceful address, contrasting conditions in his state with those here, and making many valuable suggestions as to the future of Forestry. "In Ohio," he said, "we cannot boast of our diversity of nationalities or of the crops of stones you raise on your farms, but we think just the same that we live in God's country. We cannot boast of your beautiful scenery, for our country is level, and New England is associated in our minds with pictures of wooded valleys and gentle hills. When we come here and go through the battlefields on which we fought the fights that won liberty for us all, and when we read the inscriptions on monuments and tablets, we feel that the places on which we stand is indeed holy." He then branched out into a discussion of fraternalism in general and the Foresters in particular, suggesting the formation of junior courts and many other reforms.

James D. Crooks spoke briefly, calling the attention of those present to the advantages of Lowell as a city in which to live and do business. He also extolled the fraternal spirit of all fraternities, and said that they were supplementing the churches in spreading the brotherhood of man. He spoke of the title of the branch of the Foresters in convention, referring to the history of Robin Hood and his followers in Sherwood Forest. From the example of the picturesque adventure he drew many salutary lessons.

George H. Brown of Rochester, N. Y., was the final speaker of the evening. He referred touchingly to the hospitality of the citizens of Lowell and the spirit of liberality and genuine friendship on all sides. In the name of the order he wished the city, its government and its people continued prosperity.

The Local Conclave
Following is the history of the local convocation as drawn up by the committee in charge of arrangements for the convention:

Thomas Talbot Conclave, 165, K. S. F., Uniform Branch and Third Degree of the Foresters of America, was instituted Nov. 29, 1891. The first seven members of the convocation who were the prime movers in organizing were men who had joined elsewhere, and were as follows: Michael F. Connolly of Court General Shields; Michael McMullin of Court General Shields; Lawrence J. Smith of Court City of Lowell; Denis O'Brien of Court Merrimack; James O'Brien of Court City of Lowell; James J. Gallagher of Court Merrimack; and Henry McManus of Court City of Fitchburg. All of these men were initiated in the convocation in the City of Worcester.

Everything went along harmoniously, and the first work done was to organize a degree team. This team worked the degrees in many courts and was called upon to attend out-of-town initiations in many places. Sir Knights Moss, McDougall, Rogers, McMullin, Bonan, Shields, Watkins, Monahan and Hoy were the men who had the key work of the order in hand. Most of these men are past commanders of the convocation. The first blow the convocation received was the death of one of their best workers, in the person of Lawrence J. Smith. The convocation has always been represented at all the supreme conventions since organizing, and have had many of their number in the supreme council. Frank Bonan, who was supreme inspector general for a number of years, and at present Sir Knight Thomas Moss of 105 is supreme inner guard, who is one of the best knights in the state. Many of the leading business men enjoy membership in Thomas Talbot convocation, and attend its meetings. The present officers headed by Commander Sir Knight Grady, and many others, including the fireless workers Sir Knights Jeremiah McIlhenny and Albert McDougall are bound to keep the convocation in its present good condition for many years to come. Sir Knights Whelton, Whelton and Albert McDougall, delegates to this convention, are men of wide experience in fraternal orders.

RICH ILLINOIS WOMAN

Held as Smuggler—14 Trunks Seized

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Mrs. William L. Velle, wife of the president of the Motor company of Maline, Ill., and her companion, Miss Mary J. Lilly, were arrested before United States Commissioner Edward R. Stanton at 91 River street, Hoboken, N. J., yesterday charged with attempting to smuggle jewelry and wearing apparel into this country. Certain officials believe that Mrs. Velle's undeclared jewelry and clothing may amount to $10,000.

Mrs. Velle was represented at her arraignment yesterday by former Senator John C. Spooner and Henry Jenner. She was ordered in their custody until a hearing on Monday at 2:30 p. m. by which time the contents of her 14 trunks will have been examined. Mrs. Velle with her daughter Margaret, 15 years old, and her companion Miss Lilly, arrived in New York on Monday on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. Mrs. Velle declared $245 worth of stuff for herself, her daughter and Miss Lilly. While on the pier Mrs. Velle got permission to leave the pier to do some shopping. Before she was allowed to go, however, the customs officers took away from her jewelry she was carrying in a case and her furs.

William R. Kraft was assigned to look over Mrs. Velle's trunks. He discovered more than $245 worth of stuff and ordered all of the trunks sent to the public stores except two small handbags which the women were permitted to take away.

The $300 worth of jewelry and wearing apparel were found in the appraisal of the trunks. The total will reach several thousand more, say the officials, who found receipts and invoices from the biggest houses in Paris.

Mrs. Velle had receipts for many purchases, including a lot of bronzes and lingerie. In her trunks were found diamond rings and watches set with diamonds and rubies. Customs inspectors watched her go from store to store while she was abroad this summer.

Mrs. Velle, who is an attractive woman of about 45, wouldn't say anything yesterday afternoon when she was released in Hoboken. She was dressed in a white flannel suit and white hat.

"Many Happy Returns!"—Members of Alimony Club Will Help Edward Celebrate His Birthday

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The invitations are out for Edward Pacey's birthday party. Mrs. Edward will not be present. She can't get in. He can't get out—at least, he can't without paying so much money that he wouldn't have the price of the party left.

The scene of the feast will be both inclusive and exclusive. Both the invited and the uninvited will be barred.

Time: Next Sunday morning. Form: Quail being present. Quarrel with your wife; leave her sue you for divorce and get the supreme court to order you to pay alimony; refuse to pay the court; then be incarcerated by the judge in his private jail at No. 70 Ludlow street and you're home.

Mrs. Pacey decided she didn't like the way Edward was acting around the house several weeks ago. She went through her part of the above formula and Edward did his share by refusing to pay the $15 a week the court ordered as temporary alimony. Julius got on the job and Edward became the twentieth current number of the ever-changing Alimony Club.

It occurred to Edward that he would be forty-five years old next Sunday. He consulted with Julius—Julius of the great, glowing, sympathetic heart. Would the sheriff permit the party? Would the sheriff be invited? He would. Could the sheriff make a speech? He could. The sheriff would permit the party.

Not a single sigh has been heard echoing through Ludlow street, because it's going to be a "stag" affair. Not one of the scores of debauched, dissipated men who have had full taste of the fickleness of matrimony, the wretchedness of romance, would have it otherwise. There are going to be toasts and not one of the twenty would

Desmarais' Truck Was a Good One But Too Old for the Trip—Two Men Had Fine Time on Boston Road

Edelmar S. Desmarais, the well known plumber and his brother-in-law, Auguste Jodoin, went to Boston in an automobile yesterday, but they did not return as quick as they expected, but of course they were not to blame, for the machine balked on the road, and it was several hours before it was started again. However, they returned the same day, and none the worse for their short but weary trip.

When the machine refused to work Mr. Jodoin was appointed special caretaker of the auto, while the other, Mr. Desmarais, boarded an electric car for Boston and returned a few hours later with a piece of machinery which replaced a much worn out one, and after struggling on the road for several hours the motor car entered the Hub city.

Mr. Desmarais purchased a new truck in Boston for his work, and made up his mind yesterday morning to take his old machine to the Hub city and return with the new car. In company with his brother-in-law he started on the short trip at 6 o'clock in the morning. The two men were to return by noon. In order to take their families to the Rockingham fair in Mr. Desmarais' touring car, but this part of the program had to be given up.

The old truck rolled along the Boston road as far as Billerica, but inasmuch as it has been better days, some part of the engine went wrong in the neighboring town, and although Mr. Desmarais worked on the auto for some time, it was impossible to start it. Finally the plumber appointed Mr. Jodoin a committee of one to sit in the machine and watch the same until he, Mr. Desmarais, went to Boston and returned. The first electric to the Bay state capital was boarded and it was four o'clock in the afternoon before the plumber returned to Billerica.

The engine was soon repaired and the party proceeded to Boston, where the machine was left. The return trip was made in the new touring car and the two men reached Lowell shortly after 10 o'clock last night somewhat fatigued but none the worse for their unexpected long trip.

LOWELL LOSES LEAD TO PORTLAND

As Result of Worcester Win—
Couldn't Hit Thomas and Lose,
6 to 1—Reiger Batted Hard

Lowell lost the league leadership yesterday and dropped back to third place when Worcester won the game, 6 to 1. Lowell never had a look-in after the third inning.

Reiger started on the mound for Lowell with Thomas as his opponent. Reiger lasted six innings and retired in favor of Maybohm with the score 6 to 1. Maybohm was only "found" for two hits during the remainder of the game.

Thomas pitched good ball, allowing Lowell but four hits. Aubrey, Magee, Miller and Deo were the batters who connected safely with his delivery. Miller scored Lowell's only run in the first inning. After Clemens had gone out on his liner to Stewart, Miller beat out an infield hit. DeGroff was safe on an error by Cooney and Miller took third. Miller scored on Magee's out, Reiger to McCune.

McCune and Pitcher Thomas did the bulk of Worcester's hitting. Twice the Worcester twirler slammed out hits in the pinches when Reiger grooved the ball for him. Lowell's three errors also worked against them. The score:

TRAVIS AND SCHMIDT, TWO EXTREMES IN GOLF,
READY FOR U. S. AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

GARDEN CITY, Aug. 22.—Two extremes in golf will meet here when the amateur golf championship of the United States is played for September 1-5, inclusive. Walter J. Travis, the famous golf veteran, will likely be the oldest competitor, while W. Heinrich Schmidt, the newest meteor in the golf world, will no doubt be the youngest. Travis has been playing the game for years and in the old warhorse of the links. Schmidt is only a schoolboy, but his brilliant playing in Scotland recently nearly landed him the British amateur championship there, being put out by Hilton on the last hole. The lad is in high school at Worcester, Mass. Both Travis and Schmidt are now here ready for the championship.

WOLFGANG A BASEBALL IDOL
Former Lowell Twirler Popular
With Denver Fans—Shuts Out
Sioux City With One Hit

"Mel" Wolfgang, well known to Lowell fans, is making a great hit in the middle west where he is pitching wonderful ball for Denver in the Western league. Denver is leading the race in that league and all the credit pitched four games one week and won every contest.

"Mel" is the most popular ball player who has ever played on a Denver team, according to newspaper reports from that city. Following is an article from a Denver daily which describes a one hit game Wolfgang pitched against Sioux City:

Sir Bruin Wolfgang should be barred forever from our midst. Sir Bruin Wolfgang has violated all rules of the week as laid down by the people of this Denver town; therefore the extreme punishment. "Welcome; the town is yours," the motto that has made our fair city thousands of new friends during the last three days, is not held to ridicule, the finger of scorn points on every hand. Nine sweet and luscious loaves of bread, our city yesterday. They asked not much. Just a wee hit here and a wee hit there to fatten their already slim basting averages. Did Sir Bruin Wolfgang hand 'em out from the horn of plenty? He did not. One mean, little hit was all that he gave these squaws and braves. Is this the spirit of the week?

On the other hand, what did Sir Bruin's playmates do? They took seven big healthy swipes at poor Loo Klein, collected his lone tally and turned him loose into the night. One hour and forty-five minutes of torture (for the poor Sox) for the result, Denver Drains 1, Sioux 0.

Sent to Tewksbury
BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Forcibly ejected from Grace hospital which he had refused to leave because during a treatment of 17 months he had not been made whole, Thomas Walsh, a cripple, will be committed to the state hospital at Tewksbury. This decision which, however, does not take into account the preference of the patient, who is a fighter though he has but a single leg to stand on, was reached today by the infirmary department of this city.

Despite the fact that the night was rather cool, there was a large attendance on the North common last evening, when one of the municipal band concerts was given by the American band, Emil J. Berges conductor. The program was a most pleasing one and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large gathering. The feature of the musical numbers was a piccolo solo by Z. I. Bissonnette, while the closing piece was "America," everybody joining in. It was close to 10 o'clock when the last number was given, and all present voted the concert one of the best of the series.

THE TENNIS ATTENTION
Of Country Centered in
Battle at Newport

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 22.—The tennis attention of the country centered today in the western and eastern battle on the Casino grand court between Champion Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco and former Title Holder William J. Clothier of Philadelphia in the sixth round of the all-comers' tournament.

Owing to the strength, versatility and experience of both players and the uncertainty of the other experts in this year's tournament, the match was generally regarded as one of the most decisive of the week, with the winner a probable strong favorite for the championship. The odds on McLoughlin today were 5 to 4 before the first service.

The two players have faced each other several times since McLoughlin's first quest for national and international renown, and while Clothier proved the master in the earlier matches, he fell before the Californian last year in the sixth round of the all-comers' tournament in four-set contest, the scores being 8-6, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

The Philadelphia has been a factor in national tournaments for over 10 years, winning the national title in 1906 after being a runner-up in the all-comers in 1903 and 1904. McLoughlin's career at Newport began five years ago when he was a runner-up, followed in 1911 by the winning of the all-comers and laurels as champion.

Through his efforts as a Davis cup lifter he has been more in the tennis limelight this year than Clothier, although the latter gained much fame when he put out William Johnston at Southampton two weeks ago. Readily accepting all these events in tennis history, the enthusiastic followers of the most popular of summer sports (for it is declared that more people play tennis than baseball), flocked through the archway of the Casino today by the thousands. The earlier comers had a chance to see three other championship aspirants in action on the side courts for an hour before the main event began.

Two matches remained to be played in the uncompleted fifth round, R. C. Law of Philadelphia meeting E. Norris Williams 2d, of the same city, and John R. Strachan of San Francisco going up against E. H. Whitney of Boston, while in the top quarter of the sixth round there was a contest between Leonard Beckman of New York and N. W. Niles of Boston.

The unusually favorable weather conditions which followed the shower of Monday forenoon were still in evidence today, although it was a trifle warmer than yesterday.

Good time at Pinchurst, Saturday.

Athletes and Athletics

Jack Halstein is the man whom Manager Gray is worrying about just or rather the Lowell manager is worrying about this player being drafted. The local owners were offered $2500 cash for Halstein by the Red Sox and refused it and it would be rather tough to see him go at the drafting figure.

Louis Teller, the noted French golfer, sailed Wednesday for New York. He will immediately go to Brookline upon his arrival in this country and will complete there in the National Open Golf championship. Arrangements are now under way to have the Frenchman give an exhibition at the Vesper Country club.

A Chicago newspaper took a unique ballot a few days ago on the question "Whether or not Shag Should be Used in the Writing of Baseball Stories." The result was against the using of slang in the descriptions of the national game although many noted sportsmen and club owners, players and managers were listed on the side of the dictionary method. If the latter style was compulsory there would be many sporting writers out of a berth.

Porky Flynn has come out with a statement which has surprised the boxing fans. Flynn says that he will quit the game for good if he is beaten by the Boston Terrier in their 12 rounds to go next Tuesday. Can we believe you, Porky, or is this a little press work?

If the American athletes who will compose the next Olympic team in 1916 think that they will win as easily as has been the case for years past our team is in grave danger of being defeated. The foreigners, especially the Germans and the Swedes, are learning the fine points of the various events with great rapidity and will put teams into the field which are not inferior to ours in any great degree. The German field champion, Paseman, has a mark of 6 ft. 4 in. for the high jump and does equally well in the broad jump and pole vault.

Ellonsky, the young New London swimmer, has had tough luck in each attempt that he has made to reach Sande Hook from the Battery. He has had to leave the water twice when only a quarter of a mile from completing his 36-mile swim.

It is thought by those who witnessed the throw of Paddy Ryan last Sunday in the New York games that he would have smashed all previous records if the hammer had been the regulation weight. When weighed by A. A. U. officials it was found that the exact weight was 16 3/4 pounds, three-quarters of a pound more than the weight of the usual missile.

Tommy Burns could not have made himself more foolish if he had put on a clown's costume than by making the statement that there were colored boxers who deserved a match with Arthur Pelkey. Pelkey, as a would-be champion, is a joke and would soon be shown up as such if he ever entered the ring with one Sambo Langford. Pelkey hasn't given Gunboat Smith his quietus yet, and it is an open question whether he has the punch to do it.

Any heavyweight who can outlast Smith can beat him. The Gunboat does not profess to be a boxer and contents himself with slugging both hands at every exposed point of his opponent's anatomy. The man who can hit as hard as Smith and who knows the finer points of the game would make this contender act like a novice.

Carlstrom seems to be working smoother than ever in his old position at shortstop. This player will doubtless play the long infield with the Red Sox instead of the first sack and has been shifted on that account. He has been working out at short during the practice for the past month.

With Portland on the road and Lowell playing second division teams at home the race is all in favor of our club. Worcester also plays the majority of her games on hostile diamonds.

Lowell's games are all at home next week. Fall River plays here Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday, and Brockton will be the attraction Wednesday and Thursday. Two double-headers are scheduled for next week.

Bob McAllister has evidently listened to his brother's advice and will not enter the ring for a year. McAllister has been offered a bout with any middleweight that he chooses to meet, but has refused. It is thought by many critics that this 20-year-old amateur can beat any middleweight in the world today.

Howard Drew, the colored Springfield flyer, lived up to his reputation yesterday when he broke the world's record for 120 yards, slalghaway, although he will not receive credit for the performance. Drew started the race from 21-2 yards behind scratch and ran his 123-2 yards in a very fast 12 seconds. Bernie Wefers' time for the 120 yards is 11-4-5 seconds, which is a world record.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

John McGraw is picking a few batsmen who are skilled in hitting for round trips for his Giants, who are to make the coming world's tour. He has extended an invitation to Hefner Zimmerman to join the globe trotting ball players. Charlie Comiskey should draft Ty Cobb, Joe Jackson and Tris Speaker, or the name "Hitless Wonders" may follow his White Sox around the world.

Amby Kane, formerly a New England leaguer, has been released by the Bradford team of the Canadian league. He requested to be let go and next year will probably take charge of the Hamilton team in the same league.

Torphy, who is playing short for New Bedford, is a Fall River boy. He lives on the same street in that city as Manager John H. O'Brien. O'Brien made no mistake in giving him a trial.

Ducky Yount of the New England club, is pitching as fine as any pitcher in the New England league. He has won 16 games and lost seven to date, which gives him an average of .656. Yount is the real "come-back" of the league. Others may claim it, but it belongs to Yount.

Humorist Bill Phelon, who has traveled for many years with the Cincinnati Reds and still holds his health, hair and courage, yesterday suggested a revision of the seven wonders of the world.

The list submitted by Bill is:
The pyramids.
The Sphinx.
The Colossus of Rhodes.
Any four decisions by Umpire Brennan.

Manager Joe Tinker of the Reds is inclined to believe that young Harrington, the pitcher secured by purchase from the Lynn club, has rather exalted and exaggerated ideas of his value as a pitcher. Harrington has not yet joined the club, although expected to do so several days ago and is at his home in Wakefield waiting for Tinker to come to him. Although Cincinnati paid something like $4000 for Harrington's release from the Lynn club, it does not necessarily mean that Harrington is another Walter Johnson.

Haverhill fans are waiting until next season for they expect to have a New England league team there. The fans hope to see one and it is a cinch that the city will have one if Clooney does not go there someone else will.—Manchester Union.

We can't see where Haverhill is any improvement over Fall River. If the latter city was represented by a first division team under decent management the club would pay, in our opinion.

Walter Johnson was not only Walter at his best in the game in Cleveland Tuesday, but he also showed the fans who are shouting for the Naps to stop hitting the Joe Jackson brand. Joe for obvious reasons being rather subdued for the time.

James Bardell, trainer for the Chicago White Sox for a number of years, is dying in a Joliet, Ill., hospital. Bardell has been through the country as a trainer and boxing referee and numbered among his closest friends Owner Comiskey of the White Sox and James J. Jeffries.

Pitcher Lange and Outfielder Mattick of the Chicago American league club were Wednesday traded to the Kansas City club of the American association for Shortstop Breton. The trade becomes effective at once. Lange was formerly a pitcher in the Wisconsin-Illinois league and the Western league. Mattick also played in the Western league.

Sports, Pinchurst park, Saturday.

OFFICIALS OF COTTON MILLS

Commend Stand of Sen. Lippitt Against Proposed Cut in Tariff on Cotton Goods

U. S. Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island has received a memorial from the cotton manufacturers of New England thanking him for his fight against the reduction in the tariff on cotton as proposed in the Underwood bill. The letter is as follows:

To Hon. Henry F. Lippitt, U. S. Senate, Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator: We commend and thank you for your able exposition of the unjustifiable and extraordinarily unfair discrimination in the pending tariff bill against New England and cotton products which, as you show, are given a duty of from 7 1/2 per cent. to 30 per cent. (an average of about 15 per cent.) while silk cloth is given a duty of 35 per cent. and woolen cloths of 35 per cent.

The percentage of labor cost, higher in cotton than in the other textile industries, seems to require at least as high a duty on cotton goods.

With shorter working hours, higher wages and a higher percentage of labor cost (as shown by the U. S. census reports) than obtain in the great manufacturing states of the south, New England seems to be the target of the framers of the pending tariff measure.

Not desiring any unfair advantage and being already to compete on equal terms with any manufacturer in the world, we urge you to continue your efforts to secure reasonably fair treatment for New England's greatest industry.

Southern manufacturers themselves are on record endorsing our position and are asking for higher and fair rates for New England products. They realize as do we that the continuation and development of the fine cotton goods manufacture of our mills is as important to the south as it is to the north.

Very truly,

Among the long list of signatures are those of Edward Lovering, treasurer Massachusetts cotton mills; Sidney Coolidge, treasurer Lowell Bleachery; C. P. Baker, treasurer Lawrence Manufacturing company; A. G. Cunnock, treasurer Appleton mills; F. A. Fletcher, treasurer Boot mills; Charles F. Young, treasurer of the Tremont and Suffolk mills; Arthur Sharp, treasurer Hingham company.

MET DEATH BY FALL OF ALMOST A MILE

HALBERSTADT, Prussian Saxony, Aug. 22.—Lieutenant Schmidt of the 148th infantry and attached to the army aviation corps, met death here today by a fall of almost a mile. The lieutenant was completing an aeroplane flight to and from Goslar, a town in Hanover province 30 miles west of Halberstadt, and had begun a spiral descent. While the aeroplane was at a height of about 5000 feet one of the wings collapsed and the machine plunged to the ground.

THAW CASE

probable deportation proceedings, had not been received at the summer embassy here this morning.

"I find that it is a matter requiring the official attention of the Canadian authorities I shall simply forward the message to the secretary of state of Ottawa," said the ambassador.

"Extradition of prisoners is not a matter for the diplomatic department. All those things are arranged by treaty and I should have no influence in such a case. I should have no authority to make overtures to the Canadian officials."

The usual course to be pursued in such matters would be for the Washington officials to communicate with the consul at Sherbrooke, Que., or call the matter directly to the attention of London.

The message of the state department forwarded from Washington last night explained the status of Thaw in New York state and his present predicament, adding: "The department, while not in a position to make a request in the matter, which in its present aspect is not within our extradition treaties, brings it to your notice with a view to such action as the Canadian authorities may and themselves justified in taking."

box were missing. The machine was not badly damaged.

City Marshal George Young, who has stood guard over the six-cylinder motor since it was abandoned here by two men last Monday, "evoking" the majesty of the law to prevent so much as a peep on the part of the curious villagers, surrendered the motor to Deputy Sheriff Kelso after he had been notified by the police.

Mr. Thaw, who said that the police would be asked to return the car to him, was had at any time if wished as evidence. There was a request from Collins and a copy of the car's certificate of registration from the automobile bureau in New York, signed by the secretary of state. The marshal said that the papers seemed regular.

Bryan Telegraphs, Sulzer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Secretary Bryan sent the following telegram today to "Hon. William Sulzer, Albany, N. Y."

"This case of Thaw, being one of which in its present aspect involving the application of Canadian immigration laws, this government cannot act officially, steps have been taken to have the information as to his escape formally before the Canadian authorities."

Mr. Sulzer asked that the Canadian immigration authorities be requested to return Thaw to Rouses Point, New York.

Secretary Wilson, who has charge of the immigration bureau, today sent this dispatch to Acting Governor Glynn and Attorney General Carmack: "I am unable to find any law which would authorize the department of labor to ask the Canadian government to deport Harry K. Thaw to the state of New York as requested by you. I am advised that steps have already been taken by the department of state to bring the matter to the attention of the Canadian government through the proper diplomatic channels."

PARK ARREST

HUGH J. MOLLAT, Supt. of Schools.

Caused by a Fourteen-Year-Old Police Captain—Hit With an Indian Club

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Fourteen-year-old Capt. Moses Rotker of Park Commissioner Storer's boy police, was doing patrol duty near the greenhouses in Central Park at One Hundred and Sixth street and Fifth avenue yesterday when he had occasion to caution a gang of youngsters.

Instead of obeying one of them hit Rotker on the back with an Indian club. The youthful captain then blew three shrill whistles on his police whistle, and a regular grown-up policeman, responded, and on Rotker's complaint arrested Alexander Rubinstein, 15, of No. 553 East One Hundred and Thirtieth street.

Young Rubinstein was taken to the Central Park Arsenal, charged with juvenile delinquency. He was paroled in the custody of his father.

This is the first arrest caused by any of the boy policemen in Central Park.

MEAN OLD FARMER

Drove Wife as a Horse—Accused of Using Little Son in Same Way—Held for Grand Jury

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Accused of hitting his wife and 13-year-old son with himself to a potato digger when his team had proved unable to drag the machine, and then beating his wife and throwing her into a gully when the human reinforcements had proved unavailing, George W. K. Boyce was before Justice P. W. Dodd yesterday in Neptune township, N. J. He was held in $200 for the grand jury.

Boyce manages the C. E. F. Hetrick farm near Farmingdale. Mrs. Boyce disappeared after the alleged assault and he was arrested on complaint of a married daughter, Mrs. Grace Townsend of Elizabeth. Mrs. Boyce was found working in a restaurant in Asbury Park. She and Boyce became reconciled, but the charges still hold.

Cure for Cancer

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Dr. Francis D. Donoghue, returned on the Arable yesterday from the Cancer congress at Brussels and the Medical congress in London. He announced that great excitement prevails in Germany over the use of mesothorium as a cure for cancer.

This product, which is found in Brazil, North and South Carolina and Colorado, has been experimented with and it is said, can cure certain forms of cancer. The towns of Germany have subscribed large sums to purchase mesothorium. Donoghue has spent $125,000 for the product. Hungary and Germany have purchased the supply of mesothorium available until January, 1915.

Mesothorium is a rayless product of thorium which soon becomes active through transformation into radiothorium. At first the price of mesothorium was about one-sixth of that of radium, but since it has proved so desirable for cancer cases, the price has gone up. Some difference of opinion exists, Dr. Donoghue said, among the authorities as to whether mesothorium should be used in large quantities at a distance, or in small quantities applied directly.

One of the most startling discoveries reported at the cancer congress, was that of Prof. Fibiger of Copenhagen, who found in the intestines of a rat a pinworm-like organism which he fed to insects. When the insects had been devoured by other rats they developed cancer.

Dr. Donoghue went to the Brussels conference as the representative of the state of Massachusetts. He afterward attended the Medical congress in London.

TO STOP EMIGRATION TO UNITED STATES

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 22.—The governor of Galicia, a crown land of Austria-Hungary, has declared his determination to stop the emigration of adults from his country to the United States. Today he ordered the police to arrest all male persons between the ages of 18 and 36 and liable for military service, who attempted to leave the country and to send them to their homes.

He Was Golem Some

ROCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 22.—Automobile number 53624 N. Y., in which Harry K. Thaw is supposed to have made his flight from Matteawan, N. Y., at times attained the speed of 80 miles an hour in the expert opinion of Richard R. Fox who today took possession of the car for John Collins of New York, the owner.

Fox found all the tires in bad shape though one of the four may last through the return trip. An unused tire was found on the machine and Fox brought two more with him. The spark plug and the key to the tool

Among the Lowell musicians playing at the Rockingham fair this week are: James Larkin, John Larkin, John J. Giblin, James Buckley, J. L. Disonette, Arthur Poyer, Abel Vachon, William Aitken and William Bagley.

Arthur Bourke, residing at 19 Butterfield street, and a repair man at the Lowell Motor Mart in Merrimack street, suffered a painful accident yesterday, when he received a fracture of the right arm, while cranking an automobile.

The adjourned meeting of the school board scheduled to be held in the chambers at 1:45 o'clock last night was delayed until 11:30, a committee meeting in the superintendent's office lasting for over four hours.

The chief business was the election of Miss Burnside T. Burns as principal of the Riverside school to succeed Patrick J. Reynolds and the resignation of Mr. Frederick A. Wood as master of the Greenhalge school. Mr. A. K. Whitcomb, former superintendent of schools, was chosen as Mr. Wood's successor at a salary of $2000.

Chairman John H. Lambert called the meeting to order and the first matter taken up was the report of the various committees.

Dr. Bagley of the committee on rules recommended that an amendment be made in one of the rules whereby a person to be eligible to hold the position of principal of evening high school must be a college graduate or have had previous experience as principal of evening high school. The recommendation was accepted.

John F. Farrington of the committee on finance recommended that the salary of John E. Barr, principal of the Washington school, be fixed at $1700 for the coming year and that it be increased $100 each year until the maximum salary for grammar masters is reached. He also recommended that the salary schedule for the women teachers at the high school be $650 for $1000. The board recommended from Mr. Barr's recommendation that the salary of Mr. Barr be increased by $100.

Principal Wood Resigns

Superintendent Hugh Molloy read a letter of resignation from Frederick A. Wood, master of the Greenhalge school, to take effect immediately. Mr. Wood has accepted a position as associate editor of the Youth's Companion. Mr. Thompson moved that the resignation be accepted and that Mr. Wood be extended a vote of thanks for his faithful services.

Mr. Campbell and Mr. Farrington then compared figures regarding the attendance at the Washington and Riverside schools, the former believing that the Washington had a much greater attendance while the latter stated that according to records the difference was only a matter of about 25 pupils.

Mr. Campbell moved that they proceed to the election of principal of the Riverside school, and it was voted.

Messrs. Bagley and Farrington voted for Patrick J. Reynolds, while Messrs. Campbell, Thompson and Lambert voted for Miss Rosalie T. Burns. The latter was elected by a majority of one vote.

Mr. Campbell then moved that they proceed to the election of a master for the Greenhalge school and this was voted.

Messrs. Farrington and Bagley voted for Christopher J. Hagan and Messrs. Campbell, Lambert and Thompson for Arthur K. Whitcomb.

Mr. Thompson moved that the salary of Mr. Whitcomb be fixed at $2000 a year and that of Miss Burns $900. Mr. Campbell accepted the motion, and it was so voted.

Supt. Molloy presented a schedule of the work that he was planning for the next school term. He suggested that one of the seven schools in the vicinity of the pesthouse within a radius of about 6000 feet be made a school to help backward pupils, who were detrimental to the progress of the regular classes. He believed that if one of the schools in this vicinity was used for that purpose it would be a great help.

Mr. Campbell moved that the establishment of a school in the south end of the city be considered and that Supt. Molloy be directed to secure plans for such. Mr. Farrington stated that he did not believe that a school could be taken from this district and that if this was an experiment he thought it should be tried in some other part of the city as the people of that section of the city felt that they were not receiving fair treatment.

The training school was enough of a trial for that part of the city, said Mr. Farrington. "Let the superintendent give us some definite plan, but let it point to some other section and if it proves a benefit we will adopt it."

The matter was discussed at some length and then Mr. Farrington made an amendment whereby Mr. Molloy was instructed to secure plans and report at the next regular meeting of the board. The amendment was accepted.

Lillian Keith was given permission to attend the Butler school instead of the Colburn and Edward Flanagan was allowed to attend the Colburn instead of the Butler.

The resignations of Katherine Egan Tooley, P. L. Donovan, Mahoney and Frances J. Cunningham, teachers in the public schools, were read and accepted and it was voted to extend the usual vote of thanks to all.

Miss Esther M. Greene and Miss Nellie Davidson were granted leave of absence, the former for a period of one year and the latter for six months. Miss S. L. Lelone, a graduate of the Perry kindergarten school, was granted permission to acquire practice in the kindergarten schools of this city, her services to cost the city nothing.

A communication from Catherine Frederlek was read asking for a second grade certificate and the matter was referred to the committee on teachers.

Mr. Herbert B. Bixby of the Bartlett school, asked for permission to be absent for parts of sessions, while he took special studies at Harvard college. After considerable discussion it was voted to refer the matter to the committee on teachers, Messrs. Farrington and Bagley opposing the motion.

Mr. Lambert recommended that not more than 125 applicants take examination for teachers in the evening grammar schools, not more than 40 to take the examination for teacher at the high school and not more than 20 for principals of the evening schools. It was voted to insert these numbers in the advertisement that is published in the press.

A report was read from Francis Connor, superintendent of public buildings, giving an estimate of the cost of installing equipment for manual training in the Bartlett and Butler schools. The figures were $256.36 for the Bartlett school and $1053.52 for the Butler, the total cost to be $2009.88 if the work is done.

Mr. Campbell moved that the regular meeting of the board scheduled to be held on Aug. 26, be omitted. The meeting then adjourned at 1:30 a. m.

SAUNDERS AND HOSMER

at west 56th street. A sort of grandstand will be erected from which the visiting firemen can watch the operations. On the pier a motor engine will be placed beside a steam pump and in the first test the motor will be run for six successive hours with 100 pounds pressure at the pump, the test requiring a certain number of gallons of water to be delivered at the nozzle each minute. For six hours more ten pounds pressure will be run steadily with an increasing pressure of 50 pounds every hour until a maximum pressure of 300 pounds has been reached. The tests will cover a period of 30 consecutive hours. On a large blackboard in full view of the spectators, every variation of pressure will be noted as well as the condition of the motor at various times during the test.

One of the most admirable features of every convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers is the memorial service. At once the most solemn and most joyous feature of the convention will be the unveiling of the monument to firemen at Riverside Drive and 100th street, September 5 with elaborate ceremonies and every fireman, no matter what section of the country he represents, looks forward to this event. The fire engineers attending the convention will march in parade to the scene of the dedication escorted by a heavy detail of the New York fire department. It is expected that Henry W. Taft, brother of ex-President Taft and chairman of the memorial fund committee, will make the presentation speech for the committee and the monument will be accepted by Mayor William J. Gaynor.

The program will open on Monday with a business session; on Tuesday the business session will be continued and the memorial service will be held; Wednesday different pieces of apparatus will be tested and there will be a baseball game between the New York fire department and the New York police team; Thursday a fireboat demonstration will be given and there will be other attractions; Friday the monument will be unveiled and there will be a parade besides other attractions; on Saturday there will be a business session, banquet, ball game and closing exercises.

Some of the topics that will be discussed are: "Motor Apparatus, Its Durability, Efficiency and Economy of Operation," "Fire Insurance and Its Motor Fire Engines" and "Fire Prevention and Uniform State Fire Marshalls Laws."

It is expected that about 30,000 will be spent to provide entertainment and instruction for the visitors during the convention. The Lowell party will leave this city on Sunday morning, August 31.

WIRELESS SERVICE TO SOUTH AMERICA

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Wireless telegraphy will soon be fully established between the United States and South American states, according to a statement made today by William Marconi. In an address at the annual meeting of the Marconi company in London, he announced that a fifty-year concession had been granted by the Brazilian government which would enable the company to inaugurate a wireless telegraph service between that country and New York and elsewhere in the United States. This, Mr. Marconi said, would be the beginning of a net work of communication by South America, the United States and Europe.
